Thanksgiving Welfare Work

Report of The Newton Welfare Bureau

The Thanksgiving work done by the Welfare Bureau was reported at the meeting of the Board of Directors on Wednesday, December 4.

One hundred forty-three families received large bags of groceries and vegetables; 123 families received complete Thanksgiving dinners. In many instances where the families were large and were having a particularly difficult time, both a dinner and a bag were sent so that they might have that comfortable, well-fed feeling for more than just Thanksgiving Day.

It is because of the generosity of Newton people that the Bureau is able to do such a tremendous piece of work. This year, 15 individuals, 11 church organizations, 12 schools, and 7 other organizations co-operated with this organization.

The pupils of the Newton schools brought food-stuffs to school two days before the Holiday. The Garden City Laundry trucks, through the generosity of Mr. Archie Osgood and the Newton Rotary Club, called for these donations, brought them to an empty store, the use of which had been very kindly given by Mr. Billzekian; the Boy and Girl Scouts, the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A., and many individuals helped in the sorting of the food-stuffs, later packing them in burlap bags—one for each family. The next day, the Garden City Laundry trucks delivered these bags all over the City of Newton.

The Bureau and the families helped are very grateful for the generosity of the many groups and individuals; just at this time of the year the contributions of food were doubly acceptable because so many of the fathers in these families are finding that their work is becoming irregular and the weekly wage consequently reduced.

AUBURNDALE RALLY

The annual meeting and non-partisan political rally of the Good Government Club of Auburndale was held Monday evening, Dec. 2, at the Auburndale Club Auditorium. After a short business meeting and election of officers, with Mr. C. W. Blood as the incoming president, Mr. C. J. Winston a former president acted as chairman of the public meeting, which he had arranged for the club in the absence of the president, Prof. Whittemore, who had resigned earlier in the fall, when called to Smith College Faculty. The candidates for Mayor, Aldermen, and School Committee who spoke were greeted with enthusiasm by the audience which was quite large for the stormy night. All present felt it a privilege to see and hear their fellow citizens, who hope to stand for the progress of our city.

Red Cross Sends Christmas Bags

Newton Has Share in Cheering Soldiers and Sailors

Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, through a committee under the leadership of Mrs. G. M. Angier, has accomplished much as Newton's part in the Red Cross work of preparing Christmas bags to cheer Uncle Sam's men in tropical garrisons.

In the holds of army and navy supply ships now at sea, bound for America's outlying possessions, are stowed cases of brightly colored cretonne bags for Christmas trees in barracks and hospitals. These bags are the annual gifts of women volunteers of the American Red Cross to the men on duty in the isolated tropics. The call this year was for something over 50,000 bags. Of these Newton Chapter has provided more than one hundred.

The bags will be distributed as follows: Hawaii 19,000, Canal Zone 11,500, Philippines 9,000 while the remainder will go to Nicaragua, China, Haiti, Porto Rico, the Virgin Islands and the naval stations at Guam, Samoa and Guantanamo in Cuba.

The Christmas bag idea dates back to the Mexican border mobilization effected shortly before America's entrance in the World War. At that time the Red Cross, then a relatively small organization, conceived the idea of brightening the Christmas of Gen. Pershing's men encamped in the bleak plains of Chihuahua. The idea was vastly expanded during the great war. Since then, the men in uniform posted in the outlying possessions of the United States have been remembered each Christmas with a bag of bright cretonne containing about a dozen articles of use and amusement.

The contents of the bags include pocket knives, diaries, cards or puzzles, pencils, sewing outfits, writing materials, tobacco, shaving soap, tooth brush, tooth paste, combs and the like. Simple as these bags are they bring large numbers of letters of appreciation from the men and from the officers writing in behalf of their troops. The women and girl donors also receive letters direct, since the bags contain the maker's name and address.

He prepared for college at Phillips Exeter Academy and was admitted to Harvard in June, 1899, graduating in 1903. In July, 1885, he was admitted to the Suffolk bar and has been engaged in the practice of law in Boston since that time. He is survived by a widow and four children, Oliver A. Wyman, Mrs. Richard O. Interest In City Election Is High--- Whirlwind Finishes Are Promised Candidates Speak at Public Rallies—Weeks Parade Monday Night—Childs To Speak for Earle

PARADE FOR SINCLAIR WEEKS ON MONDAY NIGHT

Hundreds of automobiles, red fire, brass bands and a circus callopie, with thousands of men and women accompanying, will make up the elaborately arranged Election Eve motor parade which will pass through all of the 10 villages of Newton on Monday evening, beginning at 7 o'clock. Supporters of Sinclair Weeks, mayoralty candidate, will have a prominent part in the parade and his supporters from all parts of the city have been recruited to large numbers in each section. They have adopted the slogan "Weeks—By the Largest Majority Ever."

Officers of the Newton Public Officers Election Committee, headed by Robert A. Whidden and Henry Ellis, who are in charge of the parade have invited Aldermen Worth, Grebenstein, Murray, Gordan, Bowen, Chandler and Aldermanic Candidates James P. Atkins and Arthur J. Mansfield to take part.

The parade will form on the North side of Commonwealth avenue and will proceed, as soon after 7 o'clock as possible, from Walnut street and Commonwealth avenue to Auburndale first, and then to all of the villages of the city. Major Edwin H. Cooper, parade director, has announced the assembly points for the automobiles from the various sections of the city as follows:

First Division, Newton—William A. Sprout, Marshal. Assemble in Grant avenue. Enter from Ward street.

Second Division, Newtonville—Robert Harding, Marshal. Form in Eastbourne road. Enter from Ward street.

Third Division, West Newton—Maynard Hutchinson, Marshal. Form in Westbourne road. Enter from Ward street.

Fourth Division, Auburndale—Alderman Silvanus Smith, Marshal. Form in Irving street. Enter from Ward street.

RALLIES FOR EARLE

Political rallies in the interest of the candidacy of William E. Earle for Mayor will be held Saturday night and Monday night. These rallies will be open to the public. The Saturday night rally will be in the Nonantum A. A. Hall on Dalby street, Nonantum at 8 o'clock. Mayor Childs will be the principal speaker. On Monday night there will be a rally at the Newton Upper Falls Auditorium and another in Lincoln Hall, Newton Highlands. Mayor Childs will speak at both of these rallies.

NEWTON BUSINESS ASSOCIATES POLITICAL MEETING

Two hundred members of the Newton Business Associates and their friends crowded Elks' Hall on Wednesday night to listen to the candidates for Mayor and Aldermen. The mayoralty candidates who spoke included Sinclair Weeks, William E. Earle and George M. Heathcote, in the order named. The speeches made by these gentlemen were, in substance, the same as made at the meeting of the Ward 1 Improvement Association on the preceding night. An account of their speeches is found in the article about the Ward 1 meeting printed elsewhere in this paper.

The Business Associates meeting was opened by President Thomas H. Burns who introduced James P. Gallagher as toastmaster. Mr. Gallagher was his usual eloquent self and kept the gathering in a mirthful mood by his many sallies of wit. George Dolan led the choral singing and Larry Fredricks' orchestra played.

The toastmaster informed the speakers that the mayoralty candidates would be limited to 15 minutes and the aldermanic candidates to 5 minutes. These limitations caused several speakers to be cut off before they had concluded saying all they desired. Mr. Heathcote especially wanted more time, remarking, "I have only told you 1/10th of what I want to tell you. There will be other rallies at which I will tell you the rest."

James P. Atkins, candidate for Alderman from Ward 1 took issue with a statement made the previous evening by his opponent, Arthur Mansfield, that "all three aldermen from this ward should not come from the

POLITICAL MEETING OF WARD 1 IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

The recently organized Ward 1 Improvement Association held an open meeting in the Underwood School Hall on Tuesday, December 3rd, which was addressed by most of the candidates for office at the coming municipal election. Over 250 persons were present. Miss Julia M. Enegees of Fayette street, president of the Association, presided and introduced the speakers. In opening the meeting she explained at length some of the needs of Ward 1. She told of sidewalks long in need of repair, streets poorly lighted, the 75-year-old Lincoln School, which while not in itself a cause of complaint has never been provided with protection against automobile traffic as have the other schools in this city. No police officer is assigned to guard the children at the Lincoln School. She also referred to conditions at the Elliot School. Miss Enegees stressed particularly the conditions existing at Boyd Park Playground and at Jackson road caused by the failure of the city to cover Laundry Brook. The open brook makes the playground hazardous for young children and causes a similar menace along Jackson road. Miss Enegees told of the health of the neighborhood having been endangered last summer when for six weeks a break in a sanitary sewer on Washington street caused sewage to flow into the brook.

She asserted that although Ward 1 is the oldest section of the city and one of the highest in valuation, it has received far less attention in recent years from the city governments when appropriations for improvements have been made than have other parts of Newton.

The first candidate to speak was Sinclair Weeks. Mr. Weeks briefly referred to his life history, stating that he regretted doing so, but as the voters should know something concerning those running for office, such facts seem to be necessary. He stated that he is head of one of the largest concerns of its kind in this country (the Reed & Barton jewelry factory in Taunton) where 2000 persons are employed. During the six years that he has been the head of this big company there have been absolutely no labor troubles there and the most harmonious relations prevail between this company and its employees. If elected Mayor of Newton he is confident that the same relationship and harmony will prevail between him and the employees of the city.

He referred to rumors which have been circulated that "he will reduce wages and lessen employment among those working for the City of Newton by having more work done by contractors." He denied the truth of these rumors and asserted that he has no intention of endeavoring to reduce any city employee's wages. He appreciates what steady employment means to working people and has endeavored to keep them employed.

He was born 85 years ago at Dipper Harbor, New Brunswick, went to sea when 13 years of age and was a mariner for nearly 60 years. For most of this long period he was a master of ships, one of his commands having been the noted schooner "Cox & Green". His funeral service was held yesterday afternoon in the Newton Cemetery Chapel. He is survived by two sons, Rupert Thompson of Newtonville and Leroy Thompson of Somerville, and a daughter, Mrs. Charles E. Cunningham of Newton.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

ALL-SCHOLASTIC TEAMS CHOSEN

With the high school athletes turning their attention to the various winter sports and preparing for coming basketball, hockey and track contests a final word about football is not out of place. It is the season of all-scholastic teams. The orange and black of 1929, with a record of but one game won, three tied and five lost naturally did not fare as well in the various selections as it might have had the record been better.

Annually the sporting writers of the various papers make their choices. The Transcript confines itself to an All-Suburban league eleven which is selected by a composite choice of the six coaches of the teams in the league. On this team Newton has been awarded two places and a tie for a third place. Naturally the coaches do not vote for players on their own squads and any player polling five votes is a unanimous selection. The Suburban league champions, Somerville, and the runners-up, Rindge Tech, lead with three places each, Newton follows. Brookline gets one place and a tie for another, while the eleventh position goes to Cambridge Latin. For the first time in years Everett is not represented. But one youth, Francis Escott of Somerville, was a unanimous choice.

The Newton players to win berths are acting captain Fred Schipper at center and Arthur Boughan, diminutive guard, Perry Elrod and Capt. Hootstein of Brookline tied for a half-back berth. Schipper obtained four votes, Boughan three and Elrod three. Schipper was the only Newton player chosen by Charles Dickerman, Somerville coach. Schipper at guard and Elrod at halfback were named by Coach Murphy of Rindge. Schipper, Boughan and Elrod were Coach Gildea's choices by the showing against Everett. Schipper, Boughan and McCarthy, right end, were Coach MacDonald's selections while Fitzgerald of Brookline named Boughan and Elrod. McCarthy's one vote was the only other cast for a Newton high player.

The Boston Globe sports writer chooses a team from the players he saw in action in one or more games during the season. No Newton players are chosen but several are given honorable mention. Among the latter are Bankart, end; Kenslea, tackle; Moore and Hamilton, guards; Schipper, center; Layton and Strombom, quarterbacks; and Elrod and Furdin, backs. The Traveler also gives several Newton lads honorable mention. The Waltham News gives Boughan the left guard berth on its first team; Elrod a halfback berth on the second team; McCarthy the right end position on the third team and honorable mention to Schipper and Furdin.

Annually the Graphic selects a team composed of the outstanding players that have opposed Newton during the season. With the wealth of backfield material that showed itself during the 1929 season a "pony" backfield has been added.

Letters at Newton will be awarded next week at a meeting of the athletic committee and it is expected that the election of a 1930 captain will follow a few days later. Coach Sullivan should have considerably more material to work with next season than he had this fall when the new eligibility rules deprived him of five out of seven letter men and nine out of eleven players with varsity experience. The members of this year's squad who at present are considered available for the 1930 season will form the nucleus of a good eleven. Butler, Barba and Nickerson and Perkins are the ends who have another year of football; Giles, Gowell, and Hodgkins are guards; Colligan, McGowry and Gullian will be back for tackle berths; Clement McCarthy is the only available center but it is possible that Litchfield may be transferred from the backfield and tried out as a pivot; Elrod, Layton, Strombom, Shorten, Litchfield and Appleyard will be the outstanding backfield candidates. Indications are that the Newton high school 1930 team will start the season, with far better prospects than this year's team had.

Gets Huntington Letter
Harry M. Williams of Newtonville, a member of the class of 1931 at Huntington School, was awarded his letter as a member of the football squad the past season.

Newton League Bowling
In Wednesday night's hot pin matches of the Newton League the Commercial and Waban teams took all three points from their respective opponents, Newton and Marston. In the other match at the Hunnewell Club the home team managed to take one point from Middlesex when Dexter rolled 231 on his second string. Chase of Middlesex aided his team materially with a consistent rolling, 204, 203, 211.

Awarded Letters
Everett Scheinfain and Bill Sutcliffe, former Newton high athletes, were awarded football letters at Bridgton Academy for their play the past season. The ex-Newton pair were the starting ends in practically every game the Maine Prep school Conference champs played.

ELECT ANDRES GREEN CAPTAIN

Harold Andres of Newtonville has been elected to the captaincy of the 1930 Dartmouth varsity football team. The honor is one that the local youth has rightly earned. During his high school career he was a three-sport athlete, with ability that was outstanding, not only among his teammates but in scholastic opposition. He was captain of the 1928 Newton high football team and until forced out by injury during the middle of the season was the best center in Greater Boston. He played defense on the hockey team and it took a real forward to get by him for a clear shot at the goal. In baseball he was one of the best catchers in the history of Newton High school athletics and it should be remembered that Newton has turned out some high class receivers.

Entering Dartmouth he paved the way for a brilliant college athletic career in his freshman year. He made his numerals in all three sports and captain of one. Last year as a sophomore he earned the right to take the field in the center of the varsity football team line in the opening game and held it right through the season. He also made his letters at hockey and baseball. This year he kept up his magnificent start by taking the field at the opening whistle in every game. He is well on his way to making nine letters at the Hanover college. Next year he will have his name on the Dartmouth squad two other former Newton high school athletes in Henry Johnson and Len Clark.

Both were members of this year's squad and both made their letters. Andres is 5 feet 8½ inches and weighs 185. He is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

SPORT NOTES

Squash Raquets Series Begin
Play in the Massachusetts Squash Raquets series began last Saturday with a larger number of teams entered than ever before. Class A has four teams, Class B eight teams, Class C fourteen teams and Class D sixteen teams. Among the new teams entered is one local outfit, the Newton Y. M. C. A. in Class D. In the Class A play the Newton Centre Club and the Union B. C. split even in four matches. The fifth match will be played later in the season. W. H. B. J. and J. R. were the local winners, while A. R. Holt and E. F. Wales were defeated after hard battles. In Class B the Newton Centre Club team has a 3 to 2 edge over Walkover at Brockton. G. Buell, W. E. Patterson and P. M. Goddard scored points, while A. O. Wellman, and L. Alvord were shaded after four game matches. In Class C the Country Day team won from the B. A. A. by a 3 to 2 score while M. L. T. was taking the other local entry in this class, the Newton Club, by a similar margin. Clark, Goodrich and M. H. Smith, Jr., scored for the local private school, while L. A. Breck and F. Gleason met defeat, the former in a four game match and the latter in five games. In the Newton Club-M. L. T. match, Arthur Learyan and J. C. Ryan were the local winners, while William Hayden, Stanley Arend, and Frank Mendes lost. Here again extra games were needed in two of the three matches to decide the winner. None of the three local teams in Class D got off to a good start in the Class matches. The Newton Y and Country Day were on the short end of a 4 to 1 score, while the Newton Club was blanked in the five matches. The Newton Y team is composed of Arthur Roberts, R. Milard, A. C. Baker, K. Gerritson, and W. Baker, with Roberts scoring the only win. Three of the five matches were four game affairs and another went to five in the match with the Harvard Graduate School Faculty. In the B. A. A.-Country Day match, Howland was the only local winner, while his teammates, Winchell, D. Gleason, Thorndike, and Campbell, lost out. Winchell and Gleason played five games before giving up the struggle. The Newton Club was shut out by the Harvard Club. O. Wyman, L. Gutterson, W. Henderson, A. J. Wellington, and G. Holdsworth are the members of the Newton Club team.

Newton "Y" Trounced
The Newton "Y" basketball team opened the 1929-30 season Saturday night on the local floor with a defeat from Quincy "Y" by a score of 23 to 24. Between the halves the junior teams of the two associations played with Newton winning 34 to 19. In the senior game, Robertson, left forward for Quincy, led in the scoring with thirteen points. Greenhalgh and Lute each scored twelve for Quincy, while Purcell was the high local scorer with ten points.

B. U. Opens Tonight
Boston University opens its hockey season tonight at the Boston Arena with the University Club as the opposition. Holmes Whitmore, former Newton high star is at right wing. Whitmore is one of five veterans of the Terrier sextet with the goalie's post the only one left vacant by graduation. The Hub school has the strongest schedule in its history to face in the next few months, having games with the University Club, Harvard, Yale, Dartmouth, Brown and Princeton among others.

Exeter Team Picked
A tentative first string hockey team has been chosen at Exeter academy with three local youths named. This year's six is captained by Frank Spain, one of the best hockey players ever turned out at Newton high. With a little more weight Spain would rank along with George Owen and Guy Holbrook. John Muther, another Newton youth, will be in the forward line with Spain while Bob Bennett, a teammate of Spain's at Newton high a few years ago, is one of the defense players.

COUNTRY DAY WINTER SPORTS

With football entirely a thing of the past, Country Day athletes are turning to the three main winter sports—hockey, track, and squash. This year, hockey at Country Day will be coached by David L. Garrison, former Country Day boy, and now a master at the school. He is an older brother of Johnny Garrison, flashy center on the present Harvard varsity hockey outfit, now fighting to keep the place he earned last year from being taken by either Barry Wood, Elliot Putnam, or Guy Holbrook. Johnny made quite a name for himself by playing on the Country Day varsity for six consecutive years, and ended up by captaining the team through an undefeated season in 1927, including a smashing victory over the Harvard seconds, the most successful campaign in the school's hockey history. He played first-string center on the Country Day team when he was but twelve years old. This year's Country Day team is captained by Francis H. Gleason, erstwhile football luminary in the Green and White backfield, and he and Coach Garrison have a second of about twenty-eight from which to mold a team.

For the second year, James R. Cobb of Newton Centre, is captain of the track team at Country Day. Charles L. Goodrich, of Ricker road, Newton, prominent as an official on Massachusetts gridirons, is again varsity track coach. A few candidates are working out daily in anticipation of the coming track season, but real work has not begun in earnest, as yet.

As it did last year, Country Day this year has two teams in the Massachusetts State Squash Raquets Association—one in Class C, and the other in Class D. There is a total of forty-six teams in the Association, which means that each Saturday afternoon, 230 men engage in team matches. The two Country Day teams are the only teams in the whole Association whose line-ups are composed largely of players under college age. Two of the masters at Country Day play on the teams, but the others are all boys. The members of the teams and the positions which they will play each Saturday, are all determined each Friday by the "bumper tournament" which goes on perpetually. The first five men in the "bumper" ranking compose the C team, and the next five make up the D team.

Last year, Country Day's C team ranked about halfway in the standing at the close of competition with fourteen other teams, and its number-one man, Malcolm Clarke, was a finalist in the Class C tournament for the individual championship. The standing in the Country Day "bumper tournament" last week, as the 1929-30 season got under way was as follows: No. 1, Clarke; 2, Breck; 3, Smith; 4, Goodrich; 5, Brewster; 6, F. Gleason; 7, Winchell; 8, D. Gleason; 9, Thorndike; 10, Campbell. This week the C team is idle while the D team entertains the Newton Y. M. C. A.

HIGH SCHOOL SPORT NEWS

Immediately following Thanksgiving there is a lapse in high school athletics. The football players are enjoying a short rest until many of them turn their attention to other sports. This week basketball practice was begun and Coach Green finds himself in a similar situation as the football coaches did in regards to veteran material. Captain-elect John McCarthy is the only letterman available under the three-year rule. But last year's intermediate varsity squad is sending up material of promise as mentioned last week. A little later on it will be possible to obtain an idea of a varsity squad.

Dr. Oscar Martin, coach of the hockey team, is planning to issue the call for hockey candidates as soon as ice is available. Captain-elect Fred Schipper is the only letter man and veteran with varsity experience available.

Along the middle of the month Coach Donald Enoch will send out the call for track candidate and while many veterans have been lost the outlook does not seem as dark as in the other two major winter sports.

It usually happens when Sonny decides to raise the shade to look out of the window, he leaves his finger-marks. No harm is done, however, if the window shades are of du Pont TONTINE for finger-marks, smudges, dust and soil wash right off with soap, hot water and a brush, and their original beauty is restored. TONTINE shades are also waterproof, sun-proof and will not crack, "pin-hole" or fray. With a beautiful, smooth surface to which dust and dirt will not cling, and heavy in weight, they will last for years. A number of your neighbors have recently installed these truly washable window shades because they are so practical, so beautiful and so lasting.

*Phone us today and we will gladly send a man to show you samples of the New and Improved du Pont TONTINE.

TELEPHONE RATES TO BE REVISED

Rate revisions estimated to save telephone users more than $300,000 a year are announced by the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company, effective January 1. This is the second rate reduction announced by this company this year, a revision of toll rates, resulting in savings of $250,000 annually, having been put into effect last February.

The present reduction applies to such items as service connection charges, moving charges, rates applying to subscribers remote from the central office, and certain charges connected with toll. Monthly base rates for local exchange service remain unchanged.

In Metropolitan Boston there will be substantial savings to subscribers. In the matter of service connection charges, for example, where the telephone is not in place the Massachusetts charge is now $3.50 state-wide regardless of kind of service installed. The new schedule substitutes a graduated scale.

For Boston residence main stations and private branch exchange trunks the service connection charge is reduced from $3.50 to $3.00. Only in the case of business main stations and private branch exchange trunks is the $3.50 charge retained.

The same scale of service connection charges applies in the larger Massachusetts cities, but is reduced to $1.75 in 38 medium-sized towns, and to $1.50 in 150 smaller places.

For extension telephones, statewide, the service connection charge takes a sharp drop. It is to be $2.50 for business and $2.00 for residences, in place of the present $3.50 for each.

This lowered charge for connecting extension telephone service is to be uniform throughout the Company's whole territory.

Inside moves or changes in type of telephones are to be rated at $2.00 Company-wide. So are inside moves or changes in type of auxiliary equipment. This is a reduction from $3.00.

Several changes designed to make telephone service more attractive to people in rural communities appear in the new schedule. They benefit far more telephone subscribers in Boston's Metropolitan area than at first thought would seem likely.

Not a few telephone users will welcome abolition of the 96 cents-a-year extra charge for desk-sets on rural lines.

A more liberal practice will be adopted in apportioning the cost of new lines along the highways to reach remote subscribers. The present practice under which the Company bears the cost of highway construction within the base rate area will be continued. Beyond that point, for circuits on existing pole-line, and for the first quarter-mile of new pole-line, the Company now proposes to assume all highway construction costs; and it will meet one-half the highway construction cost beyond, up to the limit of the exchange area.

Various base rate areas are to be expanded to take in well-developed though outlying communities, thus reducing or eliminating mileage charges. The base rate area of every mileage paying exchange in Metropolitan Boston will be enlarged, and many subscribers will benefit.

Overtime and Report Charges on person-to-person toll calls are subjected to downward revision. Reductions ranging from 5 cents to 15 cents are applied to report charges on longer calls. Overtime on person-to-person calls, after ten minutes, is to be charged at the lower station-to-station rate.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S ANNIVERSARY

The Young People of the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale, celebrated the tenth anniversary of the founding of their Society, the Young People's Fellowship, on Sunday evening with a host of friends from all parts of the Diocese of Massachusetts. Thirty parish Fellowships were represented in the two hundred and fifty guests who came to the celebration, which represented the beginnings, at the Messiah in 1919, of this society in Massachusetts and New England. At the informal supper meeting at 5 o'clock, Rev. William M. Bradner, Educational Secretary of the Diocese, and Rev. P. M. Wood made brief addresses. The Service at seven o'clock was led by Diocesan officers: George Alcock, All Saints, Belmont; Sumner Davis, Christ Church, Andover; and Everett Livesey, St. Martins, New Bedford.

Helen Bosworth, Messiah, Auburndale, spoke of the value of the Fellowship in the Parish, and introduced the other speakers. Henry S. C. Cummings, All Saints, Brookline, spoke of the value of association together of early Societies in the Diocese of Massachusetts, where there are now 30 Fellowships and in the Province of New England where there are about 200, representing several thousand young people. Henry C. Pringle, Good Shepherd Watertown, President of the Y. P. F. in New England, and also a member of the National Commission on Young People's work spoke of the wider developments of Young People's work throughout the country. Robert Hunt Jr., Trinity Church, Boston, told of his experiences in another branch of the Young People's movement in the South, the Young People's Service League, and of Fellowship activities in a Boston Parish. Miss Louise Caddoo, Church of the Holy Spirit, Mattapan, President of the Massachusetts Y. P. L., emphasized the contribution the Fellowship may make to the spiritual life of the parish. She also alluded to the Life Recruit Flag of the Diocesan Young People's Fellowship and the Scholarship Fund raised to aid worthy members in studying for the Ministry or some form of life work in the Church. On the Life Recruit Flag are inscribed: Gold Stars, representing young men, and Silver stars, young women, who were former members of the Fellowship—now in the Ministry or some form of Church work; also Red Stars representing many who are now preparing for such work. The Rector of the Church of the Messiah, Rev. Mr. Wort represents this branch of Young People's work on the Department of Education in Diocese and Province, and acts as one of the advisors to the movement.

It Pays to Advertise

By Edw. H. Powers

Monday noon two men stood in the doorway of the GRAPHIC office on Centre avenue. One was a young man; the other was middle-aged. The young man confided to the older person that he intended to get married this week but wanted to keep the ceremony a secret. He inquired of the more mature male how he could become a benedict without the Boston or Waltham papers obtaining knowledge of this fact. His confidant gave him some advice in a low tone of voice which was not audible enough to reach the ears of those in the GRAPHIC office. Apparently it did not satisfy the prospective bridegroom, as he answered, "Isn't there some place farther away?" We would surmise that the adviser had suggested that the youth go to Belknap Falls, Nashua or Providence to get married. If so, the youth desiring secrecy was correct in wanting a more remote "Gretna Green." Many loving couples from Newton and other places, wishing secrecy, have journeyed to Nashua and Providence to get "hitched," only to be disappointed surprise later on to read notices of their marriages in the local papers. If the perplexed young man wants his marriage kept "mum" he should go to New York City. We won't get the information from that burg.

In the office window of the Newton Steamship Agency at 11 Centre avenue, Newton, next to the postoffice, is a very clever advertising device conceived by the United States Lines. It depicts the S. S. Leviathan on the briny deep, passing a light house. The tossing of the waves, the dashing spray and the smoke from the steamship's funnels are realistically shown.

Attention has been called several times in this column to the alleged traffic signal at the end of Thornton street, next to Pearl street. This signal was placed there last year after long agitation for some protection for the children of the neighborhood from automobile traffic on Pearl street. There are many children in the thickly settled neighborhood nearby and about 50 small children attend the Lincoln primary school at the corner of Thornton and Pearl streets. No policeman is assigned to this school when the little pupils are coming to or going from it. The opposite corner of Thornton and Pearl streets is dangerous because of a building which comes out to the street line. Automobiles are constantly speeding along Pearl street by this blind corner and the school.

When a number of months ago a traffic signal was placed at this point, instead of being placed out on, or above Pearl street where it would have a restraining effect on speeders along that street, it was placed at the end of Thornton street where it is of no value in curbing the reckless drivers on Pearl street. Not only was it so placed to be of no value for the purpose for which it was demanded, but it is so located as to be a nuisance. Operators of automobiles coming west on Pearl street from Newton Corner find it very difficult to go around the signal to the right as they are supposed to do according to law. The signal is so placed as to make a right turn by larger cars almost an impossibility and yet autoists have got into difficulty with the police because they failed to keep to the right of this signal. As an added factor contributing to this signal's ineffectiveness is the fact that the lamp in it, which is supposed to flash, has not been flashing for many weeks. Neither have the lamps in many of the other traffic signals throughout the city. These signals were erected as flashing signals. All warning signals at street intersections, in accordance with traffic control practice are supposed to flash. When they don't flash, they are of little value. The signals in Newton have been stopped from flashing because of complaints from owners of radio sets who were annoyed by the interference caused by the flashing attachments. This trouble has been eliminated in some cases by installing "filters" in the traffic signals. It seems when this could be done in the case of some signals, it could be done in all of them and any slight made to flash as they should, and as they are intended to.

Another traffic signal that is not being operated as recommended by the Traffic Committee of the Board of Aldermen is that at Nonantum Square. For many years traffic was directed by pedestrians safeguarded at Nonantum Square by a traffic officer. Results were very satisfactory. Vehicular traffic was expedited and no pedestrians were injured. To protect the officer on duty from the weather it was erected for a number of years that a traffic tower be erected at this place. In 1927 when the Board of Aldermen gave favorable consideration to this matter, "experts" from the State Department of Public Works and the Edison Company suggested to local officials that an automatic signal be installed at Nonantum Square rather than manually controlled signals to be operated by a traffic officer in a tower. The Aldermen decided against automatic signals and ordered the tower erected. Despite this action of the Aldermen, and the expense involved in erecting the tower, since it was erected the signals within it have been operated most of the time automatically. Pedestrians are afforded no protection crossing the square. Most of them disregard the signals and the danger to pay attention to the signals are not given sufficient time to cross the streets before the signals change to move automobile traffic towards the foot travelers.

Recently an aged man was hit by a car while crossing Nonantum Square and severely injured. It is through sheer good luck that serious automobile collisions have been averted because the automatically operated signals authorize two lines of vehicles going opposite directions to make left turns and cross paths. When an officer directed traffic, or directs traffic, there is no unnecessary delay of vehicles. But when the signals are automatically operated, automobiles must be stopped until the cycle of signal change brings the green light around. Cars going northerly on Centre street have to wait 45 seconds if their drivers do not happen along opportunely. All these hazards and inconveniences have been and are existing because local officials defer to suggestions from an employee of the State Department of Public Works who has no authority to enforce such suggestions.

In the GRAPHIC last week was an announcement from the Weeks Campaign Committee, regarding the rallies to be held this week. A list of the different villages in this city where rallies would be held was given. Included in this list was Cold Spring Village. We are quite well acquainted with all parts of this city, but Cold Spring Village we had never heard of before. "Cold Spring," so called, in this city is located at Newton Highlands, east of Plymouth road, near the Cochituate aqueduct. We knew of no development in this neighborhood which had been named after the spring. Our curiosity was satisfied when we read through the announcement and obtained further information that on Tuesday, December 3rd, a rally would be held at Cummings road, Cold Spring Village. Then, we realized that some person, or persons, had arrogated to himself or themselves the right to rename an old section of this community, known for generations as "Cork City." About the middle of the last century, neighborhoods at the rear of Newton

Cemetery on, and to the south of Homer street, and near the intersection of Beacon and Walnut streets were settled by persons who had immigrated from Ireland. The first was dubbed "Cork City"; the second "Kerry Cross." These names were distasteful to some of those, who in subsequent years resided in these two sections. While the designation "city," applied to a small neighborhood, is inappropriate and may be regarded as humorous or sarcastic, it is appropriate that names shall be given to neighborhoods to commemorate the sturdy pioneers who founded them. New England rightly names many of its cities, towns and streets after places in old England whence came the early white settlers of this section. Likewise in other sections of this country we find Dutch, French and German names applied to localities.

The hard working, God fearing men and women from the Emerald Isle who immigrated to the United States nearly a century ago, following the terrible famine in their native land, fought an up-hill battle against economic adversity and prejudice. They were important factors in the phenomenal growth of this country during the past century. They well earned the right to be remembered. Their descendants should be proud of them.

Ireland has no fairer counties than Kerry and Cork. The former contains the far famed Lakes of Killarney and the scenically beautiful Kenmare River and West Coast regions. Cork is replete with attractiveness for the tourist. The entrancing valley of the Lee, the alluring hills of the Muskerry country, lovely Glengarriff and Bantry Bay make this part of Erin unforgettable. While the designation "Cork City" as applied to the north-west corner of Ward 6 should be modified to exclude the "city" there is no good reason why "Cork" should be abandoned if the neighborhood is to have a local name. The old timers in this city will not enthrone over the Aquarius appellation—"Cold Spring Village."

Talk about economy. The broad steps at the entrance to City Hall, West Newton were badly worn. But, like rubber heels they were worn on one side only. Did the Buildings Department go to the expense of purchasing new lumber to replace the worn steps? It did not. The boards were turned upside down and now the steps are good as new. Perhaps they will last until the new City Hall will have been built. If they do, the new City Hall will be erected considerably sooner than we expect. And this is casting no reflection on the length of time the boards can reasonably be expected to last.

A few weeks ago the GRAPHIC printed, under this column, an item about a house on Prince street, West Newton that had its roof reshelved with wood shingles. We have been informed by the Public Buildings Commissioner that this apparent violation of the Building Code was done unintentionally. The owner of the house was ill, in a hospital, while the work was being performed, and instead of a small part of the roof being covered with wood shingles, as was intended, this type shingle was used on most of the roof. To conform with the Building Code, the entire roof will be covered with asbestos shingles.

POLICE NEWS

Antonio Cavallo of 53 Oak street, West Newton, was arrested last Friday afternoon by Serg. Moan and Special Officer Feeley charged with making an illegal sale of liquor. In court Saturday Cavallo was treated leniently. Judge Bacon gave him a suspended fine of $50 and a suspended sentence of two months in jail. Serg. Moan testified that Cavallo's arrest followed a sale of liquor by the defendant to a spotter co-operating with the police. Cavallo operated as a "hip-pocket bootlegger," carrying the hooch on his person and making the sale on a street.

Julius Amendola of 304 Adams street, Newton and John J. Powers of 21 Crescent street, West Newton each was fined $5 for having firearms in their possession on the Metropolitan water reservation off Ash street in Weston. The young men were not aware it is against the law to carry firearms on Metropolitan reservations and so were quite surprised when Chief Viles of the Weston police apprehended them while they were hunting on November 1.

Cut This Out and Take It With You to the Polls

THE CITY ELECTION

With nineteen candidates to be voted upon by voters throughout the city and nine others from which to select representatives from seven wards the city election on next Tuesday, December 10th, holds more than the usual interest to the Newton voter. Especially is this true in the mayoralty situation where the four candidates on the ballot require that the preferential method of voting be used. For the first time in sixteen years Newton will have a change in the executive office of the city. During the past few days the four candidates for Mayor have been setting forth their qualifications for this office at public rallies throughout the city. It is hardly necessary to go into much detail on that subject here. We believe that the election of Sinclair Weeks will place a man in the office of Mayor of Newton who not only has the necessary qualifications for that office but in addition has the insight, initiative and inclination that will be of most benefit to the city.

Sinclair Weeks is a successful business man. He is president of two important manufacturing companies employing well over a thousand men and women and he has proved his ability as a producer. Moreover he is a soldier. A soldier by choice in the World War when he rose from a Second Lieutenant to a Captain and since then he has been promoted to a Lieutenant Colonel in the National Guard Reserve. He not only has the ability to obey but the ability to command. The voters of Newton should give him their first and only choice for Mayor of Newton for the next two years.

We confine ourselves to an "only" choice for the reason that under the preferential method of voting a candidate without a majority of the votes cast may be elected. A second choice vote for either of the other candidates for Mayor might result in their election to office. If the candidate with the most first choice votes has not a clear majority of the votes cast the second choice votes are then added and the candidate with the greatest plurality of combined choices is elected.

There are twelve candidates for the seven seats as aldermen-at-large. In three wards there are no contests the present incumbents seeking re-election unopposed. In Wards 1, 2, 4 and 5, the voters are asked to choose between two or more candidates. In Wards 2 and 4 the present aldermen should be re-elected over their respective opponents. Alderman George W. Grebenstein of Ward 2 has been a member of the board several years and should be returned. Alderman John H. Gordon of Ward 4, likewise, has a record sufficient to prove that a change in representation is neither necessary nor desirable at this time. In Ward 5 Alderman John Temperley is opposed for re-election by two other candidates. Mr. Temperley should be chosen. He has displayed a commendable independence in action, has placed the interests of the city above all other considerations, and has been one hundred per cent in attendance at both the meetings of the board and of the committees of which he has been a member in his two years of service.

In Ward 1 there are two candidates for the seat as alderman-at-large which Alderman Earle, one of the Mayoralty candidates, will vacate. They are Arthur J. Mansfield and James P. Akins. We recommend the election of Mr. Mansfield. We have no objection to his opponent but hold the opinion that a new head and possibly a new policy in city affairs should be backed up by men of sound and mature judgment and business training.

Ward 5 is the only section of the city that will send a new Ward Alderman to city hall, all of the other present aldermen being unopposed for re-election. In Ward 5 three candidates are in the field. For those in doubt as to which should be chosen to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Alderman Holbrook, the present incumbent, we urge the election of James R. Chandler. Mr. Chandler is a man of sound judgment and with an active interest in community affairs.

COMPETENT TO SERVE

In the contests for places on the Board of Aldermen there are but two offices to which the voters are faced with the problem of naming a man without previous connection with the city government. Mr. Arthur J. Mansfield as Alderman-at-large from Ward 1 and James R. Chandler as Ward Alderman from Ward 5 are candidates of whom the city may well be proud. If elected both of these men are certain to uphold the prestige of their predecessors on the Boards of Aldermen that have aided materially in making Newton one of the foremost cities of the Commonwealth. The same can be said of the two candidates for membership on the school committee—Walter R. Amesbury of Ward 4 and F. Marsena Butts of Ward 7—who are unopposed.

INEFFICIENCY AND INVESTIGATION

The last meeting of the School Committee disclosed a situation in the heating plant of the Newton High School which is far from satisfactory and which should be remedied immediately. At the time of the construction of the administration building a few years ago some additional units were added that were designed to take care of the increased burden. Later the heating system of the Classical School building was also hooked up with the main plant. Now it appears that the chimney is found to be inadequate and a resultant smoke nuisance has arisen, objectionable to many and in all probability somewhat detrimental to health. Furthermore it is stated that the generating plant is considerably overloaded and if any major repair work be made necessary it would be exceedingly difficult if not impossible to heat the buildings. To accomplish results under present conditions means fuel extravagance and waste with a possible breakdown of the mechanical equipment. It would also appear that the "buck" has been "passed" regarding the matter. The inspector for the State Department of Public Utilities says that the plant is inadequate; heating engineers, who are perhaps somewhat interested, claim that it is run improperly; while the building department seeks to have the care of heating the school placed under its control. With such a situation it would seem advisable that a competent heating engineer, who has no interest in the matter in any way and can make an impartial decision, should be employed to investigate and advise as to the solution of the problem upon recommendation from the Mayor. If the installation of automatic stokers at an expense of $10,000 and the enlargement of the chimney would result in an efficient heating plant and a yearly saving of $2000 in fuel it is "penny wise and pound foolish" to delay the work.

HON. SAMUEL L. POWERS

The late Samuel L. Powers who passed away last Saturday was blessed with gifts far in excess of the average of mankind. He was an able, resourceful and successful leader of the bar. He had a flair for politics and well served the city of Newton as a member and president of the Common Council, an Alderman and as a member of the school committee. As a Congressman he made a deep impression on official Washington, and a promising political career was nipped in the bud by his withdrawal to re-enter the practice of law. In private life, however, his influence and advice were actively sought by many candidates for political office. But beyond this, we believe he will be chiefly remembered for his genial personality and for his extraordinary talent for making and keeping friends. The esteem and affection in which he was held was strikingly manifested by the large attendance at the funeral services.

CLEARING THE STREETS OF SNOW

Winter has arrived. The first real snowstorm of the season came last Monday to warn the street department of the difficulties in store during the coming months. With commendable speed trucks, plows and other implements were sent out to do battle with the elements. Before morning the streets were in excellent condition for automobile traffic. The sidewalks could have been much better; some were not plowed at all. While in these days it is most essential that the streets be opened to traffic as soon as possible the pedestrians of the city should receive proper consideration. Failure to plow the sidewalks turns the pedestrian traffic into the streets and creates a dangerous condition. Equal attention should be given both streets and sidewalks.

DO YOUR CHRISTMAS MAILING EARLY

Christmas is now less than three weeks away. For your own benefit the post office department has issued their annual plea to the public to mail Christmas packages early. Co-operation on the part of the public is necessary in order to prevent unnecessary delay and congestion in the mails. Those who hold their packages until the last moment fail to accomplish their own desires.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

As we predicted a few weeks ago in this column, the campaign in connection with the City Election next Tuesday is having a hectic finish. It is the most bitter in the history of the city. Talk about "mud throwing," some of the stuff being hurled by some of the candidates is more rocky than most mud.

If the intensity of this campaign does not bring out a larger vote than does the ordinary city election it is proof positive that the citizens of this city, supposedly above the average in intelligence and civic pride, are to a considerable number, woefully lacking in the performance of their civic duties. If these indifferent citizens come to City Hall seeking improvements during the next two years, or if they ask members of the City Government for favors or attention, they will deserve scant consideration.

For the past two years the writer has been a member of the Licenses Committee of the Board of Aldermen. Without indulging in self laudation, he does not fear to invite any citizen of Newton who does not know him, to ask any citizen who does know him as to his independence. He does not hesitate to brand as a fabricator any person who accuses him, or the Licenses Committee of the present Board of Aldermen as being under the control of any "gasoline trust" or any seeker, real or alleged of privileges in this city. The other members of the Licenses Committee are: Chairman, Frederick A. Hawkins, Ward 7; Fred W. Woodcock, Ward 2, Newtonville; Chester A. Pratt, Ward 1, West Newton; Silvanus Smith, Ward 4, Auburndale; John Temperley, Ward 5, Newton Upper Falls; Richard Harte, Ward 6, Chestnut Hill. These men are all well-known in their respective districts and need no defense as to their characters and integrity. These are the men who have made recommendations, favorable and unfavorable on petitions for gasoline filling station and garage permits the past year.

There are those who will contend that we should ignore charges made against us by irresponsible persons or by unprincipled individuals who, chagrined at failure to obtain sought for favors or privileges, seek revenge by casting aspersions on members of the Board of Aldermen. Persons who accept political office must expect unfair, unjust criticism. They must not be thin skinned. They must realize that it is one of the frailties of many humans to say mean things about others, and to believe false reports and unfounded rumors.

Newton is no different in this respect from other communities. Our motive in referring to the accusations cast upon the members of the Board of Aldermen is not to vent our indignation at being one of those maligned. We are not indignant. We know those most assiduous in "knocking" us and we lose no sleep because of slurs started by them. Thinking citizens pay little attention to loose talk calculated to lessen faith in members of the City Government. But there are many persons sufficiently glib to take stock in the canards alleging graft or subservience among those constituting the City Government. They are honest folk who believe that "silence gives consent" and that "silence is evidence of guilt." Another reason why something should be done to refute the false accusations against the aldermen is—that the refusal of many able, honest citizens to serve in public office is their knowledge that they too will be maligned and unfairly accused if they enter politics.

We are glad to observe in the printed statement of Reuben Kligman, published in another paper, that he has modified the assertion he has been making that "I am the only candidate for Alderman uncontrolled by the gasoline trust." Mr. Kligman is but 22 years of age. He is the son of Jacob Kligman of 456 Watertown street, Newtonville. His father for a number of years had a junk license.

About 10 years ago the then Licenses Committee of the Aldermen would not recommend a renewal of Kligman's junk license. This action followed protests which had been received from owners of property near Kligman's, about the alleged unsightly condition of his junk yard. For several years Kligman tried unsuccessfully to have his junk license renewed. In later years he also petitioned without success for permits to erect a public garage and a gasoline filling station. These petitions have been opposed by the Newtonville Improvement Association and by the Nonantum Improvement Association. During the past few years, Reuben Kligman has appeared at City Hall to plead for his father's petitions when public hearings have been held.

Early this year Mr. Kligman again presented one of his petitions for a permit to erect a public garage and a gasoline filling station on his property. Members of this year's Licenses Committee agreed that inasmuch as Reuben Kligman promised the property would be cleaned up and an attractive garage building and filling station erected, fair consideration should be given to the petition. They informed Reuben Kligman that if he submitted properly drawn plans and specifications of the proposed garage, so that the building to be erected would be an asset to the neighborhood and not another eyesore, they would make a favorable report on his petition. He was also informed by the Licenses Committee that "If the garage were properly constructed and conducted, that next year the members of the committee would favorably consider granting his father a permit for a gasoline filling station." He replied that the garage permit would not be acceptable unless the filling station permit were also granted. He failed to bring in the plans and specifications for the garage. The petition was eventually granted leave to withdraw. The indictment of the majority of the Board of Aldermen by young Mr. Kligman in connection with his candidacy is ill-advised.

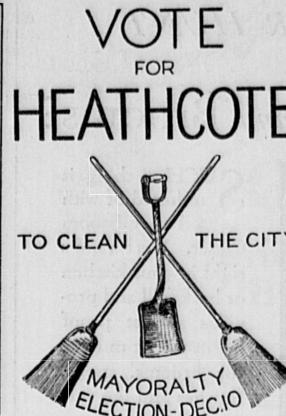

At the meeting held last night at the High School Auditorium under the auspices of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs the candidates for Mayor were asked several questions concerning their attitude and views on

To the Voters of Newton:

December 4, 1929.
The Good Book says, "By their fruits ye shall know them." A candidate's record is the best indication of what he will do in the future. You can't teach an old dog new tricks. When an Alderman has voted to keep on the Newton Police Force an officer who admits having had two State girls in the Angier School until four o'clock in the morning, do you think he is the man to succeed Mayor Childs and teach the boy scout oath to the young fellows of the City? Heathcote voted against the retention of this officer on the police force. His opponents voted to keep the officer on the force.

I have always voted for a living wage whereas my opponent, Mr. Weeks, said in the Finance Committee, "that he would never pay $2.25 a day if he could get him for $2.00."

I have always said Newton schools were the best in the State and have five children in them. Mr. Weeks says he wants to make Newton schools the best in the state and in the meantime sends his children to a private school in Weston.

I contend that a man who believes in the Newton schools and has his children there is better qualified to deal with the Newton School problems.

I did my utmost to gain time for a careful consideration of the Newton Pension Bill. My aldermanic opponents for Mayor jammed the bill through with the result that when Mother Mason, the police matron, for over thirty years was forced out last year on a pension of a few dollars a week, a public subscription had to be taken to supplement the pension.

My record shows I want the city clean, well governed, the city employees fairly paid, the taxes cut down by demanding a dollar's worth of value for every dollar paid with special privileges for none and equal treatment for all.

GEORGE M. HEATHCOTE,

The liquor question. They were asked concerning the 18th Amendment, the State Volstead Act, the enforcement of prohibition in Newton. The sincere zeal of members of the W. C. T. U. and other temperance and total abstinence organizations in endeavoring to end the liquor evil, in preventing a recrudescence of the conditions which existed under the old saloons is to be commended. But, we doubt seriously the efficacy of such questions as these propounded to candidates for political office. A frank, sincere candidate may tell what he honestly thinks and by doing so incur the disfavor of the "drys." We do not question the sincerity of the candidates in their answers to this question last night. A candidate who places political expediency before candor may answer such questions to carry favor with the questioners.

There is so much hypocrisy in this country resultant from the 18th Amendment and the Volstead Act, there are so many men in public life who are "dry" in theory and "wet" in practice, there are so many citizens who preach prohibition but who drink hard liquor when they can do so surreptitiously, that we doubt the wisdom of submitting questionnaires on the liquor question to candidates for political office.

There is a growing tendency on the part of many boys and girls in this city to walk out in the streets and refuse to move out of the path of oncoming automobiles when they observe that the operators of such cars are using caution and have warned them by blowing the horn. These boys and girls brazenly refuse to step towards the sidewalk and force the motorists to steer either to the middle of the street or over to the left side in the face of oncoming traffic. They apparently have not enough brains to realize that during the winter months when the streets are covered with snow or ice, that cars are apt to skid either when drivers attempt to steer them to one side or when the brakes are applied. Measures should be taken by the school authorities and the police to reprimand the boys and girls who think it "smart" to defy drivers of automobiles.

THE OTHER SIDE CONCERNING THE "GASOLINE TRUST"

Since 1925 Albert T. Stuart has been granted permits by the City Government on six locations in Newton, two were for public garages and the others were for gasoline selling stations. Prior to 1925 there were no permits issued to Albert T. Stuart. Three of the above mentioned locations are now owned or controlled by the Stuart-Marshall Realty Company. Neither Albert T. Stuart nor the Stuart-Marshall Realty Company is interested in the Highland Oil Company. The statement that Mr. Stuart of this corporation owns or controls 75% of the gasoline stations in Newton is greatly exaggerated. An ability to collect and distribute misinformation is not one of the qualifications of a good public servant.

The Stuart-Marshall Realty Company is responsible for new construction in Newton Centre alone to the amount of $750,000. This is represented by the Stuart Building, the Community Block, the Centre Block, the Johnson Block all in Newton Centre, the central Post Office at Newton Centre. The Stuart-Marshall Realty Company also erected the Newton Branch Post Office and is also the owner of the Flax Building on Centre street, Newton. Less than $85,000 of its holdings in the entire city is represented by garage and filling station property.

deavored to so run his factory that its employees have had steady work. He will attempt to do likewise when Mayor and by trying to bring about co-operation with the city employees will seek to have less, rather than more work done by contractors.

He mentioned the various major projects confronting the city, such as more schools, improved streets, better playground facilities, more sewers and drains, adequate police and fire protection. He favors keeping Newton's schools at the lead in this State; he would pursue a policy to give this city modern and satisfactory streets. Referring to Boyd Park and Laundry Brook, he stated that although the demands for improvements in various parts of the city are more than the finances of the city can meet, and the increasing expenses of running the activities of Newton complicate the financial situation, he would try to have Laundry Brook covered during the coming year if he will be elected Mayor, as he realizes this improvement is needed.

He said that the conduct of the business of a city such as Newton, where about $5,000,000 is being expended annually, requires a man with financial and business experience, a man who has had administrative training. He believes he possesses these qualifications and if elected will give the city an honest, progressive administration and will serve all the people impartially.

The second candidate to speak was William E. Earle. Like Mr. Weeks he gave a synopsis of his career and old of his service in the Board of Aldermen eight years—six of which he has been Chairman of the Public Works Committee. The experience he has obtained while on this committee in the constructive work affecting the city makes him well acquainted with the problems which have to be met. He has had to come in contact with the work done on streets, sewers, drains, public buildings, playgrounds and parks and has unusual knowledge concerning all these matters. He told of the comparatively small amounts expended on street work when he first became a member of the Board of Aldermen and contrasted it with the much larger sums now spent. Likewise he told of the much bigger sums which have been spent the past couple of years in building drains and sewers. He spoke of the many improvements made in the water system of Newton while he has been a member of the Public Works Committee. He also mentioned his assistance in procuring increased school facilities during the past six years.

Mr. Earle asserted that the Public Works Committee was limited in its activities by the amount of appropriations recommended by the Finance Committee; that his committee was continually endeavoring to get more money to spend on improvements, and of necessity could not accomplish all it wished. This fact was responsible for fewer streets being improved under the Betterment Law than petitions called for, although last year, between the work of this nature done under the Betterment Law in addition to those done under the General Law, five miles of streets had been improved and accepted. Although there are 80 miles of streets unaccepted in the city, petitions for only 7 miles have been received. Something should be done to enable the residents who want their streets improved under the Betterment Law to have relief without waiting long periods. During his term as Chairman 30 more acres have been added to playground areas. If elected Mayor he promises a constructive, economical administration. Like Mr. Weeks he favors the covering of Laundry Brook without further delay.

Both Mr. Weeks and Mr. Earle stated that it would have been better had the work of covering Laundry Brook been accomplished last year before the new legislation regarding sewer bonds had gone into effect. This legislation stopped further borrowing outside the debt limit for work on drains and sewers and of course restricted the procuring of funds.

The third speaker was George M. Heathcote. He told of his early struggles as a fatherless boy to obtain an education, of working his way through Harvard and law school and the training he had received in welfare work. Telling of his service in the Board of Aldermen, he referred to his efforts to obtain better working conditions and wages for city employees. He criticized his two opponents for claiming needed improvements could not be made because of lack of funds. This legislation stopped further borrowing outside the debt limit for work on drains and sewers and of course restricted the procuring of funds. He stated that he had fought against this work being done under the General Law which saddled the cost of this improvement onto the taxpayers. It should have been done under the Betterment Law and paid for by the man who owns a large part of the area which is to be drained. Mr. Heathcote argued that this im-same section of this ward." Mr. Atkins stated that he resides on Lewis street, which is on the south side of the railroad tracks and approximately in the same part of the Ward as Mr. Mansfield's residence.

Mr. Mansfield replied that he resides at 579 Centre street, which is the east part of the Ward, whereas Mr. Atkins lives on Lewis street, in the west part of the Ward. Mr. Mansfield, candidate for re-election as alderman from Ward 4 told of his 6 years' service on the Board and expressed his approval of Mr. Weeks' proposal to give the city employees more work by using such efficient methods that work can be done by them as economically as by contractors.

George W. Grebenstein, candidate for re-election as alderman from Ward 2 referred to his work as chairman of the Claims and Rules and Traffic committees. Mentioning the control of traffic at Nonantum square by automatically controlled signals, he said, "The committee recommends one thing, but Mr. Halsey of the State Department of Public Works wanted another and we are told he has the authority." Mr. Grebenstein said he has endeavored to serve efficiently and honestly and stands on his record.

The other candidate for Alderman from Ward 2, Reuben Kligman, read a written statement (as he did at the other rallies at which he appeared) alleging that a "gasoline trust" controls the Newton Board of Aldermen. He accused one man of flooding the city with filling stations, and promised that if he is elected alderman he will prevent any more filling station permits being granted.

Howard Murphy, who opposes John Gordon in the aldermanic contest in Ward 4 asserted that Lower Falls is entitled to one of the three aldermen from this ward and that all should not come from Auburndale. Mr. Murphy advocated better streets in Newton and told of his qualifications as a consulting engineer.

Thomas Moran of Upper Falls, candidate for alderman from Ward 5 advocated better streets and more street lights. John Temperley who seeks re-election as a Ward 5 alderman told of his efforts to serve his constituents and the city zealously and honestly. He urged the citizens to take more interest in city affairs.

Edward H. Powers, ward Alderman from Ward 1 took issue with Reuben Kligman on the latter's statement that "I am the only candidate for alderman uncontrolled by the gasoline trust." Powers asserted, "I am also an aldermanic candidate, though not opposed, and I am not controlled by any gasoline trust, clique or gang. Neither are the other members of the Board, so far as I have been able to observe. The young man who arrogates to himself all the virtues of the candidates for aldermen, should not place a halo provement is for the purpose of benefiting this land owner and has increased the value of the land from 1/4 of a cent per square foot to 40 cents.

He contrasted this huge expenditure with the treatment accorded John Sheehan who owns a little property on Bowdoin street, Newton Centre. According to Mr. Heathcote, at the behest of real estate developers who own property abutting Mr. Sheehan's, a sewer was built through part of his property, injuring it. For this infringement damages of $47 were awarded to Sheehan. Then, a blind road was built which was purposely placed, so Mr. Heathcote said, one foot over onto Mr. Sheehan's land, cutting through part of his barn. For this work on the street, which is of no benefit to Sheehan, he was assessed $1878 betterments. Mr. Heathcote stated he will, if elected Mayor, give the city an efficient administration and will give the taxpayers $1 value for every $1 expended. Like Mr. Weeks and Mr. Earle, he promised to improve Boyd Park and Laundry Brook.

James P. Atkins, candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 1, and of having been born in the Ward and residing in it most of his life. He told of his qualifications—his knowledge of law and of the city, his availability during all 24 hours of each day and his willingness to serve the Ward and city faithfully and honestly. He related his experiences in and around Boyd Park and the open part of Laundry Brook and of the temptations this running water presents to little tots. He is strongly in favor of removing this menace and improving conditions in Ward 1 in general.

Arthur J. Mansfield, also a candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 1, told of having been a resident of the Ward for 8 years and before that a resident just over the Brighton line for 7 years. Until a couple of weeks before, he had no idea of running for alderman but he was prevailed upon by friends to do so. After much deliberation he consented. He believes that his experience of 22 years as proprietor of a printing business, his training acquired from several years' connection with the Boston schools, and his association with welfare work, qualify him to serve the city. He visited Boyd Park within 24 hours after deciding to run for alderman, and while the covering of the brook there is a minor project, it is necessary and he favors it. Mr. Mansfield distinguished between major and minor projects. The former include schools, streets, sewers, water, fire and police protection. These must receive prior consideration but should be efficiently and economically handled so that sufficient funds remain to provide for needed minor projects.

who spoke included Alderman George Grebenstein and Reuben Kligman, candidates for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 2; John Gordon and Howard Murphy, candidates for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 4; John Temperley and Thomas Moran, Ward 5 aldermanic candidates; Aldermen Gallagher and Powers of Ward 1. Miss Margaret MacDonald, secretary of the association read a letter from John Murray, the fourth candidate for Mayor. Mr. Murray claimed to be unable to attend but expressed briefly in the letter his views on the conduct of city affairs.

Alderman Gallagher also refuted the charges made against the aldermen concerning the "gasoline trust." He said the aldermen are not saps and are not trying to curry favor from anyone. He told of his reciprocal relations with Mr. Weeks and asserted that the highbrow element in the city cannot control elections in the future. Mr. Gallagher is one of Mr. Weeks' most enthusiastic supporters. He told of the great improvements made in Newton's water supply and system.

Mayor Childs exhorted citizens of Newton to go to the polls and vote, to take more interest in city affairs. He described as "sacred" the right use of the ballots. He deprecated loose talking at election time, especially referring to those who injected religion into politics. He reminded his hearers that the founders of this nation guaranteed freedom of worship to all. He contended that a man's race, creed or color should not be used against him in politics.

the short question period by Mr. Hickey and Heenan, real estate developers who have been accused by him of being responsible for the expense placed on John Sheehan of White Avenue, Newton Centre, because of a new street on their development there. Hickey asked Heathcote why he did not state all the facts and the latter replied that the facts are just as he had stated. Heathcote made a big hit with some of the audience when, in reply to questions asked by the W. C. T. U. concerning his views on the liquor problem, he stated that if elected Mayor he would enforce Prohibition by paying more attention to discovering stills in this city than by prosecuting the poor Italians in Nonantum who had made a little wine. He favored the retention of the 18th Amendment and the State Volstead act, so-called.

Answering these same questions Mr. Weeks replied that while the 18th Amendment has resulted unsatisfactorily he believes it should not be repealed until some better way of controlling the liquor evil can be found. In reply to the question concerning the repeal of the State Prohibition Enforcement law, Mr. Weeks said that he had not had time to sufficiently study this matter. He said that if elected Mayor he will attempt to strictly enforce prohibition in this city.

Mr. Earle did not answer the questions due to lack of time but promised to write a letter to the W. C. T. U. answering the same.

Alderman Grebenstein devoted the time allotted to him in an effort to justify the building of the Cold Spring Swamp drain under the Betterment Law, and eulogizing Mr. Weeks.

Mr. Weeks and Mr. Earle re-affirmed the statements that they had made in their speeches at other rallies as to their policies regarding the conduct of city affairs.

Elliot Church and Walter Amesbury, unopposed candidates for the School Committee spoke briefly on school problems.

WEALTH IS THE TARGET FOR ABUSE

(Editor's Note—We print herewith portions of a letter from a native citizen of Newton who has had twenty seven years of military service, twenty of which were spent in the Marine Corps.)

The first part of the letter deals with reminiscences of well-known national figures, whom "one day we place on a pedestal" and the next "heave overboard," of the late John W. Weeks and an emphatic denial that use was made of his wealth for political gain. The remainder of the letter follows:

Today his (John W. Weeks'), son Sinclair Weeks, an honorable, respectable citizen desiring to follow in the footsteps of his illustrious father with a worthy ambition is a candidate for election to the office of Mayor—like his father he has served in the Board of Aldermen for considerable time—he is a man of business ability, a pleasing personality, excellent disposition and a creditable officer. It has been insinuated by the present incumbent of the office of Mayor that Sinclair Weeks would use his wealth to base use in furthering his political interests in this election—a rival candidate for election to the office of Mayor this year feels that because Mr. Weeks sends his children to school in a Packard automobile—insinuates him for the office of Mayor—Funnily, what politics will do!

Sinclair Weeks may be considered wealthy—and is therefore a target for shafts of vilification and abuse by those who hope to befuddle the public and "pull wool" over their eyes. Jealousy is often the prompter and instigator of such unworthy methods.

Weeks served his country in time of war in command of a Battery of Field Artillery, as Captain Batter "B," 101st Field Artillery, 26th Division, and his battery was an efficient military organization and composed of men equal to any who performed their duty satisfactorily and by their regard for their commander acquitted themselves with credit—ask General Edwards—he knows!

Captain Weeks could not have had so good a command if his men did not respond cheerfully and faithfully and this reflects on him as an officer—ask any "B" Battery member.

Sinclair Weeks has not indulged in carping criticism of the administration of the present Mayor who for sixteen years has intrenched himself in the Mayor's "P. C." at City Hall but has earnestly endeavored to assist in many ways and maintain the dignity of the City of Newton and in this campaign has not brought personalities into the limelight.

This procedure is not a part of his nature and never can be. I trust he will be elected as Mayor of Newton. I am not writing this for Mr. Weeks he knows nothing about it, but I am not going to sit back and let some of these "birds" broadcast fairy tales and bedtime stories about him in order to use a "smoke-screen" and fool all the people some of the time or all the time because Sinclair Weeks is started on the "political highway," is a young man, a pleasing speaker; is a level headed" person and has a great future before him and I want to "nail down" right now that he would ever stoop to dishonorable means to advance his interests dead against Political tricks and "humbbug" and other methods. If a person cannot win on his own merits and has to resort to deception to gain his ends I say "thumbs down". I notice one candidate has on his card endorsed by Hon. Edwin O. Childs in heavier type—what for? to make some people vote for him—those who have honored "Ned" Childs—this candidate is leaning on the present Mayor not standing on his own feet!

You haven't noticed Sinclair Weeks' card carrying the endorsement of Hon. Herbert Hoover on it, have you—not, but I'll bet you doubtless to dollars Sinclair Weeks could get it!

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

The Young People's Conference was run off last Friday and Saturday, with much enthusiasm, joy and personal uplift toward finer living. "Dad" Waite proved as remarkable a speaker for the Conference as anticipated. All went home inspired to throw themselves more and more into the work of the Church of Christ.

The Conference theme, "The Sword of the Lord" grew out of the conference hymn, which was as follows:—
Temper my spirit, O Lord
Keep it long in the fire,
Make it one with the flame
Let it share that unquenchable desire.
Grasp it, thyself, O my God;
Swing it straighter and higher!
Temper my spirit, O Lord,
Temper my spirit, O Lord.

New plans for more community Young People's Councils were launched at the Conference and will be further discussed at the meeting of regular Council members on Saturday evening, December 7, at the Newton Methodist Church. The new Council officers will make their report at this meeting; President, Lawrence Littlefield, Second Church, West Newton; Vice president, Scott Whitcomb, Baptist Church, Watertown; Secretary, Ethel Sweet, Baptist Church, Newton Centre.

Rev. Newton A. Merritt of Newton was the speaker at the Newtonville Assembly of the School of Religious Education last Monday evening. Miss Lulona Barker told a Christmas story at Belmont, on Tuesday evening. Next Monday will be the closing session in the Newtonville and Newton Centre sections of the District School.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

"The Challenge to Christian Knighthood" was the subject of Rev. Fred A. MacDonald's message last Tuesday night to over 225 young people of the Norumbega and Sagamore Christian Endeavor Unions at the West Medford Baptist Church. After a fine supper served by the ladies of the church, the Endeavorers attended conferences, Prayer Meeting being led by Abbott Foster of Essex County Union; Missionary by Mrs. Ernest Riggs, of Recreation by Franklin Woodward, chairman of the Recreation Committee at Northfield last summer. Eva Sanborn, vice-president of Sagamore Union, presided at the evening session which started with a ten minute praise and song service led by Edward Simpson, assisted at the piano by Amy Clark of Norumbega Union. The devotional period was conducted by Rev. George W. Hylton of the Mystic Congregational Church, Medford, who gave a brief talk on "Overcoming Difficulties," the text being taken from Mark 3:5. "Seek things which are spiritual, and if they are spiritual they are permanent."

A Surprise Meeting will be the feature of the Christian Endeavor meeting at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, West Newton, next Sunday at 6:30 under the leadership of Edward Simpson, president of Norumbega Union.

The young people of the Newton North Congregational Church have already started the rehearsing of their Christmas carols after the Sunday evening services at 8 p. m. Young people of the district are cordially invited to join with the Endeavorers at this time.

The Junior Endeavorers of the Payson Park Congregational Church, Belmont, have launched upon an intensive missionary program for the year. At present they are dressing dolls and collecting books for the Cambridge Neighborhood House.

Next Sunday the Senior Endeavorers of the Payson Park Church will have as their speaker Tinney Rucker, a student of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a member of the Technology Christian Association. His subject will be "The Mucker Pose."

Almost every Senior Christian Endeavor Society in Norumbega Union is preparing a stunt for the Annual Stunt Night next Thursday night at the Belmont M. E. Church, at 7:30 p. m.

Vote for Weeks for Mayor. First and only choice.—Mr. Morris Burroughs, organist in the Swampscott Congregational Church, will give an organ recital in Central Church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. This is the third of a series of four free recitals which are being given by guest artists on the new Memorial Organ. It is the desire of the Music Committee to make these evening services a community affair.—Three residents of Newtonville were injured in an automobile accident near Soldiers field, Brighton, last Sunday when the car in which they were riding was in collision with another car both being overturned.
The injured were Andrew J. Buckley, Jr., and Mrs. Mary Buckley of 12 Gardner street and Mrs. Mabel Matson of 28 Brookdale road. Their injuries were not serious.—On Monday evening a party from the Methodist Church visited Trinity Church in East Cambridge where an interesting entertainment was given by the children and young people of the church which is located in a foreign section of the city and is under the Board of Missions. The Pastor, Rev. William H. Duwall is a native of Newton and his assistant, Miss Emily Chamberlain, until a few weeks ago resided at 63 Harvard street. The visitors were inspired by the work done by these children in music and dramatics. Two little girls gave splendid violin solos and several girls in the Camp Fire group gave vocal solos. This visit was part of the program of the World Vision Institute which the Methodist Church is holding this week.

POLICE NEWS

In court on Monday Wm. Seaboyer of Lynn was charged with larceny. He was accused of stealing turkeys on the Tuesday night before Thanksgiving from the Open Air Market of Peter Mullen on Washington street. He was held on $2000 bonds.The two girls employed as domestics, who were reported missing from this city last week have been located.
One was found at a hospital in Boston and the other turned up at the home of her brother in Hyannis.John Defelice of Melendy avenue, Watertown, was arrested by Officer Dowling on Monday morning and taken to the Newton court. He was fined $5 for parking within 10 feet of a hydrant. He had refused to respond to several summonses to appear in court.Complaints were made to the police that on Wednesday of last week poor boxes in St. Bernard's Church, West
Newton, and the Church of Our Lady, Newton, had been broken into and looted.Giuseppe DiMucci of 205 Crafts street, Newtonville, was in court on Friday charged with stealing gasoline.
He was fined $50. Patrolman Walker, who arrested him testified that Di-Mucci had siphoned the gasoline to his car from a truck at Nonantum.Henry Boudreau of 11 Faxon street, Nonantum, was fined $100 in the Newton Court Friday for making an illegal sale of liquor. He was given a suspended sentence of six months in jail.THE SALVATION ARMY CAMPAIGNNewton has given $2,622.51 up to Tuesday noon to the annual maintenance appeal of The Salvation Army, according to an announcement by Frank L. Richardson of the Newton
Trust Company, treasurer, and W. A.
Nicol, secretary. This is a little more than half of the $5,000 requested by The Army as Newton's proportionate share of the maintenance cost of the 24 departments and institutions, homes and hospitals, by which Greater Boston is served by The Army.Edward J. Frost, chairman of the committee in charge of the appeal, states that practically all the work of the campaign is now completed. The house-to-house canvass, which was successful, is completed. The subscription lists, circulated in business and industrial establishments, are nearly all reported in.
All that remains to be finished is the letter campaign. On the 15th of last month, 4,000 campaign letters were mailed to residents of Newton; a carefully selected list being employed. As each response is received, the name is checked off the list and a receipt sent.
The list at present, according to Mr. Richardson, the treasurer, shows a great many names not checked off.
The committee requests every person in Newton who intends to give to The Army during 1929-30, to do so at once, for The Army makes but one appeal a year in Newton and there will not be another opportunity to give directly to the support of The Army's work for 12 months. The mail now is the only avenue open to continue the appeal and the committee therefore urges everyone to make a special effort the coming few days and, by sending their subscriptions to Mr. Richardson, to put the appeal over the top.

SPECIAL MUSICThe Solemn Mass in A, by Cesar Franck, will be rendered on Sunday evening, Dec. 8, at 7:15, in Trinity Church, Newton Centre, where the Rev. Dr. Edward T. Sullivan is Rector.The work will be given by the Parish Choir, under the direction of Leland A. Arnold, organist and choirmaster, assisted by Lawrence Thornton, Tenor, Virginia Farmer Birnie, 'Cello, and Mary A. Clark, Harp.This work is seldom given in Boston, with the accompanying instruments. It was sung recently in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York, under the direction of Dr. Miles Farrow.It is a composition full of beauty, abounding in lovely melodies and in the harmonies so characteristic of Franck. Cesar Franck, one of the world famous composers, is an outstanding figure among musicians, in the beauty of his music and in the quality of mysticism and lofty dignity with which he has permeated his music.Dr. Sullivan and his beautiful Gothic Church are well-known, and his choir is noted for its fine music, and this service promises to be an outstanding event. Mr. Arnold, the choirmaster, is organist of the Apollo Club, the People's Choral Union and has for some years been summer organist at St. Paul's Cathedral. He has teaching studios in Newton Centre and

The Mather Class

Prof. Kirtley F. Mather was back, after a week's absence, at the regular weekly meeting last Sunday morning of the Mather Class at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House.

The subject was "How the Hebrew Bible stopped growing." This was the third lecture in the series on Biblical Scholarship.

There are three major elements in the Old Testament: the Pentateuch, the Prophets (Major and Minor), and the Writings.

The orthodox view is that God revealed the Pentateuch in a unique way to Moses. By 44 B. C. the Scribes had got the Pentateuch together into pretty much its present form.

The prophetic works, constituting 21 Books, were completed by 200 B. C. They were not considered quite as sacred as the Pentateuch, but not very far behind.

The third division of the Old Testament comprised the inspired Writings, 13 Books in all. They were completed about 100 B. C. and constituted the rest of the Old Testament.

In the main, the message of each Prophet resembled those of his predecessors. The people had sinned, trouble had resulted, things had gone badly, even as they were in the country, some people were in captivity, and now the time had come to return to the worship of Jehovah and forget the gods of neighboring peoples. If they regained the favor of Jehovah, He would lead them back to prosperity. The Prophets were liberals and at times introduced new ideas. They were dissatisfied with things as they were.

The dominant idea was that religion was righteousness. This was entirely contrary to the ideas of other nations in Mesopotamia. Religion for these other peoples was a lazy man's paradise where you ceased from all activity and communed with nature. You lived at ease and loved a stone or mountain or image, and satisfied your senses on a low level.

Some of the Prophets did not write, any more than Jesus. They were preachers. Others were authors and composers and wrote their own material. Few had positions of technical authority. Without office in Church or State, they were recognized informally as influential leaders. They said what they pleased and criticized in no unmistakable manner. They had a double method. First they gave a reasonable presentation of a logical statement. Then they backed this up with an appeal to the emotions. They were both evangelists and historians and their work was inspired by eloquence and beauty of language. In order to appeal to the intellect, the first thing then, as now, was to go to history and see how things happened in the past. This formed the basis and the background for the argument.

Hero worship is the way to hold children's loyalty. This was the childhood of the race between 1000 and 300 B. C. The tremendous respect for Moses had to pass along to somebody else, for Moses, in the fullness of time, was gathered to the fathers, so Joshua carried on. Prof. Mather thinks that the exploits of Joshua covered 300 years and were performed by a dozen people—quite a team. Five or six of the 21 Books of the Prophets are books of history, intended to appeal to the intellect. The relationship of Jehovah to the chosen people is the theme. The moral is pointed that way. Disasters came because the people had forsaken Jehovah. A leader arose and called them back. They prospered when they rightly obeyed and truly worshipped.

Prof. Mather made a hazy and vague effort to explain Joshua's long able help from an earlier work, called the book of Jasher, but, when questioned, admitted that nothing was known about Jasher except what little was said about it in the Bible. He called this an apostrophe to the sun and moon, a flight of fancy accepted as literary fact. At the same time, with no attempt at reconciliation, he called it an actual occurrence, but that the day seemed long on account of the fact that the people were busy that day and had a lot to do. He calmly ignored the utter impossibility of a day seeming to be abnormally long when you have more to do than you think you have time for and are struggling to the utmost to get the job done within the time limit. Under those circumstances the day seems abnormally short to normal people, but not Prof. Mather. In discussing the Major and Minor Prophets, this does not mean that some were greater men than others. It merely signifies that some were longer Books, and those were called Major Prophets. There was no difference in spirituality.

Isaiah covered 250 years. First Isaiah comprises the first 31 chapters and occurred about 650 B. C. Second Isaiah came a couple of centuries later.

Along about 200 B. C. a tremendous mass of material had accumulated. Ecclesiastes says that of the making of books there is no end. While Greece was interested in science and government and Rome was concerned with conquest and the construction of palaces and baths, the Hebrews were writing. The prophetic books were set aside and sealed. Thereafter more Books appeared, such as the two oldest novels in the world (Ruth and Esther) and the drama of Job. When Job first appeared, it was attributed to Moses for publicity purposes. It was quite the fashion to pick out a notable historical character from the past and claim him as the author of one of these new Books. This new lot of Books was finished up about 100 B. C., and that completed the Hebrew Bible. For 200 years, from 100 B. C. to 100 A. D., there was much dissatisfaction with the Song of Solomon. It was finally decided to retain it as showing, not the love of men and women, but rather the love of Jehovah for His chosen people. Later on the Christians saved it as illustrating the love of Jesus for the Christian Church.

The Apocrypha covers the period from 200 B. C. to the birth of Jesus.

REAL ESTATE

The country estate at No. 110 Dudley road, Newton Centre, surrounded by the homes of several well-known Boston physicians, has been sold by Elizabeth L. McKissock to Ann H. Stewart wife of Dr. Roger E. Stewart of Cambridge.

The property consists of a ten room colonial house with three baths and approximately one and one-half acres of land. The grounds are attractively landscaped with evergreens and hardy shrubs and there is an apple orchard and a pine grove on the property.

Mrs. McKissock has taken a lease of the property from the new owner for six months. Following renovation next spring Dr. Stewart will occupy the premises as a permanent home.

This sale was negotiated through the office of George A. Dill.

and has never been accepted by the Hebrews.

The Jews felt the necessity of ruling out the Gospels about 100 A. D., so they put a definite end to further growth. Some of the later writings were kept because they had the ring of truth or a lucky turn of word which made them easily remembered. Proverbs got by, Prof. Mather explained, because they contained a lot of awfully good advice. He has the idea that there was nothing supernatural about it all, but rather the survival of the fittest of 1500 years of writing, a human writing selected for its obvious worth in a nation with a genius for expression and spiritual values, who could write as well as think, and talk as well as have glorious ideas.

The next Sunday Evening Round Table will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Winslow, in Oak Hill Village, Sunday, December 8, at 6 p. m. The Class will meet at the Baptist Church, Newton Centre. Transportation will be supplied those who do not have cars. Each lady is asked to bring sandwiches enough for two.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

COMING EVENTS

ELECTION DAY. Tuesday, December 10th, should see for the Club women of Newton the triumph of a full vote for all registered. The Newton Clubs have had the glory of saying that they are practically 100 per cent. registered. The real value of registration is proven by voting. In this manner do the citizens of a city really elect to office the men of their choice. If they do not vote, they allow the few to select the city officials, and can not expect, and should not complain, therefore, if they do not receive, from these officials due consideration of their wishes. One sees upon all sides criticism of the indifference of the voter. Women, fortunately, have been able in most instances, to report that the majority of their number exercise their voting privilege, and perform their duty as citizens. Let not the opposite of this be true this time. In fact, it would be, as has been said, a triumph to be able to say that every registered woman voted at the city election. There are plenty of opportunities to find out for whom to vote. Wise judgment, thought, keenness of perception as to intellectual qualities, honor, integrity, experience, possibly, although character and force and intellect are foremost, will point the way for a decision as to leaders, but whoever the Clubwomen vote for, VOTE ON TUESDAY, the 10th.

Monday Club

"The Concord Group" of writers is the topic for the program of the Monday Club of Newton Highlands on the afternoon of December 9th. The general study topic of American Literature for the meetings of the first part of the year for this Club takes on a more intimate and, consequently, more appealing note in the consideration of authors who have lived and worked so close to our environs and to our times. Mrs. L. H. Marsh, who gives the program, has opportunity for most interesting presentation, and she will show the charming background of old Concord, its beauty of setting, its strong characters, such as the Hoars, as well as the writers, the Alcotts, Ralph Waldo Emerson, whose poems as well as essays should be known. Thoreau, and others, who have won a special nook in the hearts and thoughts of the people about Boston, not alone for their works, but for their personalities. Besides this literary program there will be music.

Mrs. Muri S. Wallace is hostess for this meeting at her home 73 Fisher avenue.

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

The third and last presentation of Siegfried's "American Comes of Age" will be given by Mrs. Mark Ward for the program of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. on Monday afternoon, December 9th. The Club has been analyzing this book for three meetings' programs, and its contents have been part of their year's course of study of "Great Books, Great Men, Great Problems, and Great Doctrines." Mrs. Ernest G. Hapgood opens her home at 4 Chester street, for this meeting.

Newton Community Club

On Thursday, December 12th, at 2:30 p. m., the regular meeting of the Newton Community Club will be held in the Underwood School hall. The speaker of the afternoon will be Mr. Alton Hall Blackington who will give an illustrated lecture on "The Romance of News Gathering."

Following the meeting there will be two sales—one a food sale and the other a Christmas Gift sale. It is to be hoped that each member will buy one gift for Christmas and will procure some cooked food.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Only one meeting being held in December, the Christmas Party of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club will be enjoyed in the Kindergarten rooms somewhat early in the month on the evening of Monday, the 9th, of December.

As it is always more blessed to give than receive, especially at the Christmas season, a contribution will be made for the Veterans' Christmas Stocking Fund.

Each member is asked to bring a gift for the Surprise basket—not to exceed 25 cents in cost and, if possible, to have a rhyme with the package. Carols will be sung during the evening, and refreshments served by the Hospitality committee.

Club members are asked to notice the change of date from first to second Monday for this month.

Auburndale Review Club

At the next regular meeting of the Auburndale Review Club, to be held Tuesday morning, December 10th, at 10 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. George E. Martin, of 86 Hancock street, Mrs. George W. St. Amant will discuss "Our Relations with Canada"; Mrs. J. Franklin Rider will present "The Venezuelan Dispute"; and Mrs. Arthur C. Farley will tell of "Hay and China."

Waban Woman's Club

On Tuesday, December 10th, Miss Eunice Avery will give the last of her series of Current Events lectures at the Union Church, at 10:15 o'clock. As usual Miss Avery's lectures have been enjoyed by many of the Waban Woman's Club and have proved to be most comprehensive, instructive and stimulating.

STATE FEDERATION

RADIO. "The Christmas Spirit in Books" is the topic which Mrs. Carl L. Schrader—the "Book Lady"—will broadcast from WNAC next Wednesday morning, December 11th, at 11:30 o'clock. Mrs. M. H. Gulesian, pianist and composer, assisted by Suzanne Elmanson, soprano, will be on the air at 11:40, with original interpretations. Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon, chairman of Legislation, may be heard at 11:50 on "Current Legislative Measures."

CHRISTMAS—is in the air from every State chairman. Their appeals are well worth consideration by Clubwomen—more, some of them stir the heart, and should appeal not only to the Clubwoman but to her Club husband, who can aid by opening his purse and heart strings simultaneously.

Mrs. Albert Bradley Carter, chairman of Social Welfare, shows into what avenues they may go and lighten burdens: Little Johnny in the hospital ward fighting for life; Aunt Mary in the almshouse, alone almost forgotten; Frank, young, broken, spending his first Christmas behind prison bars; brave little Jane, a nine-year-old drudge struggling so hard to make her father and the boys happy since mother went away; Henry, still blind, his courageous fighting almost forgotten in the long years since the war. Each may feel a lifting of dismay, if only for a day, if Clubwomen will seek some of these out.

Mrs. Paul A. Peters, chairman of Co-operation with War Veterans calls attention to the Exchange at 385 Boylston street, Boston, where articles made by disabled soldiers may be found that will just fill the need for a gift, and, at the same time, aid in sending back to these men the fund that maintains their self-respect and morale.

Mrs. Fred B. Cross, chairman of Community Service, shows a delightful way that Clubwomen can help in this field—perhaps there is no more timely reminder of the need for help, than the Christmas season. Illness, death, unemployment where the school girls needs clothing; sick children's magazines; a toy, a book, a muffler, or other warm articles for boy or girl; and, finally, not to forget, mother, worn, discouraged, some kitchen curtains, old cloth, a dependable clock, warm bedding, a plant—all small Christmas joys—but joys so inexpensive if the Clubwoman would only think, then seek them out. And the quiet, almost forgotten little old ladies and old men, too, with their bitter-sweet memories in the old folks' homes! Perhaps a sweet chord of the memory harp could be struck by a timely kindness.

And, lastly, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge's reminder as to Christmas greens, saving the laurel; giving joy to all beholders in the living Christmas tree, instead of the one cut to be soon cast out; and the other most vital conservation that affects human life—the birds. Feeding them, through the hard winter days, not only brings reward in their service in ridding of pests, but a nearer and daily reward in the enjoyment of their taming. Her suggestion that children be incited to this joyous task is a wise one, for their reward will indeed be great in seeing the Chickadee and Junco respond, as well as in learning the greater lesson of friendship and helpfulness.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The Newton Centre Woman's Club has this year formed a new Committee to relieve the Treasurer of one of her former duties. It is called the "Flower Mission" and is in charge of Mrs. Edward A. Andrews. Through this committee flowers are sent or a message is written to a Club member, as the case may require, and the flowers for table decorations at the Clubhouse are always sent to some member who is ill.

On December 12th at 10:30 a. m., Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole will hold the second class in the course in Current Events.

The Dramatic committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club has practically completed the arrangements for, and the casting of a play entitled "Mrs. Bumstead-Leigh," to be given in January. Mrs. Elsie played this at one time. The chairman of this committee is Mrs. M. P. Ford, and she is assisted by Mrs. Howard Bartlett, Mrs. F. H. Colony, Mrs. Douglas Francis, Mrs. William Maccurda, Mrs. A. E. Roys, Mrs. W. H. Brackett, Mrs. Foster Cousins, Mrs. Harold Keller, Mrs. Willis Pattison, Mrs. William Stensiek, and Mrs. George Wright.

To correct an erroneous impression, the Newton Centre Woman's Club wishes it known that the "Sinclair Weeks Rally" held in the Clubhouse on Wednesday evening, December 4th, was not held under Club auspices but by the Weeks Campaign Committee. This Club has always been non-partisan and non-sectarian.

On December 11th, the Junior Woman's Club will hold its second business meeting, with Miss Hannah L. Bond presiding. Following the meeting, tea will be served.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club of Newton will hold its regular meeting on Wednesday, December 11th, at the Hunnewell Club, at 10 o'clock.

Dr. H. H. Powers will give the paper of the morning. His subject will be "The Italian."

The hostesses are Miss Dorothy S. Emmons and Mrs. Hayward Rolfe.

Auburndale Woman's Club

Miss Hortense Creed will give a dramatic reading of "Seventh Heaven" to the Auburndale Woman's Club at the Clubhouse on Thursday, December 12th.

This reading will follow a business meeting, when Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole will deliver a message from the General Federation of Woman's Clubs. Tea will be served.

Club members should note that Mrs. Poole comes to the Club on the 12th, instead of on the 5th as previously announced.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Club members are asked to note the special meeting of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club called by the Executive Board for Friday, December 13th, for consideration of the Foundation Fund of the General Federation. The meeting will be held in the Workshop at 2:30 o'clock.

The Club is to have the honor of having this work explained by the General Federation director, Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter, former State president.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Mr. Frank Grebe of the Second Congregational Church of Newton will give a talk, on the impressions he received during his travels through Egypt, before the Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, on Monday, December 9th, at 2:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Ethel Leach, of 79 Adella avenue. Mrs. John Shade Franklin will assist the hostess.

Miss Geraldine Gordon, of the Hathaway Book Shop of Wellesley, will talk on "Books of the Day," before the West Newton Women's Educational Club, on Friday, December 13th, at the Unitarian Parish House.

The program is sponsored by the Literature committee, Mrs. Alvah Jordan, chairman.

There will be music. Tea and a social hour follows.

Shakespeare Club

Mrs. James F. Cooper, of 2 Kings-ton road, entertains the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands on Saturday, December 14th, at 2:00 p. m.

The play for the afternoon's consideration is Shakespeare's first original tragedy, "Romeo and Juliet," a tragedy of love and misunderstanding. (Continued on Page 11)

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

A decided innovation was the program of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club, on the evening of November 25th, in the Emerson School Hall, when Miss Tumshals, of the Jordan Marsh Company, gave a Fashion Show of the new silhouette styles for street, sport, afternoon, and evening, with their accompanying accessories, coats, hats, scarfs, umbrellas, and, in the case of afternoon and evening gowns, necklaces, as well as hose and slippers. These styles were shown for the school miss of fourteen up to the styles for the mature figure and those of white hair.

About a dozen members and daughters of members of the Club served as models for the interesting and pretty costumes displayed.

An orchestra under the direction of Mr. Walter Martin played during the evening, and Miss Mildred MacDonald sang several solos.

Mrs. William H. Warren, chairman for the evening, was assisted by Mrs. Arthur F. Martin, and several Club members as ushers and at the door as ticket takers.

Auburndale Review Club

Stephen Benet, in his "John Brown," refers to the third game in our Civil War, the first and second being the West and East, as the watchers overseas. It was this third phase that Mrs. Frank F. Davidson presented most interestingly in her discussion of "Civil War Problems with England and France" at the Review Club meeting this last Tuesday morning. With constant danger of European intervention facing us for two years, with Queen Victoria proclaiming neutrality for an England divided between commerce and cotton interests, and England and France agreeing to work together, the crisis of our relations with England came in the Trent affair, and our Ambassador Adams had difficult problems to face in London. More is owed to him, in his handling of that affair, and of building of rebel cruisers in England, than is generally realized. A change of sentiment toward the close of 1862, in spite of English suffering; a whole-hearted approval by the English middle-class of the Emancipation Proclamation, and a final forcing, by Adams, of the control by that government of the shipbuilding, brought us safely through critical and delicate problems to a final feeling of friendship.

A continuation of some of these problems was presented by Mrs. C. W. Blood, in telling of the final settlement of the Alabama Claims, and the Treaty of Washington. English treachery, in allowing the Alabama, No. 290, to escape, was keenly felt by the North, and after various attempts, the final solution came under Grant in 1871, with the appointment of a High Commission, and the Treaty of Washington of 1873, made a great social affair in our capital. Much is owed, in that settlement, to Hamilton Fish.

Last week's study of Alaskan problems was continued by Miss Haskell, in telling of later developments, from 1867-1911. The early trade by a San Francisco company, and the question of ownership of Bering Strait, the protection of seals, and later the Klondike claims, were all settled in favor of the United States in 1903. And, on the other side of the continent, the Hague Tribunal settled fishery disputes in Newfoundland.

Playing of two piano selections by Mrs. Nelson Freeman added much to the enjoyment of the morning's program.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Newtonville Woman's Club had a most delightful afternoon at its regular meeting on Tuesday afternoon, when Branson de Con presented his remarkable "Dream Pictures of North African Wonders," a musical Travelogue illustrated by beautiful colored pictures which he himself had taken on a trip two years ago. A tour of Tunisia, Algeria and Morocco gave glimpses of the Arab life of the Desert, the walled cities, the market places, the beautiful gardens and the oases of the Sahara. The music by the Ampico added greatly to the artistic effect of the whole.

At this meeting each year the Club takes up its contribution for its annual Christmas party for fifty underprivileged children living in the Newtons. Miss Marion Bassett made an appeal speaking of the needs of the children, and seven little girls, daughters of Club members passed the basket. They were: Virginia Kyle, Barbara Patey, Peggy Sloane, Betty Burrows, Ruth Jones, Betty Southworth, and Elsie Mergendahl. Mrs. Charles A. Rouillard, of 47 Page road, has this party in charge and would be very glad to receive gifts of toys and clothing especially overcoats.

TEL. CO. ENLARGING CENTRAL OFFICE

Evidence of the growth in the telephone business in the Newton North and Middlesex Central Office is visible in the addition of the new building on the Central Office building on Elmwood street, West Newton.

This new addition will be 32 x 31 feet and will consist of a basement and one story. The construction of this addition is similar to the present building. Upon its completion, five new sections will be added to the present switch-board, making provision ultimately for thirty one additional operators. Of this number, twenty-two operators will handle calls originating from the Newton North and Middlesex subscribers and nine operators will handle calls coming from other local exchanges.

According to Manager Richard J. Davis, on November 1 of this year, there were 12,594 telephones connected with the Newton North and Middlesex Central Office switch-board. This is a net gain of 526 telephones since January 1, 1929, and is something of a criterion of the progressive growth in this area. At the present time, the Telephone Company is handling 60,000 calls originating in the Newton North and Middlesex area each day, which is several thousand more than last year.

Subscribers in Newton North and Middlesex can now reach from their own telephone, 28,000,000 other telephones or 80% of the total number in the world. This means that practically anyone anywhere can talk with anyone else, clearly, speedily and economically.

"A Telephone Service to the Nation" becomes broader in its conception every day until it is truly becoming a continuing telephone service to the nation and between nations.

D. A. R.

The annual Christmas party of the Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter D. A. R. will take place on the afternoon of December 10th at the home of Mrs. J. W. Foster, 1058 Walnut street, Newton Highlands. Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. W. M. Brown, Mrs. E. E. Fewkes, Miss Madeline Foster, Mrs. R. J. Henderson and Mrs. H. H. Wadwell. Mrs. Corabelle G. Francis, an authority on Legion affairs, will speak on "Rehabilitation." Music will be furnished by the Legion Auxiliary Chorus. Mrs. R. J. Henderson, chairman of the World War Service Committee, will receive all donations of money and useful articles for the veterans.

GIRL SCOUTS

On Friday evening, December 6th, at 7:30 P. M. the Mid-year Get-together of the Newton Girl Scouts will be held in the Auditorium of the Newton High School. Following the opening, group singing will be led by Miss Eloise Barber, of Newton. A very interesting ceremony will be held in connection with the awarding of Five and Ten Year Service stripes; two ten year stripes are to be awarded, one to Miss Barber, and the second to Mrs. Walton S. Redfield, who has served Newton Scouts long and faithfully in many capacities, and always most efficiently. She has been a Lieutenant, Captain of Troop 20, member at large on the Council, Captain of our very successful Corps, and Chairman of the Camp Committee, which 1st two offices she still holds. The main part of the evening's program will be a series of tableaux representing "The Making of a Golden Eaglet," the work for Tenderfoot, Second Class, and First Class Scouts will be shown, as well as the various Merit Badges which the Golden Eaglet must hold. During the tableaux, Miss Ruth Ufford will be at the piano. The climax of the evening will be the awarding of the Letter of Commendation to Miss Allison Thorogood, Troop 13, Newton Centre, by Mrs. Raymond R. Collins, Deputy Commissioner for Newton, and the presenting of the Golden Eaglet pin to Scout Virginia Brown, Troop 20, Newton, Scout Mary Stephen, and Elsie Brandt, Troop 14, Waban. This ceremony will be performed by Mrs. Charles Stevens, of Wellesley. All Scouts will receive the Merit Badges they have earned so far this year, and the audience will see, from the tableaux just what interesting and useful things these awards stand for. This program is open to the parents and friends of Girl Scouts.

The "Treasure Hunt" Staff held a meeting December 2nd, at which they decided to publish the magazine on the 15th of each month. The Christmas number was outlined, and material for this issue is due at Headquarters Monday, December 9th.

Newton Headquarters can give many gift suggestions for Girl Scouts, and Girl Scout gifts may be ordered through our office, and will be procured in ample time for Christmas.

The Leaders' Course met Wednesday morning, December 4th. Miss Moore gave some work and games for First Class Signalling, and Miss Freeman passed on Tenderfoot and Second Class work, as several members of the course wish to be invested at the last meeting of the course, next week.

Several villages are working on Christmas Shops, the exact dates of which will be published next week; they promise some delightful wreaths and greens as well as novel and attractive gifts.

Troop 10, Newtonville, had an investiture Monday, December 2nd, at which Betty Kobrock and Eleanor McCarey received Second Class badges and Elinor Brown was made a First Class Scout.

The Newton Bugle and Drum Corps will make its first public appearance at the Get-Together Friday night; there are many new members and a successful season is prophesied.

THE FIRST NATIONAL MINT

The first public building to be erected by the United States Government was the National mint at Philadelphia. This was built under the direction of President Washington in 1792. It can be justly called the birthplace of our national coinage, for it was the sole mint until 1835 when Congress created several other branches.

Each requirement of every service is carefully considered by our experienced and courteous staff.

Recent Deaths

HON. SAMUEL L. POWERS

Hon. Samuel Leland Powers, a leading citizen of Newton for 48 years, died suddenly Saturday night at his home, 96 Arlington street, Newton. He was born at Cornish, New Hampshire, October 26, 1848, the son of Larned and Ruby M. Powers. He graduated from Dartmouth College in 1874 and had been president of his class since graduation. He was a trustee of the college from 1905 to 1915. He studied law at New York University, was admitted to the bar in 1875 and the following year became a law partner with his classmate, Samuel McCall, who later became Governor of Massachusetts. In 1902 Mr. Powers was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States and all Federal courts.

Mr. Powers took an active part in social and political affairs in this city from the time he took up his residence here. He was a member of the City Council from 1883 to 1887, serving as President in 1885 and 1886. He also served on the Newton School Committee. In 1900 he was elected a member of Congress from the district which included Newton. He was re-elected in 1902 but declined re-nomination in 1904. While in Congress he served on the Judiciary Committee, was one of the managers selected by the House to prosecute the Swayne impeachment trial before the United States Senate and gained fame as one of the organizers and president of the Tantalus Club, comprised of the newer members of the House. He was an intimate friend of Presidents Roosevelt and Taft, managing the latter's campaign in Massachusetts in 1908. He was a member of the Massachusetts Constitutional Convention in 1917, 1918 and 1919, served on the Massachusetts Board of Education in 1918 and 1919 and was a trustee of the Boston Elevated Railway from 1918 to 1923. He had been a prominent member of the Boston Art Club, the old Newton Club, the Middlesex Bar Association and the Middlesex Republican Club, and was affiliated with the Algonquin, Exchange, University and Hunnewell Clubs. In 1925 he was the author of "Portraits of 50 Years" was published, chronicling important events and personages between the years 1874 and 1924.

As a young man Mr. Powers did reportorial work on the New York Times and Boston Globe and while attending college taught school during the summer seasons on Cape Cod. While engaged in this work he met Eva Crockett of East Dennis, who became his wife. She survives him. He is also survived by one son, Leland Powers of Chestnut Hill.

In 1925 over 400 of Mr. Powers' friends, most members of the legal profession, tendered him a reception commemorating his 50th anniversary as a member of the Massachusetts bar.

His funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at Channing Unitarian Church, Newton, Rev. Chester A. Drummond officiating. The service was delivered by Rev. Adelbert A. Hudson, a former minister of Channing Church. Miss Ruth Tilton, organist, played selections and the Schubert Quartet sang "Lead, Kindly Light" and "Abide With Me." The edifice was filled with hundreds of friends and business associates of the deceased. The beautiful floral tributes were so numerous as to make the platform a mass of blooms and greenery and were banked about the pulpit.

The honorary pallbearers included Edward K. Hall, of New York, Vice President of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company; Matt B. Jones of Newton Centre, President of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company; Albert E. Pillsbury, of New York, former President of the Generalists of Massachusetts; Frank N. Parsons of Franklin, New Hampshire, former Chief Justice of the New Hampshire Supreme Court; James F. Jackson, Russell A. Sears, Robert P. Clapp, Edwin T. Fearing, Gen. John H. Sherburne and Henry Tolman. The delegation representing the Middlesex County Bar Association included Frederic N. Wier, Frank Kaan, Theodore Eaton, Francis W. Smith, Robert Clapp, William Wilson, George Mayberry and Frank M. Forbush. The delegation from the Bar Association of the City of Boston comprised George R. Nutter, H. Ware Barnum, Henry E. Bellew and James D. Colt. Burial was in Newton Cemetery. The delegation from the Clavin Guards Veterans Association included Frank L. Nagle, Ex-Mayor Bothfield and Richard Cunningham.

WILLARD DALRYMPLE

Willard Dalrymple of 52 Crescent avenue, Newton Centre died on December 1. He was born in Bath, Maine, August 2, 1850, a direct descendant of Philip de la Noye, a French Huguenot who emigrated from Leyden, Holland to Plymouth in 1621 and was the founder of the Delano family in America. In 1874 Mr. Dalrymple became assistant office manager for Thomas E. Proctor of Boston and in 1894 he became one of the trustees of Mr. Proctor's business under the terms of the latter's will. He served in these capacities for 55 years until illness compelled his retirement. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Julia Dalrymple and two sons, Philip W. Dalrymple of Newton Centre and Dr. Sidney C. Dalrymple of Brookline. His funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at Mount Auburn Cemetery Chapel. Rev. Charles N. Arbutnot of the First Baptist Church officiated and cello solos were played by Miss Charlotte White. The deceased had resided in this city for nine years.

In Anglo-Saxon days the English parliamentary body was known as the Witenagemot, or assembly of "wise men." This body made the laws, levied the taxes and acted as a supreme court of justice.

Perhaps A Ladies' Bloc.
No Machine Made Life.
To Boom Good Times.
When A Man Scribbles.

THERE may be a "ladies' bloc" in the senate. Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick will be a candidate from Illinois. Mrs. Pratt, efficient lady from New York, may decide to show, as senator, that a woman can equal Roscoe Conkling or Tom Platt.

In Massachusetts, Mrs. Sayre, daughter of Woodrow Wilson, may be a candidate on the democratic ticket. Bryan's daughter, Ruth Owen, of Florida, may also try for the senate.

Those three Ruths, McCormick, Pratt and Owen, would surely feel, at first, like Ruth and the alien corn.

What name could Senator Moses find for them? "The Ruthless Ruths," perhaps.

Also Mrs. Nellie T. Ross, formerly governor of her state, may decide that the U. S. senate is the nation's best club. She is an able young woman, extremely "easy to look at," and there are other ladies threatening the monopoly of those sons of the wild and tame.

Illinois is expected to give Mrs. McCormick a big vote, partly because the state is dissatisfied with masculine senators, as a class, convinced that they have not done much lately. Mrs. Schlesinger, formerly of Chicago, says so. She ought to know. Her grandfather was Joseph Medill. She should be in the senate, by the way. To say that she has as much ability as any one of the three rustling Ruths, is putting it moderately.

E. E. Free, able engineer, says 1930 will see electric houses, lighted with artificial sunlight, weather arranged as prescribed by the doctor, like a baby's modified milk, no windows, sound proof and electrically ventilated. The sound proof suggestion is welcome, and the rest not.

Men are, physically speaking, animals. They want the sun shining irregularly, the air blowing through. They want to come in and go out as they did in the cave days, and do not want the inside made like the outside.

Science tells us one day we shall eat all the food we need condensed into a few small pills. We say:

"No; give us good, artistic cooking, let us cultivate the globe and enjoy all its products."

Men, when emancipated from industrial slavery by machinery and intelligence, will demand a real life, real freedom. Not a machine-made imitation of life. We may change to food of pills and homes without windows in 1,000,000 years—but let us hope not.

Insult, of Chicago; Cortelyou, of New York, and Owen D. Young, of Europe, New York and everywhere, have seen the president. They and other industrial stars promise the president to cooperate in his admirable undertaking, promotion of new enterprises, wise spending of money and creation of jobs.

Their promise is no small one, for they agree to spend eighteen hundred million dollars on one program.

What the country needs, if it really needs anything beyond common sense, is to spend part of the money we have, and we have hundreds of billions of it. On past occasions this country has stood petrified, unable to move, like a man watching his horse burn down, unable to use his legs or hands.

You admire Japanese wisdom when you read "Japan will proceed cautiously in connection with the Russian invasion of Chinese territory."

Japan feels about Asia as we do about America. No Japanese-Asiatic Monroe Doctrine has been formulated, but Japan does not like westerners intruding in Asia.

However, the Japanese know that the Russia of today is not that of the czars, grand dukes and other incompetents. Russia is governed by the power of the Russian nation, as in Peter's time, not by royal accidents of birth.

Wisely, Japan will proceed slowly. Another Japanese-Russian war would not be like the last.

You might buy of autograph dealers a signature of Herbert Hoover on a sheet of paper with many little queer, geometrical diagrams scratched on the paper while listening to a visitor.

Those diagrams usually mean that the man making them is not listening "very hard."

If Rockefeller or Ford called to tell the president of a plan to put ten million men to work at good wages, he would listen and wouldn't do any scribbling as he listened.

When you talk and a man scribbles, make it short. He isn't much interested.

There are only a few thousand airplanes in America. Recently two of them struck and damaged houses, with serious danger to many lives, in addition to killing one pilot. One house was set on fire. What will happen when millions of planes are roaring above? Now is the time to regulate flying, the rights and limitations of those that use the air paths.

FORMER STATE OFFICIAL SPEAKS

The Hon. Albert Perkins Langtry, former Secretary of the Commonwealth and now a resident of Newton, occupied the pulpit of the Channing Unitarian Church, Newton, last Sunday morning, speaking on "Traitors to the Church." Mr. Langtry said in part:

"There are 168 hours in a week and the church asks for one. Of the Protestants in America, only one in four goes to church and as twice as many women as men attend divine services, only one man in eight goes to church. This is a scandal. Most of my life, I lived in Springfield and the average attendance at my church was 250. On one rainy Sunday, there were just 37 present, including the minister, sexton, organist and choir of four, all of whom were paid to be there. Not one of the absent members would have lost a dance, a theatre or a dinner party on account of the weather. I would like to have a 'go-to-church' committee ring every door bell in every city and town and beg the people to go to church."

"There are 27,000,000 children who never attended Sunday school and starting wrong they will grow up wrong. The automobile and golf are the worst enemies of the church and I think it is a crime to keep tens of thousands of boys out of Sunday School by employing them as caddies."

"I visited my daughter in Fort William, Canada, a number of years ago and I found Plymouth of three hundred years ago right over again. Everyone went to church. In the town of Campbell, Missouri, the people tried to get every one to go to church one Sunday and succeeded in having an attendance of 95 per cent. If you could do that in Newton you would not have half enough churches to hold the people."

"The clergyman is the most overworked and underpaid man in the world. You pay dry goods clerks more than the average salary of clergymen. Anyone of you men will take friends to the Parker House and spend five dollars for lunch, but if you put a five dollar bill on the plate you would drop dead from heart disease. In this country today, we have a Parisian Sunday and it is a disgrace. I believe in the 18th amendment and if any one present does not, I don't care a cent. Abraham Lincoln was the greatest man that ever lived and the greatest advocate of temperance."

HUNNEWELL CLUB

One of the most entertaining parties in several years was held on Wednesday evening at the Hunnewell Club with nearly two hundred members and guests on deck to "sail" on the "S.S. Hunnewell." Once the voyage had gotten under way with Hal C. Curtis, captain; A. W. Blakemore, purser; Dr. S. N. Loveland, Chief Steward; E. C. Olds, Pony Steward; C. E. Morrow, Deck Steward; P. S. Jamieson, Game Steward; and H. D. Lloyd, Chief Engineer; an enjoyable time was had by all.

Donald Root won the most "money" on the horse races which were held similar to those on board a real ocean-going liner, the horses moving the same number of spaces as showed on a thrown die. Margaret Webber won the potato race for women. The third event was entitled "Are You There, Casey?" and was one of the biggest hits of the evening. Two men were blindfolded and then laid down on a mat. A cracker was placed on the head of each and a roll of paper placed in their hands with which they were to try to break the cracker on their opponent's head. Roger Tyler was the most successful combatant and was awarded the prize. Frank Dennison proved himself to be the most adept at lighting a cigarette and at threading a needle when the two were combined in a feature race. Mrs. James Melcher was the victor in the cracker-eating contest. The bean races were won by Miss Eleanor Gibbs and Carl Thorquist. A race between the two was then put on with Mr. Thorquist the victor. The suit case race provided the on-lookers with many more laughs. Four of the men lined up, divested themselves of their coats, vests, ties and shoes and deposited them in a suit case. On the signal they ran to the other end of the room and, with their backs turned, awaited the return signal. Meanwhile others opened the suit cases and mixed the clothes up. The winner was the one who first found his clothes and put them on. Albert Walker was returned the victor.

Everett Crawford was the hero of the tug-of-war. Several of the men grouped together on one end of the rope and permitted themselves to be blindfolded. Others took up their stanchions on the opposite end and after their opponents had been blindfolded they made fast their end of the rope. After the rope was made fast the blinds were taken off all except Mr. Crawford who strove to pull the club-house down. Finally one of the hostesses took pity on his plight and removed the blind. Shuffle board play was begun but was abruptly halted when the cry arose that the ship was sinking. The party adjourned for refreshments.

The success of the evening was due to the committee which included Mrs. E. O. Loring, Mrs. Carl Peirce, Mrs. F. P. Schofield, Miss Edith Jamieson, Frank P. Schofield and Peter Turchon. The hall was tastefully decorated in realistic fashion with pen-pennants, steamship posters, and decorative screens. A big part of the realism was the ship's bell which was used often. The judges of the events were W. F. Garcelon, Philip Nichols, J. B. Jamieson, Haywood Rolfe, C. C. Smith and W. F. Gregory.

WILLIAM P. CROWLEY

Mr. William P. Crowley of Central avenue, Upper Falls, died Sunday, December 1st, at his home. Mr. Crowley, who has been ill for over a year, was 55 years old and was born in East Needham.

He is survived by one sister and three brothers. Funeral services were held from his home at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning followed by a solemn high mass of requiem at 9 o'clock at the Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church, by the Rev. Richard Burke.

Mr. Crowley was a member of the Newton Council, Knights of Columbus, and the Bishop Cheverus Assembly who sent delegations.

Burial was in Needham Cemetery.

ROTARY CLUB

The regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club of Newton was held Monday, at 12:15, at the Woodland Golf Club, President Charles D. Ansley presiding.

The speaker of the day was James Edward Peabody, A.M. who is head of the Department of Biology at the Morris High School in New York City, and was introduced to the Club by Irving O. Palmer, Principal of the Newton High School.

Mr. Peabody took as his subject, "The Conquest of Yellow Fever." His talk was illustrated with pictures principally from Cuba, where the experiments to determine the cause of yellow fever were carried on. He explained further that it was definitely found that yellow fever was caused by mosquitoes and that at the present time this terrible disease has been practically wiped out of Cuba, as well as the Canal Zone, which was mostly affected.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Brimblecom left Sunday for DeLand, Florida, where they will spend the winter.

HOUSE BURNED AT NEWTON

Fire in the house at 16 Russell road, Newton early Saturday morning caused the family of Edward A. Ryan Jr. to flee hastily from their home and gave the firemen several hours' work. The fire was discovered shortly before 3 a. m. and an alarm sounded from Box 125. The blaze was supposed to have started in a barrel of oily rags in the cellar and it spread to the first floor. The damage is estimated at about $1000. The building is owned by M. Kashikian of Cypress street, Watertown.

At 10:22 a. m. last Saturday Box 527 was pulled for a fire on the roof of the house at 74 Windsor road, Waban, owned by Albert Gould and occupied by K. H. Goss. The blaze was caused by sparks from a chimney and the damage is estimated at $1000.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE—NEWTON

Clara Bow is coming to the all-talking screen at the Paramount next week—in the role of an ambitious shop girl in a play of department store life, "The Saturday Night Kid."

She falls in love with a clerk in the store, James Hall, and dreams of the day when they will be married when a series of upsetting events force her to pose as a "Saturday Night Kid," namely a girl who has a date with a different "guy" on each succeeding Saturday night; in other words, a girls without a "steady." But her reputation as a gay philanderer is dissolved later in the plot when the true test of real love comes.

One of the high spots of comedy in this bang-up, slang-up laugh-romance is the pageant given by the employees for the Welfare Fund.

On the same bill will be Greta Garbo in her all American role in "The Single Standard." Playing opposite Miss Garbo will be Niles Asther and a very able cast. Real entertainment is assured those seeing this picture.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, a different type programme will be shown with Rod La Rocque in "Delightful Rogue," with Rita La Roy. This is the first sound picture of the sea. The story is a thrilling adventure in the south seas. On the same programme will be seen Marion Davies in "Marianne" this is her first talking picture. Lawrence Gray, Cliff Edwards and Benny Rubin. Ten new musical numbers are introduced in this picture.

Thanksgiving "Good Turns"

Troops, 1, 4A, 4B, 5, 7, 9, 10, 11, 13, 14, 15, 16, 18, 19 and 21 provided or made possible Thanksgiving dinners for about twenty families whose names were supplied to the Council by the Newton Welfare Bureau.

On Tuesday afternoon, Scouts from Troop 4B, Newton Highlands, helped the staff of the Welfare Bureau arrange and sort food contributions from all over the city, preparatory to making up the baskets. On Tuesday evening, Scouts from Troop 2 and 15, Auburndale, helped the Bureau staff in assembling the food and actually making up the baskets.

Miss Chapin, General Secretary of the Bureau, expressed her thanks and appreciation for the splendid service of the Scouts who contributed dinners and who aided in preparing and making up the baskets.

Leaders' "Training" Dinner

On Thursday evening, Scout Leaders from Troops in the Council attended a dinner, prepared by Scout Commissioner John M. Bierer, at the Newton Centre Women's Club, who, as in the past, kindly gave the use of the Club. The Commissioner cooked the turkey and all the "fixins" and the men, about fifty present, pronounced it 100%, like all the Commissioner's dinners.

In addition to a brief discussion of the Patrol Leaders' Conference, planned for January 4, 1930 and the Merit Badge Show, to be held on February 7 and 8 at the State Armory, West Newton, Major M. D. Mawie spoke. Major Mawie is the representative of the Chief Scout of the World and the founder of the great Boy Scout Movement, Lord Robert Baden-Powell, in this country. He spoke on Scouting and the Patrol System.

At the Nobscot Reservation

Now that the snow has come, the usual plans for establishing feeding stations for the birds will be carried out by the Rangers on the Reservation. This station is a cleared space on the ground, kept cleared, and away from juniper or other cover where the foxes and other predatory animals might hide and seize the birds while feeding.

The Ranger reports he has seen several deer on and near the Reservation, one nearly the size of a moose of the Maine woods. These deer, as well as the other wild life, seem to sense that they are safe from hunters on the Nobscot Reservation and they come there in increasing numbers.

The Cabins at Nobscot

Troop 3, Nonantum, has its big sectional log cabin, 18 by 24 feet with a seven foot porch, complete and practically ready for occupancy.

Troop 15, Auburndale, has its Maine-woods log cabin nearly completed. This week-end the Scouts, under Scoutmaster Arthur L. Shaw, will begin boarding in the roof and laying the floor. It will be ready for occupancy a little later in the season.

Troop 20, Newton Centre, is now considering the type of cabin they will build and doubtless construction will be started during the present camping season.

Troop 7, West Newton, M. P. Gaddis, Scoutmaster, reports that they now have a fine heating stove in their cabin, which was made possible thru the generous donation of Mr. Harold Achorn, father of one of the Scouts in the Troop. Mr. J. P. Davis, local plumber and member of the Troop 7 Committee took his time on Thanksgiving, with Mr. A. C. Blunt, Jr., Chairman of the Troop Committee to help get the stove to the cabin and to set it up, as a donation to the Troop. Mr. W. Tomlinson, a local hardware merchant and father of one of the Scouts secured the stove at wholesale cost. Mr. Loomis, member of the Troop Committee presented and had installed a radio set at the cabin and keeps it supplied with tubes. And the Scouts of Troop 7 and visiting Scouts, who call on them, enjoy the radio on cold and stormy nights at the Reservation, when outdoor work is impossible. Mr. A. C. Blunt, Jr., Chairman of the Troop Committee and Mr. Frank I. Rounds, Chairman of the Camping Division of the Troop Committee, have planned and are carrying out an excellent over-night camping program, calling upon the men of West Newton to accompany groups of Scouts on over-night trips.

Get Out The Vote Campaign

KIWANIS CLUB

The monthly business meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club was held on December 3rd at the Newton Centre Women's Club, President Walter Whelan presiding. In view of the club business to be transacted the usual address was omitted. The report of the treasurer was presented by Treasurer William Cahill and indicates a satisfactory financial condition. Chairman Frank Perkins of the Interclub Relations Committee announced that the Newton Club would visit the Brookline Club on Tuesday December 10th as part of the Interclub program.

In the absence of Rev. Maurice Bullock chairman of the sick and welfare committee a detailed report of the work of that committee was presented by Robert A. Vachon. Final report by the Ladies Committee of returns from the Barn Party held in Elks' Hall on November 25th was presented showing that a substantial sum was realized for the charitable work of the club. It was voted to express the thanks of the club to the Ladies Committee under the leadership of Mrs. Florence Whelan for the fine service rendered to the club.

Tuesday, December 10th being election day the Newton Club will meet with the Brookline Club at the Hotel Beaconsfield at 12:30. Members of the Newton Kiwanis Club were urged to manifest their interest in the city's welfare by voting at the City election. In the State and City elections last year the entire membership voted and it is hoped that an equally good record will be made this year.

REV. McVEIGH HARRISON HERE

A large congregation greeted the Celebrated Missioner at St. Mary's last Sunday. He celebrated the Holy Eucharist at 7:30 a. m., conducted the Children's Mission at 9:30 a. m., and preached a powerful sermon at 10:45 a. m., and conducted the Evening Service and preached again at 7:45 p. m.

He will preach every evening this week at 7:45 p. m., as well as to women every day at 10:15 a. m. and children every day except Saturday at 4:00 p. m.

Next Sunday he will preach morning and evening and the Series will close with the service at 7:45. It is a great privilege to hear this gifted man and all are welcome at all services.

LEAVING FOR EGYPT, HOLY LAND AND MEDITERRANEAN

Sailing direct from Boston on the popular White Star Line S.S. "Adriatic" (24,500 tons), Jan. 19, for a 63-day Cruise-Tour, party will visit Northern Africa, Egypt, and the Holy Land, Turkey and Greece, returning via Italy, Switzerland, France and England, with liberal sightseeing. The tour includes all expenses at a moderate rate. To appreciate the wonders of this Cruise-Tour you really must read the detailed illustrated itinerary, gladly sent on request to Clarence C. Colpitts, Colpitts Tourist Company, 262 Washington street, Boston.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

Several prominent Newton matrons are lending their support to the illustrated lecture by William Beebe, famous scientist and author, as well as delightful lecturer, entitled "Jungle Days in British Guiana" to be presented for the first time anywhere at the Hotel Statler, Boston, Saturday afternoon, December 7, at 3 o'clock, and to be accompanied by remarkable motion pictures and lantern slides made by Dr. Beebe. The proceeds of the lecture will go to the Children's Museum of Boston.

"Through the Land of the Vikings" is the subject of the free illustrated lecture Sunday, December 8, at 3:30, by Miss Rachel Rosnosky of the Robert Treat Paine School, who has travelled extensively in Norway. Lantern slides will be used for illustration.

Hence, all the Scouts of the city are planning to distribute cards to all the homes in Newton prior to election day, December 10th, reminding voters to cast the ballot at the city election. In addition, on the morning of election day, Scouts will be posted at Railroad stations, at trolley and bus junctions, with placards, reminding people to vote before going to work.

Scouts of Troop 9, Waban, George Graham Ross, Scoutmaster, have shown great ingenuity in making up their own posters to use on Election Day, reminding people to vote and bearing the figure of a Scout, standing at salute.

Nearly 800 Scouts in Newton

At the present writing, there are nearly 800 Scouts in the city of Newton, or a little over 40% of the boys of Scout age in the city actually enrolled in the Boy Scout Movement. The national percentage of boys of Scout age in the Movement is about 25%, so Newton is over 15% above the national average. In addition there are over 200 men serving as Troop Committeemen, Examiners, Councilmen and Committeemen, with about another 250 who serve annually in the financial campaign. A tremendous amount of man-and-boy-power in this game of citizen-ship training and character building.

Troop 5's Ingenuity Contest

Twice a year the Scouts of Troop 5, Newton Centre, Scoutmaster F. W. Gilecreas, put on what is called an "Ingenuity Contest." To this display, each Scout and Patrol bring what has been created on their own initiative during the preceding six months. The next Contest display will be held on Tuesday evening, December 17th, at the meeting place of Troop 5, Playground House, Newton Centre at 7:30. Everyone is invited.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

It won't be long now! City Election next Tuesday after which we will know definitely who has won. That is, there will be no more guessing as to the size of the winner's plurality.

What do you think of this idea? Require every voter to show a membership card in the Red Cross and a sheet of Christmas seals before receiving a ballot. That would prove him or her a good citizen.

Newton has preferential voting. Nevertheless, if you prefer one candidate above all others why not make him your first choice and forget the second and third?

It will seem strange not to find a most familiar name on the ballot this year. The election will be legal, however.

If there is ice on the sidewalks some of the candidates may slide in. It's up to the citizens to sprinkle some of their own sand so there will be no slippery business.

Remember the polling places are all well heated so there can be no reason we can't have a warm fight in every precinct. No excuse for cold feet, either.

Make up your mind now and keep it made up until you get into the booth and then make your mark.

A decisive vote is possible only when every voter goes to the polls. Ducking your duty only brings a dispute like Waltham had.

The passing of Raymond Hitchcock, world famous comedian, reminds us that there was a day in the theatre when the official censor did not occupy a front row seat at the opening performance. If you are old enough to turn back to his success in "The Yankee Consul" and "King Dodo", two of his best characterizations, you will recall that he was intensely funny but that in all the dialogue there was nothing off-color. In fact Hitchcock in all his shows did not have to resort to the brand of so-called humor which today is so common that there must be a censor on hand to see if it is too strong to be permitted. The stage has slipped, if I am not mistaken, from the high standard when you could patronize a play and be sure that there would be nothing offensive to good taste.

Hitchcock got his laughs legitimately. Some of them I shall never forget. As Abiliah Booze in "The Yankee Consul" he is waked up from a sound sleep by a naval lieutenant. The latter, oblivious to the extreme demands recognition. "Don't you know who I am?", he shouts, confronting the consul. Hitchcock would shake his head and reply, "I don't remember your name but your manner is familiar."

There was another scene in "The Red Widow", in which Hitchcock made a big hit. He had offered a dinner for a friend and then called for a telephone directory the pages of which he scrutinized closely. Somebody asked, "What are you looking at that for?" to which the comedian replied, "I am trying to find a good name to sign to the check."

Now these jokes were often original with Hitchcock. If it happened to be your good fortune, as it was mine, to be a friend of his you would understand how easily he thought of funny things to say at all times. And his comedy was clean which made it all the more entertaining. It may be that it is old-fashioned to lament over the stage of two decades ago but it is true that the performers in those days would not dare to spring anything on their audiences that was coarse or vulgar. Furthermore, they were genuine artists and did not find it necessary.

Several have seen fit to tell of their acquaintance with Hitchcock but in spite of that I should like to add my modest tribute. Here was a man with a background not confined to the theatrical business. He would talk "shop", of course, but if left to choose the subjects preferred something else and always a topic the discussion of which was sure to prove of value. For instance, he used to urge me to talk of State government and then we would find ourselves arguing over the basic principles of political economy. He was a great admirer of the British government and had evidently studied it closely.

Of course he had a marked facility for making a joke of any event. During the Boston police strike of 1919 he was performing at the Colonial Theatre. After the show he started across the Common to the Hotel Bellevue where he always stayed whenever in Boston. Rowdies had been doing damage by breaking the windows of Tremont street stores. One of them recognized Hitchcock and rushing up deposited a pair of shoes in his arms, saying "Hey Raymond, here's a pair of shoes for you". The shoes were not accepted, but in telling of the incident afterwards, Hitchcock said, "You can never tell where you are going to meet your friends."

We were taking a walk one afternoon when the comedian sought to advise me as to the proper way of driving an automobile. The way he gave advice was enough to make a cat laugh but he was as serious and earnest as anybody could be. "When you get to own a car", said he, "the thing that will worry most is your fear of hitting somebody. At least that's my case. As a driver I suggest that you go right ahead and only stop when you see in the road in front of you a policeman a hen or a boy or a bicycle."

A man I happen to have known for a number of years and who ordinarily displays sound judgment, especially in the matter of business as revealed by his bank account, got an idea that he was afflicted with a lot of things. He couldn't hear of a disease but what he was certain that he had one or more of its symptoms. In fact his reading consisted almost entirely of medical works and circulars and testimonials that come wrapped around patent medicines. I don't know how many remedies he invested in but I know that he had a collection of bottles and other containers of sufficient number to make a respectable showing if he wanted to go into the retail drug business.

One of his favorite occupations was placing his troubles before a friend and receiving that friend's opinion and advice. I am no great shakes at diagnosing ailments and I couldn't be of much assistance to him, although I extended my sympathy in liberal quantities. But of course this man found a number of people who were not only willing but more than eager to point out the proper course for him. They would say, "Now what you want to do for that is this." Then they would proceed to describe a system of treatment that had been known to cure a relative or associate of some terrible malady.

My friend did as they said. He "tried everything" but the more he dwelt on his condition the worse he became. It seemed that the future was very black for him. However, he started on a business trip, with more thought of his feelings than his customers. While staying at a New York hotel he decided to send a letter to his firm telling them that he must resign and setting forth numerous reasons. These were based on his supposed condition. He sat down at the desk of the hotel stenographer and dictated more than 500 words describing every symptom and feeling he ever had or imagined. It sounded like the statement of a medical examiner at a homicide trial.

After he had finished, the stenographer, an attractive and intelligent young woman, said, "You don't mean to say that a fine looking man like you has all that the matter with him?" "Don't I look sick?", he asked.

"Not a bit," came the wise reply. "Your eyes are clear, your color good and you look like a man in the best of health. However, if you are as bad as that I am going to speak to the manager and have you sent to the hospital."

My friend was dumbfounded and, I daresay flattered at the reference to his appearance. This was the first time anybody had refused to believe he was in failing health. He thought it over for a few minutes and finally said to the stenographer, "Tear that letter up. Here's $10 for your trouble," which, by the way, the young woman declined to accept.

After recounting his experience upon his return he said to me, "I've been feeling great ever since."

"What else did you do besides reason with yourself?", I queried.

"Nothing," came the reply.

I am disturbed by these rumors that they may reduce the number of house deliveries by letter-carriers in this city. I have no means of confirming the report but I understand that there is a movement on foot to cut down the number of carriers, which would mean one or one and one-half deliveries at residences in place of two or two and one-half deliveries each day. I hope that the rumor is unfounded but there are those who tell me that I may expect to see it a reality.

The argument will be set forth, no doubt, that the number of mail deliveries at residences may well be reduced and that after all the business concerns should receive first attention and three deliveries. Regarding the latter I have no dispute but I believe firmly that residences should not be crowded out of the picture entirely.

If you will look back you will recall that the postoffice officials in years past demonstrated that people could get along with less service than they had been receiving. The postoffice used to be kept open until 8 o'clock p. m. but that was stopped and now the closing hour is 6 o'clock. That, I think, is only just. It used to be possible to get one's mail on Sundays providing one had a lock box. That meant somebody had to be there to sort the mail. Discontinuance soon proved that people could get along well enough without mail on Sunday. The Lord's Day League had a lot to do with it and I think they should be congratulated, for carriers and clerks ought to be allowed their Sundays to themselves, with the exception of a force sufficient to collect and send out mail Sunday evenings. It is my belief that this class of Government employees have always more than earned their pay.

After that it was decided that clerks and carriers should have their holidays. I felt at the time this might well have been made the rule many years before it was put into effect. The giving of time off Saturday afternoons, a recent practice does not interfere with anybody's interests as far as I have been able to discover.

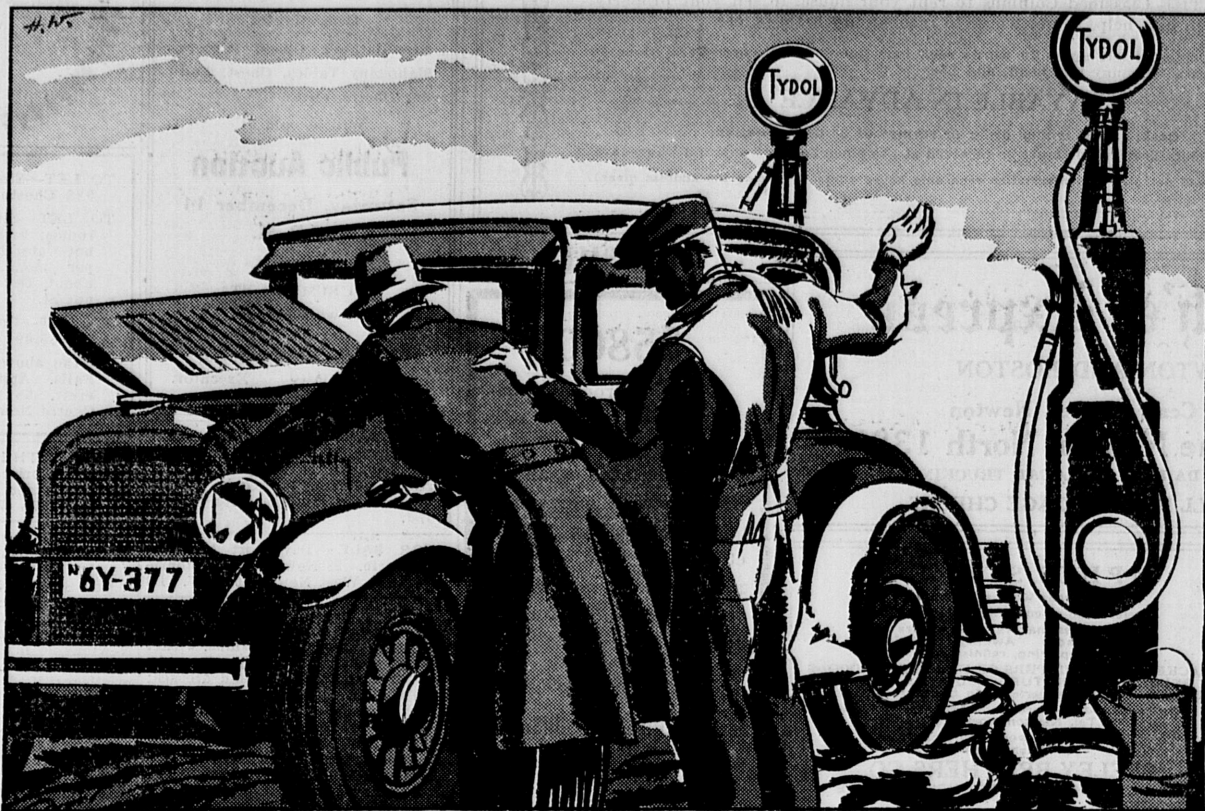

Now with things fairly well adjusted let us stop right here and now. If there is any plan to scale down the service of delivery as far as residences are concerned it should be blocked. I know that a residence somewhat distant from the postoffice gets no more than two deliveries at best under the present arrangement. Little enough! If the service cannot be improved don't touch it at all.

I find no reader of this column more interested in local politics than the correspondent who signs himself, "Fuller Calories, Newtonville." This time he addresses me as "Dear Brother Bentley," which makes me a trifle suspicious. Evidently he wants something and will make it plain later. In his letter he says:

"The other morning, while on the way to take the train for Boston, I was stopped by one of our most persistent office seekers, who, in shaking hands, attempted to give me some kind of a fraternal grip. I disapproved of such practices and was just about to give him a piece of my mind, when he displayed his gold teeth in an ingratiating, double-chinned smile and, resting his fat paws on my shoulders, said, 'Vote for me and I will put a new concrete sidewalk on your street the day after election.'" by an argument, I told him that I would and continued on my way. At the station, while buying my morning paper, I found myself standing beside another gentleman with political ambitions, who had evidently chosen the time and place deliberately for electioneering purposes. His punphandle handshake was prodigious.

"He linked his arm in mine and led me aside, saying, 'By the way, you know I am a candidate; can I count on your support, Mr. Calories?'"

"What is your platform?", I asked in an important way.

"Forty-five degree angular parking and a new blue light for the police station," he answered without batting an eye.

"All right," I said, "I'll give you a vote," and dismissed the subject from my mind immediately, wishing to read my paper.

A couple of days later, I was walking in Church Green, Boston, when someone dealt me a thunderous slap between the shoulder blades, at the same time whooping out a deafening "Hello." When my system had sufficiently absorbed the recoil, I turned to find myself face to face with a man who has been a leader in every movement for the achievement of civic purity that has been started in the past fifteen years. "What is it?" I inquired weakly.

"Fuller, old sock, at last you've got a chance to do something real big and progressive with your vote."

"I'm afraid I don't get you," I replied.

"Listen! he grunted hoarsely, pulling me right up on my tiptoes by my coat lapels and thrusting his face within an inch or two of my own, 'this town's been run by the wrong crowd long enough. It's time for a new man to represent the people who pay taxes. I'm the man—get me?'"

"Are you a candidate?" I asked him.

"Am I?" he roared. "What's the matter with your eyes? Don't you read the Graphic? Course I'm a candidate. I'm running for office and you're going to vote for me!"

"Of course," said I, striving to escape from his tightened grip. I suppose I would have been there yet had he not seen someone else across the way. "Hey, Chauncey!" he hollered at the poor unfortunate, "I wanta talk to you," and, letting me go, he went pounding over the pavement to renew his campaign.

"You know, Brother Bentley, that a couple of weeks ago I wrote you of my success with the 18-day diet and said something about running for Alderman. It's too late now for me to get into the fight. But if I did run, my platform would be as follows: Fuller Calories for Alderman. No sidewalks, no parking, no bulldozing, no handshaking. A vote for Calories is a Vote for Peace. Vote for Calories and Give Yourself a Break."

Highland Glee Club Concert On Dec. 17th

Geo. H. Boynton, Noted Baritone,
To Be Soloist

George Holmes Boynton, who is to assist the Highland Glee Club at its concert December 17th at Newtonville Auditorium, is well known to Newton people. When six years old, his family moved to Newton Centre where he attended the Rice and Mason Schools and then graduated from the Newton High School.

Although brought up in a musical atmosphere, he never did any solo singing as a boy. It was only when in High School that Mr. Horace M. Walton discovered his tenor voice and became his first teacher.

Mr. Boynton's uncle was the Rev. Theodore J. Holmes, the immediate predecessor of Dr. Noyes as Pastor of the First Church, his father, Rev. George M. Boynton, was for several years a member of the School Committee and his mother, Julia H. Boynton, was at one time President of the Newton Centre Woman's Club.

When Mr. Boynton was a senior in the Newton High School, he was Editor-in-Chief of the High School Review and also played an alto horn in the school band.

After graduating from High School, he went to Amherst College where he was the soloist in the Glee Club and while there he went each week-end to Worcester to sing in the choir of the Plymouth Church and later of the First Baptist Church.

After college, Mr. Boynton seriously took up the study of singing under several Boston teachers. Working with Arthur Hubbard he acquired that sound method of tone production that characterizes his work. Among his fellow pupils at the time at Mr. Hubbard's studio were Roland Hays and Charles and Arthur Hackett. He later studied with Mrs. Dudley Pitts until she discontinued her teaching temporarily and is now working with Mr. Thompson Stone, conductor of the Apollo Club.

Prior to his becoming tenor soloist at Trinity Church, Boston, where he sings at present, he was a member of the quartet at Central Church, Boston, for several years.

Real Estate Board Perfecting Plans

Propose to Organize As Soon As Possible

A committee headed by James W. Gibson and representing Newton real estate brokers met at Mr. Gibson's office last Friday afternoon to give further consideration to the matter of organizing a real estate board in this city. It was decided that public policy demands such an organization and that it should be formed as soon as possible. The general style of organization was determined on and it was decided to enlist the cooperation of Boston Real Estate Exchange in arranging details. The committee consists of James W. Gibson, A. Lincoln Alvord, Paul R. Tucker, Mahlon W. Hill, A. G. Campion, Thomas H. Burns and R. M. Patterson.

Tuesday noon the committee met Walter Channing and Frank H. Purinton of Boston Real Estate Exchange at the Parker House. Following a luncheon during which the various problems connected with a new organization were discussed the party transferred its deliberations to the rooms of Boston Real Estate Exchange. President Harold F. Mason, Vice President Arthur N. Madison, Executive Secretary Charles E. Lee and Howard Whitcomb of Boston Real Estate Exchange there joined the party. A two hour discussion resulted in a tentative agreement as to By-laws of the Newton organization and its relationship to Boston Real Estate Exchange and National Association of Real Estate Boards. The next meeting of the joint committees of the Newton brokers and the Boston Exchange will meet next week. It is expected that the new organization will then be completed and in a position to announce its list of officers and committees.

Christmas Seal Sale Nets $3500 To Date

Villages Report Various Amounts Contributed

Informal reports from several large cities in Massachusetts indicate a larger Christmas seal sale than in previous years.

Last year in this State alone, Tuberculosis was responsible for the cutting off of 3,123 lives.

Homes were unnecessarily robbed of loved ones by this disease.

The money received from the Sale is used for Doctors and Nurses to show the simple and practical measures for the prevention of Tuberculosis and to promote the early discovery of the disease with the consequent prospect of early recovery.

What greater gift can be made this season than to help in this cause. The results of the Christmas Seal Sale by villages since the campaign started on November 25 are as follows:

MAKE MARATHON WHIST RECORD

Five Newton boys started Monday afternoon and broke the record for nonstop whist playing to outdo the stunt of M. I. T. students who played for 13½ hours. The local boys played for 14½ hours at 1113 Washington street, West Newton. They are Lanier Quinn, Clarence Quinn and Waldo Hutchinson of that address, William McKay of 781 Washington street, Newtonville, and Edward Gilli of Oakland street, Newton. One of the boys acted as a relief player. During the ordeal the quintet drank 5 quarts of coffee and ate six dozen doughnuts and a peck of apples.

Weeks Polls Record Vote And Swamps All Three Opponents

Sixty Per Cent of Voters Cast 11,203 Votes for Weeks—Aldermanic Candidates Win by Big Majorities

C. Sinclair Weeks rode to victory Tuesday in the Mayoralty contest by a plurality of 5739 over the combined vote of his three opponents. Ex-Alderman George M. Heathcote was second with a vote of 2872, Alderman William E. Earle was third, receiving 2481 votes. John H. Murray learned that citizens of Newton do not take seriously candidates without any experience in city affairs. He obtained only 111 votes. Out of 28,324 registered voters, 16,922 went to the polls; somewhat less than 60%. A good showing for a municipal election, but, notwithstanding, proof that all too large a percentage of our citizens are utterly indifferent to their civic duties, and incidentally to their own welfare.

During the earlier hours of the day workers for Mr. Weeks were somewhat apprehensive when it appeared that the vote in the Wards where he was supposed to have his greatest strength was not so heavy as in the wards where his opponents would obtain most of their support. When the votes were counted, however, it was seen that Mr. Weeks had carried every precinct in the city, with the exceptions of Precinct 1, Ward 1, in Nonantum and Precinct 2 of Ward 4 at Lower Falls. He ran surprisingly strong in the Nonantum precincts, being only 12 votes behind Mr. Heathcote in the Ward 1 precinct and carrying Precinct 3 of Ward 2. At this precinct Mr. Heathcote had stationed himself early in the morning and worked energetically all day in an endeavor to offset the efforts of the Weeks' workers.

The returns from the first precincts showed conclusively that Weeks would win by a huge majority. In the contest between Arthur Mansfield and James Atkins it was early evident that Mansfield would be the victor.

Reuben Kligman carried the two Nonantum precincts over Alderman George Grebenstein. His arrest for libel obtained for him considerable sympathy in that district. In the Ward 5 Aldermanic contest James Chandler outdistanced his two opponents, Kerr and McGuinness.

The preferential ballot which had caused much concern to those who thought the contest would be closer was not used by the great majority of voters which would seem to indicate that when sufficient stress is laid on the expediency of voting first choice only, any collusion between the weaker candidates cannot be depended upon when one candidate has sufficient strength to dominate the situation.

All three candidates were very active over the week-end. Mr. Earle held rallies Saturday night at Nonantum and Monday night at Upper Falls and Newton Highlands. Mr. Heathcote held a rally at West Newton on Sunday afternoon and one at Newton Centre on Monday night. Mr. Weeks held a number of house rallies Saturday night and also spoke at the French Club at Nonantum.

SPORT NOTES

Newton Centre on Top

By taking three out of its five matches with the Harvard Club last Saturday the Newton Centre Squash Tennis Club team went to the top in Class A of the Mass. Squash Racquets Association team series. Newton Centre had six wins and four defeats for a percentage of 600 which is duplicated by Harvard which drew a bye for last Saturday and consequently is behind Newton Centre in the number of games played. Bill Rice, Jr., Ralph Stuart and E. F. Wales were the local winners. Holt of Newton Centre carried P. C. Watson to four games before losing out while R. Gray of Newton Centre was but a few points shy in his three-game match with H. D. Jackson. In the Class B matches Harvard gained a 3 to 2 advantage over Newton Centre. George Buel and Lincoln Alvord were the Newton Centre winners. Newton Centre scored a clean sweep over the Newton Club in Class C with a team composed of Patterson, Joyner, Nutting, Tibbitts and Tibbitts with the latter taking five games to turn back F. E. Mendes of the Newton Club team. In Class D the Newton Club team was also blanked in its match with Weston on the latter's courts. The Newton Y gained a four to one verdict over Country Day at the Country Day courts. The feature match of the afternoon was between Roberts of the "Y" and D. Gleason of Country Day which went to five games before Roberts won out. Brickley of Country Day defeated Watson Baker for the only point scored by his team in a four game match. Halsey, Millard and McCracken of the "Y" won in straight game matches.

Newton Boxers Fare Well

Two Newton boxers were among the winners of the various classes in the international tournament held under the auspices of New England A. A. U. at the Arena on Monday night while another survived to the final round. The two winners were Pat McStay in the 118-lb. class and Charles Kelley in the 147-lb. class. The first local boxer to fall was Mike Esposito who lost a three round bout to Vincent Valenti of New York on a decision which the crowd did not like. The second Newton lad was Wallace De Wolfe, who after winning from George Comsavage of New York in the preliminary round met Jack McCarthy of Roxbury in the final. In the first round McCarthy sank a right hand into De Wolfe's stomach. The Newton boxer claimed a foul but the referee counted him out. McStay defeated Gordon Sauve of Montreal in the preliminary and Mike Valenti of New York in the final on decisions. Kelley won over Stanley Carlson of Grand Rapids in the first bout and Frank Brown of Toronto in the finals.

Named Manager At Penn.

William C. Brooks, Jr., of Putnam street, West Newton, was recently named alternate assistant manager of the 1930 football team at the University of Penn. He attended Newton high school and Worcester Academy before entering Penn. where he is now a sophomore and a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity.

Hagood Gets Letter

Ernest G. Hagood, former Newton high star tackle, won his letter at Brown University the past fall as a guard on the football team. Although forced out for a few weeks during the middle of the season because of injury Hagood was one of the strong points in the Brown line. He has another year at Brown and next year should be one of the outstanding college linemen.

NEWTON MERMEN LOSE FIRST MEET

In the first swimming meet of the season at the Newton Y. M. C. A. last Saturday evening the Providence Y mermen defeated the Newton Y team 46 to 16. Davidson of Newton was the high point scorer for Newton with a first in the forty-yard breaststroke and a second in the backstroke for a total of eight points, half the Newton total. Goff of Providence took two firsts, the 100 and 200, for the high individual point score of the meet.

Four of the eight remaining local points were scored by Kohler. He took second in the 200 and third in the 100. McGrath with a second in the dive and Collins, with a third in the 40-yard freestyle race, counted the other Newton points. Davidson, Gallagher, Collins and Kohler composed the Newton relay team which was nosed out by the visitors.

SPORT NOTES

Coaches On Week-end Trip

The coaches and faculty managers of the schools represented in the Suburban league were the guests over the past week-end of Coach Thomas Hines of Brookline at his camp in Hillsboro, N. H. They left Friday after school and returned Sunday evening. It is the second annual outing. Coaches John L. Sullivan and Charles Considine of Newton were in the party. Faculty manager Dr. Martin of Newton High did not make the trip as he has not recovered the full use of his foot which was injured several weeks ago.

Crimson Sextet Shaping Up

Coach Joe Stubbs of the Harvard varsity hockey team is beginning to develop a team out of the material which has been going through the fundamental for the past two weeks. Early this week hard work was begun with a stiff scrimmage on the program. Tuesday a first string line-up took shape and although the Harvard mentor would not commit himself it is highly probable that it will be the starting line-up in the first game on Dec. 18th. None of the three local youths on the squad were in the first line-up, but were on the white-shirt team that furnished the opposition. Frank Stubbs, Jr., younger brother of the Harvard coach and also a former Newton high star, was at one wing; Guy Holbrook, the second best hockey player ever turned out by Coach Dr. Martin of Newton high—second to George Owen and who would have been outstanding on the Harvard team but for a trick knee received in football—center ice, and Johnny Garrison of West Newton, a former Country Day school star, at a defense position.

On All-Prep School Team

Annually the Boston Globe selects an All-Prep school football team. In the 1929 selections which were made during the week Everett Scheinfain, former Newton captain and all-scholastic end and now attending Bridgton Academy, is chosen for right end. Frank Spain, another former Newton captain and all-scholastic athlete, is named captain and quarterback on the second team. The only thing that kept Spain from the first team was the wealth of backfield material. The first team backfield is composed of Clark and Dean of Exeter and King of Andover as halfbacks, Vidis of Worcester at full back and Haley of Worcester at quarterback. With Worcester undefeated and the outstanding prep school team in Massachusetts the work of Haley stood out. Honorable mention is given several other former Newton athletes now at prep school. These include Sutcliffe, Bridgton end; Hagwood, Cushing guard; Phil Andres, Worcester fullback.

Eaton Is Andover Coach

Austin Eaton, former Newton high and Dartmouth star athlete, has been appointed head coach of hockey at Andover Academy. Eaton, who after his graduation from the Hanover college, played some hockey for the University club. He succeeds Richard Vaughan, also a Newton high product, who resigned last spring to return to Yale for graduate work. Vaughan was an Andover athlete following his graduation from Newton high and while at Yale was captain of both hockey and baseball. Among the twenty-three candidates with considerable experience that Coach Eaton has on the Andover squad this year is Joseph Bryant of West Newton. Bryant is one of the leading forward line veterans.

Newton League Bowling

In the Newton league bowling matches on Wednesday night the Commercial club of Brockton took all three points from the Middlesex Sportsman's Association on the Brockton club's alleys. The Newton Club shut out their opponents, Maugus, on the latter's alleys while Waban was allowing Hunnewell but one point on the Waban alleys. Barrows of the Newton Club had a 241 and his teammate, Schwab, hit 232 on his third string. In the Waban-Hunnewell match Malcolm Hill with a 218, and Donald Hill with a 212, both of the Waban Club, had the only strings over 200.

Hall Wins Tennis Tourney

Charles Hall won the final match in the annual fall tennis tourney of the Newton High School this week Tuesday evening. Because of the lateness of the season it was necessary to play on a covered court at Longwood. Hall's opponent in the finals was Winston Sharp of Newtonville.

Awarded Golf Cups

Cups, emblematic of the Newton High School golf tournament championship, were awarded at the assembly on Tuesday morning of this week at the high school. Paul Feldberg was the winner of the tourney and Malcolm Hatch the runner-up.

BASKETBALL SQUAD CUT

Coach Raymond Green of the Newton high school basketball team made the first cut in the squad yesterday afternoon. With more than 100 lads out for the sport several teams will be organized this winter. In addition to the varsity aggregation which has a schedule of fourteen games, including eight league contests, there will be a second team, two or three junior varsity teams and two or three freshman teams. The latter will play in the junior high school league circuit.

There is considerable promising material with which to work and while Coach Green is not too optimistic over the coming season a well-developed team should wear the orange and black. Captain John McCarthy is showing greater speed than ever and if his shooting is on a par with his speed he will be a hard man to stop. Perry Elrod, football halfback, is shooting nicely, he may possibly be shifted to the other forward berth inasmuch as there are several likely candidates for centre. Donald Bosworth is another leading forward. Edward Connelly, Chipman and Scholl of last year's second team are the leading guard candidates. Another prospective back is George Gulian, cousin of "Mike" Gulian, former athletic star at Newton and Brown. Kerr, a freshman last year who possessed outstanding ability, has not returned to school this year. Among the newcomers who are showing up well is a lad named Grist. He hails from East Orange, N. J., where basketball is basketball. He has had considerable experience and is a talented basket tosser. Jones, a young colored chap, is one of the leading centre candidates. He can jump with the best and has height and coordination. Frank Vassalotti, another sophomore like Gulian, has promise.

SPORT NOTES

Terriers Lose Opener

The Boston University hockey team, coached by Wayland Vaughan, a former Newton, Andover and Yale star, lost its opening game of the season last week Friday night to the University Club. The game, played under the old amateur rules, was decided in the middle period when the clubmen went on a scoring spree of four goals, coming from behind and taking a 5 to 3 lead. Both teams scored in the final session to place the final count at 6 to 4. Holmes Whitmore, the only former Newton athlete in the Terrier line-up had one assist although failing to count himself. He and Lombard, B. U. wing, teamed up with Whitmore taking a shot which the University Club goalie stopped but could not clear sufficiently to prevent Lombard from tallying. On another occasion Lombard poked home a rebound of Whitmore's. Several former local athletes were in the University Club line-up. These included Bill Blaney, Ted Leonard and Dwight Shepler. Blaney scored one goal unassisted and a shot from the blue line which sailed into the net waist high after hitting the far post. Leonard's work in the University Club goal prevented B. U. from many goals.

Stubbs To Fly To Game

Coach Joe Stubbs of the Harvard hockey team will fly to New York in order to be present at the Harvard-Toronto game on Dec. 28th. Business in Boston makes it impossible for the Harvard mentor to get away in time to reach the game except by airplane.

McCrudden on Relay

Jimmy McCrudden, former Newton high track captain and 1000-yard star, is a member of the Northeastern University mile relay team. McCrudden was the third runner on the sophomore relay team which defeated the freshmen yesterday in the annual dual meet.

Arsenault Wins

The feature match of the open amateur wrestling bouts at the Newton Y. M. C. A. last Saturday night was the final of the 160-lb. class where Joe Arsenault of Newton won after two overtime periods against L. Striano of the Boston Y. Santello in the 118 lb. class, K. Bozarian in the 135 lb. novice class and H. Parkman in the 160 lb. novice class, all of Newton, lost their final round bouts.

All Three Get Letters

All three of the local youths on the Dartmouth varsity football team the past season have been awarded letters. They are captain-elect Harold Andres, Henry L. Johnson, Jr., and Leonard Clark.

A SURPRISING MAJORITY

The city election has come and gone. The voters of Newton have shown a confidence in their mayor-elect that has made history as far as city politics is concerned. First, the largest vote ever polled at a city election was recorded. Second, the largest vote cast for any one municipal candidate was given to Sinclair Weeks. Third, the largest majority ever given any mayor-elect was shown. Prior to the election it seemed to be the consensus of opinion that Weeks would be elected and the only question was—how many votes the other candidates could poll, with the possibility that second or third choice votes might be the deciding factor. Few, if any, expected to see the mayor-elect swept into office by more than twice the number of votes given the other three mayoralty candidates.

Naturally, organization played no little part in the election but the outstanding ability, popularity and record of Sinclair Weeks were the basis of the voters' selection. Approximately sixty per cent of the total registered vote of over 28,000 was polled with the 11,203 votes for Weeks constituting about sixty-six per cent of that figure. In other contested offices on the ballot the winners received handsome majorities comparable to that in the mayoralty race. In no case was there any doubt as to the voters' choice.

The sweeping majority given to Weeks was not the only surprising feature of the election. The endorsement of the candidacy of William E. Earle by Mayor Childs was expected to make Earle a factor in the election. Ex-Alderman George Heathcote made a spirited campaign and received nearly four hundred votes more than Earle. This fact and the fact that Weeks carried every precinct in the city with two exceptions may have a decided effect on local politics in future campaigns.

THE PASSING OF THE STREET CAR

Next Monday night the Board of Aldermen will take action on a petition of the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway for a permit to run busses on Commonwealth Avenue from Lake Street to Auburndale. If the petition is granted, which seems likely, it will mean the passing of the street car in Newton with the exception of the El tracks in Ward 7. It was not many years ago that horse cars were the mode of transportation and there are many residents of the city who can tell of reminiscences of those days. Another thirty years the increasing congestion caused by automobile traffic may bring other means of transportation. Previous to that time, however, it is quite within the realm of probability that the present railway area on Newton's main artery will have disappeared and Commonwealth avenue will be a 120 foot roadway with lanes for slow and through traffic. Necessity will first force the opening of the north side of Commonwealth avenue to inbound and restriction of the south side to outbound traffic. That is a measure that has already been proposed and one which should receive consideration.

50TH ANNIVERSARY IN NEWTON CENTRE

On Saturday evening, December 7th, the culminating social event in this celebration was observed by a banquet at which Bishop Edwin H. Hughes was the guest speaker. At the guest table were Mr. and Mrs. E. Ray Speare, Dr. and Mrs. John C. Wingett, Dr. and Mrs. William E. Huntington, Dr. and Mrs. Edward M. Noyes, Dr. and Mrs. Charles N. Arbuckle, Dr. and Mrs. Albert C. Dieffenbach, Dr. Edward T. Sullivan, Dr. and Mrs. L. O. Hartman, Dr. E. A. Elliott, and Bishop Hughes. Mr. and Mrs. Sam T. Emery. Mr. Sam T. Emery spoke briefly for the laymen of the church and Dr. Sullivan responded. Mr. E. Ray Speare as Toastmaster announced Bishop Hughes as speaker of the evening.

The Bishop spoke warmly of his relation to the church as its pastor a number of years ago, mentioning the fact that he and Dr. Sullivan came to Newton Centre about the same time. Dr. Noyes came shortly after their arrival.

The Bishop expressed the hope that this generation would be true spiritual credit to their fathers and take up the task so nobly laid down by them. While we may boast of the fact that we are direct descendants of the Mayflower colony we may easily fail to be a spiritual credit to our spiritual forefathers.

The Methodist Church at Newton Centre is a growing institution. Attendance and Membership being on the increase. Dr. E. A. Elliott pronounced the benediction.

CHRISTMAS FESTIVITIES AT THE COMMUNITY CENTRE

We are all looking forward to the Christmas Season. This year the week before Christmas will be a particularly busy one for the members of the West Newton Community Centre, Inc.

On Tuesday, December 17, the members of the Pre-School Kindergarten, the youngest children coming to the Centre, are to be the guests of the Girl Scouts at a Christmas Party at the Unitarian Church.

Wednesday night, December 18, the members of the Quiddance Club will celebrate the season by going on a Theatre Party.

Friday morning, the Pre-School Kindergarten children will have a Christmas Tree and Party for their parents at the Memorial Library. All the decorations have been made by these little tots. In addition to this, they are making gifts for fathers and mothers.

Parents' Night, Friday, December 20, will be the first big event of the week. A Christmas Play, telling of customs in other lands, will be presented by the members of the Blue Bird Club. The folk dancing classes will give several numbers in folk costume. The public is cordially invited to attend this activity.

Saturday afternoon, December 21, the inter-club Christmas Party for the members of the clubs and classes will be held. A Tree, Santa Claus, a story-teller, and a magic lantern show of refreshments, will have a big part in the afternoon's program. This annual Christmas Party is a highlight in the club year, and the keen enjoyment which the children get from it more than compensates for the generosity of the friends of the Centre who make this event possible.

The last event of the week—and undoubtedly the one which gives the greatest enjoyment to the community as a whole, is the Community Carol Service held at the Christmas Tree on Washington street, the foot of Putnam street, West Newton. This year the service will be held on Sunday afternoon, December 22, at five-thirty o'clock. We hope that all the people living in West Newton will feel that this is their Service, and join with us in enjoying the old-time carols.

ALDERMANIC CANDIDATE IS ARRESTED

Alderman Grebenstein Charges His Opponent, Reuben Kilgman, With Criminal Libel

Reuben Kilgman, 22 years old, of 456 Watertown street, Newtonville, was arrested Saturday night by Inspector Shaughnessy in the Nonantum A. A. building on Dalby street, Nonantum, charged with criminal libel. The complainant against Kilgman is George W. Grebenstein, Alderman-at-Large from Ward 2, Newtonville. Kilgman was taken to police headquarters shortly after nine o'clock and was released on bail a few hours later. Kilgman had been a speaker at a rally held in Nonantum A. A. Hall and after concluding his remarks was informed that he was wanted in another part of the building. The audience at the rally were not aware of his arrest until after he had been taken to police headquarters.

Young Kilgman is the son of Jacob Kilgman who for a number of years had a junk license in this city. Some years ago the Board of Aldermen refused to renew Kilgman's license. In succeeding years he attempted frequently to obtain the license but was always turned down. In recent years he also petitioned a number of times for permits to build a public garage and gasoline filling station. These petitions also were consistently refused. Reuben Kilgman was the first candidate to file papers for this year's municipal election. He opposed Grebenstein, who had been a member of the Board of Aldermen for several years.

Kilgman appeared at a number of rallies throughout the city during the recent campaign and read a prepared speech in which he alleged that a "gasoline trust" controlled the Newton Board of Aldermen. He also cast reflections of Grebenstein's integrity. City Solicitor Joseph Bartlett will appear for the prosecution. Kilgman will be defended by Attorney David Mancovitz of Boston.

AUTO KILLS MAN AT WEST NEWTON

Thomas E. O'Neill of 2 Washington terrace, Newtonville, received fatal injuries Tuesday night about 8 o'clock when he was struck by an automobile operated by Daniel Heskier of Fearis road, Needham. O'Neill, an automobile mechanic, 41 years old, had been driving his car along Waltham street and stopped near an electric light at Kays street to remove the tire chains. While engaged in this task he was hit by the car driven by Heskier. O'Neill was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. He died about two hours later. Heskier was arrested charged with recklessness and driving while under the influence of liquor. He claimed that his car was sidswiped by another automobile, forcing him toward O'Neill's machine. Mr. O'Neill was unmarried.

O'Neill was accompanied by a Waltham young woman to whom he was engaged. His right leg was fractured and his chest struck by an automobile. After hitting O'Neill, Heskier's car crashed and hit a pole. The car was considerably damaged and Heskier, together with William Duff of Jamaica Plain, who was riding with him, received slight injuries.

ASK GASOLINE PERMIT ON INDEFINITE LOCUS

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on December 2nd, a hearing was held on the petition of the Newton & Watertown Realty Trust for a permit to conduct a gasoline filling station at 1246 to 1270 Washington street, West Newton. Fred H. Trask, appearing for the petitioners explained that a building now on the property will be torn down and a modern filling station will be erected. It will have a frontage of 140 feet.

Alderman Powers called attention to the fact that 1246 to 1260 Washington street is the locus of a one story business block east of Chestnut street; 1268 and 1270 Washington street are west of Chestnut street. He suggested that the petitioners present a more definite location for the proposed station. Mr. Trask replied that the numbers given were taken from deeds at the Registry of Deeds in East Cambridge. The matter was referred to the Licenses Committee.

CITY AFFAIRS

The Ferguson Market Company of Brookline has entered a claim of $300 against the city of Newton. This claim is for damages caused to an automobile truck resulting from a collision with the police patrol auto of the Newton Police Department on June 27 at the intersection of Washington street and Commonwealth avenue. Ferguson's truck was operated by John Killam of Brookline. Killam was found guilty in the Newton court of reckless driving. He appealed and was acquitted in the Superior Court.

William U. Fogwill of West Newton, for the past several years official Fence Viewer for the city has been reappointed by Mayor Childs. The Mayor also appointed John A. Janse of Parker street, Newton Centre, as a Fence Viewer. Mr. Janse who is over six feet tall, will be of valuable assistance to Mr. Fogwill as he can look over the tops of fences.

At the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen hearings were held on the petitions of Jenney Manufacturing Company for a permit to install three underground tanks of 1000 gallons capacity each, and three pumps at the corner of Boylston and Woodward streets. Horace W. Orr permit to install another 1000 gallon tank and an additional pump at 863 Washington street; George A. Hayes permit to install an additional 1000 gallon tank at filling station, 104 Needham street.

Tuesday night the Claims and Rules Committee of the Aldermen held a public hearing on the petition of Maud Brodick who asks that land bounded by Rangeley road, Pleasant, Derby and Cherry streets, be changed from General to Private residence zone. Residents of Rangeley road, a new street also join in this petition. Mrs. Brodick was represented by Walter Brodick. Mrs. Edna Barry and Mrs. Florence Owens of Rangeley road also appeared to favor the petition. John W. Conroy, appearing for Eugene Conroy of 87 Derby street and Mrs. Margaret Brennan of 73 Derby street opposed the petition. James Carroll of 170 Cherry street also objected. Mr. Conroy explained that the objectors own three-quarters of the land affected and have owned it for over 50 years. Most of the nearby territory is in general residence zones and Mr. Conroy stated that it will be unfair to discriminate against these old property owners. The Brodick petition resulted because of the inability of Mrs. Brodick to obtain a waiver on a setback line on a lot of land at the corner of Rangeley road and Pleasant street. This lot is in a private residence zone. The land adjoining is in a general residence zone and if this zone is changed to private residence then the waiver can be granted.

DECORATE WITH LIVE CHRISTMAS TREES

All the freshness and cheer of outdoors comes in when we decorate the house with living evergreens in pots or tubs. They last long, retain their crispness and their velvety green color right through the winter season. Long after cut branches and wreaths have faded and been discarded, well into the New Year the little live evergreens continue as pleasant reminders of Christmas gaiety and cheer. This, is, perhaps, the chief reason why living Christmas trees give so much pleasure. This and because no outdoor beauty has been spoiled, no woodland robbed to bring a treat.

There are many ways of using potted Christmas trees. In the small or crowded home where a large tree is often impractical a small potted tree about 2 or 3 feet tall is a welcome solution. This can be given place of honor on the middle of the table and surrounded with gayly wrapped gifts and packages or with fruits, candies and sweetmeats. For the hall or doorsteps a pair of potted trees, one on either side add a cordial note to be forgotten welcome. Potted trees may also be placed indoors here and there along the hall or corridor, at the foot of a broad stairway, on a stair landing, at the ends of a long bay window or lounge or in the sunroom. Little Tree Farms on Pleasant street, Framingham Centre, has for many years supplied potted evergreens for home decoration.

Bigelow, president of the Corporation of the Children's Museum, as the editor of "Our Hobbies," the nature magazine with an international circulation published by the boys and girls of the Museum, and as one of the most active participants in museum activities.

The dainty wild rose received the highest number of votes in the National Flower poll conducted at the Museum in which over a thousand children voted. Other flowers in order of their choice was the violet, columbine, goldenrod, sweet pea, American Beauty rose, dandelion, tulip, lily of the valley, daffodil, Mayflower, poppy, daisy, tea rose, forget-me-not, and hollyhock. The choice of wild rose by the museum children tallied with the choice of the country at large, as last recorded at the American Nature Association headquarters in Washington.

SCHOOL NOTES

LEVI F. WARREN JR. HIGH

Assembly of December 4th
The assembly opened with the regular exercises conducted by Robert Cotton.

Billy Durbin, subscription manager of the "Transmitter," then spoke praising the eighth and ninth grades for their splendid record of 100% in subscriptions and presented a numeral to each 100% room to which will be added other numerals as the 100% goal is reached.

Mr. Scarborough then gave some announcements on school routine. The rest of the program was of a miscellaneous nature, presenting to the school some of our own talent. The assembly closed with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Anti-Bumming Ride Campaign

Monday the 9th of December, delegates from every 9th grade Civics Class in Newton met in the Senior High School for the purpose of organizing an Anti-Bumming Ride Campaign. Mr. Kidger took charge of the meeting and later turned it over to Mr. Tanner of the Day Junior High. The following were elected officers: Pres. Margaret Casewell (Day Jr. High); V. Pres. Dorothy Watt (Sr. High); Sec. Ethel Smith (Levi Warren Jr. High).

Thrill

The average of the Warren Junior High has dropped 1/10 per cent making the school per cent 99.9%. There were 701 pupils present, 700 banded. There were twenty-two home rooms which had 100% in banded. Seven of these have had 100% since school started this year. The only room that did not have 100% had 97%. The total amount banded on Dec. 5 was $116.67.

WHAT IS DONE WITH CHRISTMAS SEAL MONEY

Just now at the time when people are (or should be) buying their Anti-tuberculosis Christmas Seals for this year, it is interesting to hear some of the things accomplished in Newton by the money realized from their sale. This money is called the Health Fund and is explained by the Health Committee—a Committee of the Board of Directors of the Newton Welfare Bureau. This Committee, with Dr. Cecil W. Clark as Chairman, had a meeting last week and a very interesting fact was brought out by Dr. Curtis of the Board of Health.

Medical examinations were started in the High School in 1924 and for four years, these were financed by the Health Fund as a demonstration of what could be accomplished for the health of school children. The results were so interesting and convincing that the Board of Health of the City finally took over the work in 1928.

And what were those results? When the examinations were first started, 48% of the school children examined were found to have reportable physical defects. This percentage has been gradually cut down until the 1929 figures showed that only 9.99% had reportable defects. This decrease seems quite remarkable, and most people, who have been in touch with the work from the beginning, feel that it was a wise and fruitful investment of the Christmas Seal money.

At the meeting last week, it was voted to extend this work as needed into the High School at the expense of the Health Fund, as a great many pupils enter the High School from other cities without having been through the Newton Grammar Grades. It was also voted to have careful follow-up work throughout the year of the tubercular contact children who are sent to Health Camps in the summer by the Health money. This follow-up is to be done by the Board of Health Nurses but with an increased staff, and the added expense to be met by the Health Fund.

Last summer, 49 children were sent to camps through the Christmas Seal money at a cost of $2865.55. But why spend so much money to give these children excellent care for two months, and then for the other ten months of the year let poor home care eradicate these good results of Health Camp? Therefore, with this more concentrated follow-up plan more thorough preventive work will be done with these tubercular contact children. Are not these definite and worthwhile accomplishments resulting from the sale of these rather innocent looking little Christmas Seals, to say nothing of the additional activities carried on this year, including the supplying of milk for undernourished children both within the home and in the schools, to the amount of $1119.37?

HEADS COMMITTEE

Mrs. James D. Colt of Suffolk road, Chestnut Hill is chairman of the committee for the 12th Annual Sale of Christmas Greens to be held at Horticultural Hall, Boston on December 20 and 21 from 10 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. This sale is held under the auspices of the New England Farm and Garden Association and the wreaths are made by the farm women.

TO PRESENT PAGEANT

The Church School of the Newtonville Universalist Church will present the "Nativity" pageant at the Church next Sunday afternoon, Dec. 22, at 5:30 p. m. This is one of the most elaborate spectacles ever attempted by the people of the church. The pageant was written by Dr. Eugene R. Shippin of Boston, and is being directed by the Rev. M. A. Kapp. Miss Ethel Green of Newtonville has charge of the costumes, while Miss Marjorie A. Schult of Auburndale will direct the music.

Employment Problem. Congress Comes Back. Russia Is Annoyed. Gas From Coal.

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S forceful address to nearly 400 industrial leaders in Washington is one for which the country will thank him. It is bound to produce results.

There is no cause for pessimism or permanent discouragement.

But well-informed men know that there has been a sharp increase in unemployment.

We have in the United States probably fully as many unemployed as there are in Britain, where Government pays a "dole," enough to live on each week, to those out of work.

We have here 2,000,000 more unemployed than they have in France, where unemployment is practically unknown.

And this is surprising in the richest, most prosperous country on earth.

The President is determined to do something about it.

Nobody could keep this off the front page: Henry Ford has raised wages by an amount totaling $20,000,000 a year. The basic wages from now on, according to Edsel Ford will be $7 a day.

More than 24,000 employees will have their pay raised $1 a day.

That is the way to build prosperity. High wages are the nourishment of the national goose that lays the golden eggs.

Congress met and a cut of $160,000,000 in the income tax is the programme.

That will be welcome news to those that pay income tax, a small percentage of all the people.

But it is just as important news to those that pay no income tax. They all earn money, and any cut in income tax, especially in corporation tax, encourages development, expansion, employment.

A man will work harder for money that the Government does not take from him.

Professor Barnes, of Smith College, says there are more causes for war now than there were in 1914, and greater danger of war, and the League of Nations is too timid to do much.

Borah, not Kellogg, wrote the Paris Peace Pact. A Chicago lawyer, Salmon O. Levinson, invented it. And Barnes agrees with Professor Borchard, of Yale, that the Kellogg Pact, in cold reality, "contains the first international indorsement and moral recognition of certain forms of war."

The learned Barnes says the next fifty years will decide whether democracy or dictatorship shall survive.

That has already been decided a thousand times. When finally decided, democracy will win. Dictators die, democracy lives on, always ready to bob up.

Russia, naturally annoyed at United States interference in China. The Russians say Uncle Sam is trying to snatch away their victory, and encourages China.

The United States is cleverly put in the position of leading the other nations to what Russia considers meddling interference.

You observe that Japan and Germany, Russia's nearest neighbors, hold aloof, refusing any share in telling Russia about her duties in China, beautiful peace, etc.

Having a closeup of Russia at hand, Japanese and Germans know that a conflict with Russia would not be pleasant.

A man who understands coal and oil has a patent for burning coal underground in the mine.

Gas extracted from the coal would be piped to the surface and sold.

That is an improvement on blasting and digging coal, hauling it to the surface, loading it on cars, carting it to cities.

Changed into gas, coal travels, transported by its own power of expansion.

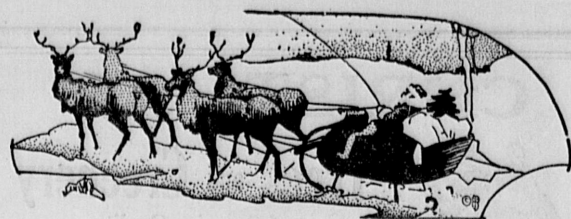

The Standard Oil of New Jersey is making gasoline from coal. Our coal supplies are vast, and the coal industry has been in a bad way. Human ingenuity may bring it back again.

Giuseppe Rossi, a really great Italian aviator, has just finished a three-engine plane to carry twenty passengers. The extraordinary thing about the plane is its power to carry a load equaling its own weight. That's a great improvement on some of our earthly transportation methods. A first-class Pullman car, for instance, weighs nearly fifty times as much as the load it carries.

Young men and women interest yourselves in gliding. William B. Mayo, Henry Ford's chief engineer, says: "Gliding is a safe method of learning to fly; a glider can be purchased for a few hundred dollars, and gliding in itself is a delightful and thrilling sport."

The National Glider Association, organized to promote navigation of the air without engines, will do a great deal to build up flying, by adding to the number of fliers.

PREFERENTIAL SYSTEM UPHOLD

December 11, 1929.

To the Editor:

The preferential ballot has once more proved its efficiency and superiority for our conditions in recording the will of the voters in municipal election. We have had an energetic campaign with a fair election at which about sixty per cent of the total vote was cast, which is certainly a remarkable percentage for a city election.

As I introduced the preferential ballot to the Board of Aldermen which petitioned for this form of election, I hope I may be permitted to explain briefly the reasons for its adoption. When the Town Meeting form of primary was abolished by law we had in Newton for many years the straight party system with a party primary followed by an election. This meant that the candidates had to finance two campaigns to interest the voters and the voters were called upon to vote twice.

The results were usually meagre. In many primaries only a handful of votes was cast, in some precincts there were more election officers than voters. As the Democratic party was in the minority they often failed even to nominate candidates for many offices and the election also became a farce. The City Committee of the two parties took the attitude that they should not interfere in any contest until after the primary which meant that they took no part at all.

Then we had the primary where the party affiliations of the voters were not registered under which system in one year Mayor Childs obtained the Republican nomination for Mayor through the votes of Democrats voting in large numbers as Republicans.

Two things seem to be clear: First, that a Republican should not be barred from municipal service in a Democratic city on account of his views on National political problems, any more than a Democrat should be barred in a Republican city. But the party system of municipal elections has just this effect.

Second, that a better grade of public officers will be obtained where there is a large public interest and a large vote is cast than where the opposite takes place.

Several different plans for city election are familiar to us. The Boston plan is probably the worst of all if we are trying to record the will of the voters, as under this plan the object of each candidate is to split up the votes of his most feared opponent by placing decoy candidates on the ballot. Both Mayor Peters and Mayor Nichols were elected by these tactics. There is the run-off primary which hardly seems suitable to our local conditions and may easily result in the man who is satisfactory to the majority of the voters being shut out entirely.

The preferential ballot was devised to avoid all these difficulties and ensure the election of a man who should be satisfactory to the majority of the voters. Under it there is only one balloting, and there can be no political trickery by the introduction of dummy candidates. The preferential feature results in a primary and election at once. Suppose there are two groups of candidates with opposite ideas of city government whom we will call for convenience Republicans and Democrats. Suppose there are two Republicans and one Democratic candidate, and that the Republican voters are in the majority. Then the two Republican candidates have only to ask their friends to vote for each other for second choice to shut out the Democrat.

Take the situation at Tuesday's election. Suppose that Mr. Weeks was farther away in his views from Mr. Earle and Mr. Heathcote than these gentlemen were from each other. If this was so then Mr. Earle and Mr. Heathcote should have asked their friends to vote for each other for second choice and if there were more people in the city who favored their political views than favored those of Mr. Weeks, then one of them would have won, and would deserve to win. If that were the situation Mr. Weeks could not have won against either one alone under any primary system which reduced the final candidates to two.

The preferential ballot has well served the interests of the City for many years, it avoids the trouble and expense of two ballotings and affords an equal opportunity to all with an assurance of more interest and a larger vote than can possibly be obtained by the old party system. It has been attacked at various times and I hope it will be retained.

COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS TREE

Four years ago, the West Newton Community Centre, Inc., presented its first Christmas Tree to the villagers in West Newton.

For the past two years, the "Tree of Light" has been giving enjoyment throughout the holiday season to hundreds of people, not only in this section, but to residents of nearby towns who pass through our main thoroughfare daily.

Again this year, the Community Centre, is happy to have the privilege of giving the tree to the community. Each year its erection is made possible through the co-operation of His Honor, Mayor Edwin O. Childs; Mr. Ernst Hermann, Superintendent of the Playground Commission; the Forestry, Street, and Police Departments. The tree will be located on Washington street, at the foot of Putnam street, West Newton.

The tree will be lighted throughout the week preceding Christmas. Sunday afternoon, December 22, at 5:30 o'clock, the members of the clubs and classes of the West Newton Community Centre, together with friends from other organizations working in West Newton, will gather around the Tree for Carol singing. Mayor Childs will give the Welcome.

The Community Centre wants our Community Tree to mean to all what it meant to one who said "Presents to eat and wear are all right, but they don't last. The memories of this will last forever."

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

We have been requested to complain of the boys who deliver groceries and provisions from chain stores. These boys carry the merchandise in small carts. They travel after darkness has fallen on the streets, carry no lights and many narrow escapes occur from collisions with automobiles. One automobile owner in Newton just missed hitting one of these boys the other night and when he remonstrated with the youngster for not carrying a light, the near victim became impertinent. Why do not the police enforce the law which compels every vehicle on a highway to carry a light after dark? By so doing they would safeguard the lives of the boys who travel on streets with the little carts, and they would save the nerves of autoists.

Are you one of the thousands who have found your car damaged by some careless or incompetent driver who collides with it when it is parked and you are not present to witness the deed? Only a very small percentage of autoists who dent mudguards, or otherwise injure other persons' cars by careless or unskillful driving, have enough principle to make themselves known to the owners of the cars they damage.

As usual the two Nonantum precincts, Precinct 1 of Ward 1 and Precinct 3 of Ward 2 turned out among the leaders at the election Tuesday. Over 70% of the registered voters in both these precincts voted.

The Central Congregational Church of Newtonville located on Walnut street is giving a series of Sunday afternoon concerts to their members and friends to give them an opportunity of hearing their new organ. The organists of the different churches have been at the consoles. Next Sunday, December 15th, the concert will be in charge of Miss Lillian West the regular organist of the church. She will be assisted by Mr. Frank Field the well known Baritone soloist and also by Prof. Walter M. Smith the celebrated Trumpeter of radio fame and also the leader and director of the Temple Shrine Band. The concert will be at 4 o'clock to which the general public is invited. A great treat in store for the music loving people of Newton.

GASOLINE STATION NEAR CEMETERY IS OPPOSED

At the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen a hearing was held on the petition of the Newton Cemetery Corporation for a permit to conduct a gasoline filling station at the north-west corner of Beacon and Walnut streets, Newton Centre, and to keep, store and sell therewith 4000 gallons of gasoline.

H. Wilson Ross appeared for the Cemetery Corporation and stated that the proposed station will be located 30 or 40 feet back from the street, that two old houses now on the corner will be removed and the property will be improved by the erection of an ornamental service station. The station will not be operated by the Cemetery Corporation but will be leased to some oil company.

George M. Heathcote, as attorney for Mrs. M. C. O'Connor of 875 Walnut street, objected to the granting of the permit. He stated that already two corners of Beacon and Walnut streets have filling stations and if the permit will be granted it will be establishing a precedent to encourage gasoline stations on all four corners at important street intersections. He contended that the gasoline business is destroying homes and the proposed station would drive Mrs. O'Connor from the home she has occupied since she was a small child. He remarked that the cemetery was organized for other purposes than owning a gasoline filling station and that the two existing stations meet all requirements at this place.

Mr. Ross replied that the proposed station will improve, rather than injure Mrs. O'Connor's property and he commented that on her property a store has been erected in front of the house, coming close to the street and occupied by an undertaking shop. He considered this addition and its use less desirable than the proposed filling station.

LASELL SEMINARY

The first Pupils' Musical Rehearsal of the year was presented at Bragdon Hall on Wednesday evening, December 11. The numbers given showed the varied opportunities offered by Lasell's Music Department—piano, organ, voice, violin and harp. The concluding number was Gustav Holst's Psalm CXLVII sung by the Orphean Club and directed by George Sawyer Dunham, head of the Music Department.

Lasell's "Christmas Dinner" will be served at Bragdon and Woodland Park on Saturday evening, December 14. According to tradition each table will present some "stunt" depicting some phase of school life. Personal "slams" will be in order causing much merriment. The dinner will be followed by a dance at Bragdon Hall.

Dr. Stafford of Old South Church in Boston will be the speaker at the Christmas Vesper Service on Sunday, December 15. The Glee Club will sing several groups of Christmas carols. A Christmas Lullaby sung by Charlotte Ridley will be accompanied by the Glee Club, assisted by Clare Hightower, violin, and Jean Fosdick, harp.

On Tuesday morning, December 16, the students will bring Christmas gifts at the chapel service. Two infants' layettes have been prepared by the senior class. The sophomore doll, Dorothy Herring, named for the sophomore president, will be presented. These gifts are distributed among several missions and welfare societies.

Woodland Park School will hold their Christmas Musical and Play Wednesday evening, December 18. The "Dream Doll" will be played by members of grades 7 and 8. Woodland Park Chorus will sing Christmas carols.

"Why the Chimes Rang" will be presented on Thursday evening, December 19, by the Lasell Dramatic Club. The chief part will be played by Gladys Vuilleumier. Other members of the cast are: Clare Hightower, Helen Jordan, Jean Fosdick, Dorothy Aitel, Audrey Kaiser, Marguerite Boyd, Helen Roberts, Janet Fox, Natalie Jones, Eleanor Raymond, Lois Case.

The production is under the direction of Elizabeth Upham Stevens with Teresa Sweeney in charge of stage. On Friday morning, December 20, at 11 o'clock, Lasell closes for the Christmas recess.

PARAMOUNT—NEWTON

One of the most beloved characters ever delineated by the pen of an American novelist—that of "The Virginian," hero of Owen Wister's classic novel, has fallen to the happy lot of Gary Cooper, handsome young Paramount star, who will be seen and heard in the part when the picture comes to the Paramount Theatre for four days beginning Sunday. It will be Cooper's first all-dialogue role. Critics who have previewed the film have declared that he gives the most impressive characterization of the part ever known to stage or screen.

Walter Houston, famous Broadway stage star and more recently a sensation in the talking films is seen and heard in the role of "Trampas," who provides the menace in the play.

Richard Arien and Mary Brian are also co-starred with Cooper in the roles of Steve, the wayward buddy, and Molly, the winsome "school-marm."

On the same bill will be seen "The Girl in the Show," a story of the old barnstorming days when Uncle Tom's Cabin was the star attraction on the boards, a clever drama and a very enjoyable story. Thursday, Friday and Saturday, "Wise Girls," a riotous comedy taken from the story "Kempy," Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., will also be on the same program in "Fast Life," Loretta Young plays opposite Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.

Next Saturday four of the Newton Y. M. C. A. representative teams meet other teams at the "Y." In the afternoon the Squash Raquets team meets M. I. T. and the Junior Swimming team will meet Lowell. In the evening the Junior and Senior Basketball teams play the teams from the Lowell Y. M. C. A. starting at 8 p.m.

Y. M. C. A.

The Annual Swimming Meet of the Boy Scouts of Newton was held at the Newton Y. M. C. A. on Friday evening, December 6th. The officers and members of the Association are always glad to co-operate with the Norumbega Council in making this event possible because a large number of boys seem to take an enthusiastic part in the different events.

The Round Table Club, which is composed of members of former Public Speaking Classes of The Newton Y. M. C. A., met in the Association dining hall on Thursday evening. The tables were appropriately decorated, but all eyes were turned to the beautiful floral centerpiece which was given by Matthew Ruane, one of the members of the Club.

Dr. Horace S. Howe, President of the Club, introduced with appropriate remarks and stories, the members of the Club and their guests who spoke for five minutes on some favorite subject. Many very fine talks were given and by popular vote at the close three prizes were awarded. The winners were Mr. F. B. Eastman, R. M. Patterson, and Charles H. Clark.

Those present were: Dr. H. S. Howe, F. B. Eastman, H. J. Cunningham, Dr. W. B. Dort, F. J. Perry Jr., Dr. Geo. N. Abbott, C. H. Clark, John Chant, Charles J. Miller, J. Ernest Gibson, A. C. Zinck, Roy Edwards, R. M. Patterson, Dr. Roy B. Stevens, W. S. Bruton, H. W. Bascom, and Instructor Edw. M. Rowe.

Mr. Frank H. Grebe, who is Directors of Religious Education at the Second Church in West Newton, spoke very interestingly at the Fellowship Club on his trip last summer through Egypt and the Holy Land. The speaker next Monday will be Senator Arthur W. Hollis, who represents Newton in the Massachusetts General Court. His subject will be, "Some Important Matters of Legislation which will be up for decision on Beacon Hill this winter."

The Camp Committee met on Wednesday evening to make plans for the annual Banquet which will be held on Friday, December 27th, and also to begin preparations for the 1930 season at Camp Frank A. Day. Requests for reservations for the coming year have already been made.

Allan Sherman of the Newton Y. M. C. A. was elected President of the Older Boys' Conference held at Pittsfield, Dec. 6, 7, and 8.

The Newton delegation of forty boys played an important part in the Conference. James Benson presented Allan Sherman to the Conference and also was Chairman of the Committee on elections. Over 800 delegates gathered and Sherman was elected by 140 votes.

This is the Fifth election from the floor and Newton has had three Presidents. Tudor Bowen in 1925, Edgar Warren in 1927, and Allan Sherman, 1929.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

State Federation

PUBLICITY. As an indication of the value set upon press notices by the State Federation, the following is quoted from December Federation Topics. Surely the affiliated Clubs can not choose to scorn what is held so dear by the State organization!

PUBLICITY PLUS!

The codfish lays a thousand eggs. The boastful hen but one; But the codfish doesn't cackle Over what she has gone and done. We scorn the modest codfish And the boastful hen we prize— Which only goes to show It pays to advertise!

RADIO. Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., second vice-president, will broadcast a "Greeting" from WNAC, next Wednesday morning, December 18th, at 11:30 o'clock. Elsie Greenwood, Soprano, accompanied by Jessie Fleming Vose, are to entertain at 11:40. At 11:50, the Department of Co-operation with War Veterans will be represented by Dr. William M. Dobson, who will broadcast activities of the "U. S. Veterans Hospital at Bedford." Arthur Jones, Violinist, a talented ex-service man, is to play, and Marion P. Gale will read her original poem.

CONUNDRUM TEA PARTY. A most interesting New Year Party, and an innovation, indeed, is the clever idea of a "New Year's Civil Service Conundrum Tea Party" which will be given at the house of the chairman, Miss Marian C. Nichols, 55 Mount Vernon street, Beacon Hill, Boston, on Monday afternoon, January 6th, at three o'clock. Prizes will be awarded for the best answers to simple questions on the Merit System and the Spoils System.

Those planning to be present should send in their names in advance to the chairman, who will furnish them with further material on the subject.

On the three following Mondays in January, at 10:30 a. m. the Civil Service Department will conduct at 55 Mount Vernon street, Boston, a study course dealing with Good Citizenship Work and the application of the Merit System to the Public Service.

Members of Citizenship Training, Civil Service and Legislative committees, as well as all other interested Clubwomen, are cordially invited to attend both the Civil Service tea and the study class.

RELIGION IN THE HOME. Mrs. Lauren L. McMaster, chairman of the State Department of the American Home, offers a suggestion that merits the thought of Clubwomen and of ministers of the Gospel who regret the passing of respect for the Sabbath. Modern life, so-called, seems to have dropped from thought the meaning of this one day of the week when minds are turned to less material affairs and to introspection and inventory of the values of character and of the spiritual. Sunday School and church seem to have been replaced by coasting, or street playing.

Mrs. McMaster suggests that "we set a mark for ourselves, and have a 'Religion in the Home Sunday' in every church in our town before February 1, 1930, asking our pastors to preach upon this subject." The result would be interesting, as well as providing an excellent topic for discourse. Harry Emerson Fosdick, in World's Work for February, in an article "Teaching Your Child Religion," says: "When parents say that they are not teaching religion to their children, they are deceiving themselves. They can not help teaching religion. Religion is at least the sum total of life's reactions to the universe, and every home turns out children inclined to view life as a whole, either confidently or suspiciously, trustfully or fearfully, loyally or selfishly, sacrificially or desparingly. To say, therefore, that a home can escape teaching the child anything about religion is nonsense."

Our homes create in the children those basic attitudes of which all the subsequent conscious experiences of God and elaborate theologies about him are but the application."

Since this is true, there rests upon parents the responsibility of imbuing children with respect and reverence for the spiritual and for the day set aside for its consideration, rather than to allow to take seed in their thought that this is a day for outings and play-time, which at the same time selfishly interferes with the atmosphere of quiet and peace which respects of that day are seeking. Even in the material, business world men of high place are openly speaking of the seeking for spiritual rather than for material progress. Roger Babson, in the Forum for May 1929, in his article "Twenty Ways to Make a Million," says: "Sooner or later as inventions multiply and people find themselves no happier than they were before, there will come a shift of emphasis in our research. The competent and brilliant minds which, so far, have been directing their energies toward the development will turn to the study of God and true religion, and when this task is seriously undertaken, no one will be able to predict the great things that may be accomplished."

Shakespeare Club

Mrs. W. B. Blakemore, president of the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands, is in charge of the "Review" of "Romeo and Juliet" which constitutes the afternoon's program on Saturday, December 14th. The Club will enjoy the hospitality of Mrs. James F. Cooper of 2 Kingston road for the meeting.

Waban Woman's Club

On December 16th the Waban Woman's Club will be entertained by the Domino Marionettes, Members' daughters, of High School age, and the Peabody Home children are invited to this meeting. The appeal of the Marionettes is universal and enjoyable to audiences of any age. Mr. Ernest Sackett and Mr. Charles Ranson have perfected the technique of their performance to the skill of professionals, and at the same time have made a very exhaustive study of the history of the Marionette shows. Mr. Ranson will give very briefly some of the most interesting facts concerning this unique form of entertainment. An additional performance will be given at the close of the meeting for the children of the members of grade school age. Mrs. Robert Hamilton and Mrs. Vernon Durbin will be hostesses at the social hour.

At the last meeting the membership of the Club was increased from four hundred to four hundred and fifty.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The second in the series of "Afternoons with Books" being enjoyed by many members of the Newtonville Woman's Club, will be held on Monday, December 16th, at 2:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. John W. Byers of 154 Lowell avenue, instead of with Mrs. Corson as stated on the calendar. The Negro in Present-day Literature will be the subject, and Mrs. J. Walter Allen and Mrs. Harold C. Bond will read selections from negro poetry. The regular meeting on Tuesday, the 17th, will be given over to the Christmas Party, where fifty children from Newton, will be the Club's guests. They will be entertained by Mr. Fred Kriss, who, dressed as a Santa Claus, will perform feats of magic. The Boy Scout Bugle and Drum Corps will furnish the music. Club members are invited to bring their children that they may share in these festivities, that promise so much pleasure.

Social Science Club

There will be no meeting of the Social Science Club on December 18th. The next meeting will be on January 8th.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

On Friday, December 20th, at 10:15 a. m., the Education committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club will hold the second in a series of Informal Talks given by Club members. Mrs. Everett W. Varney will discuss Art. Mrs. Harold R. Keller will give a short talk on Drama. Mrs. H. Archibald Nissen, of the Music committee, will speak on that subject, and Mrs. E. Raye Speare, chairman of the Literature committee, has asked Mr. Norman Hall, of the Norman A. Hall Bookstore, to give a timely bit of information regarding the best of the current literature. These Informal Talks are open to all Club members and are arranged by Mrs. Alden H. Speare, chairman, and a most helpful committee composed of Mrs. Frances A. M. Bird, Mrs. George N. Crosbie, Mrs. Melville D. Liming, Mrs. John Metz, Mrs. Frank W. Scott, Mrs. George A. Boyd, Mrs. Harry F. Friedman, Mrs. John R. Litz, Mrs. Rens E. Schirmer and Mrs. Albert R. Speare.

On December 27th, at 2:30 p. m., the Newton Centre Woman's Club will hold its monthly business meeting, following which the Legislative committee will have charge of the program for the afternoon. Mrs. Wenona Osborne Pinkham, chairman, and her committee have arranged for Mr. Edward A. Weeks, Editor-in-Chief of the Atlantic Monthly to speak, his subject being "Book Censorship." This will be followed by an illustrated lecture on the "Work of the Children's Commission," by Mrs. Wenona Osborne Pinkham. The "Children's Commission" was created by Act of the General Court of 1928—"Relative to dependent, delinquent and neglected children and other children requiring special care." Tea will be served by the Refreshment committee.

Mrs. George Willard Smith, chairman of the Public Health committee, offers a course in First Aid, conducted by the Red Cross, in five weekly lessons beginning Monday, January 13th, at 10 a. m. If twelve register, the cost will be $2.50 each. A complete First Aid Course of 10 lessons, which gives one a certificate from Headquarters, will be given for $3.00, if enough register. This committee also announces a Gymnasium Class of ten lessons for $5.00, to be held in the Clubhouse at 9:30 Monday mornings. There will be exercises with Indian Clubs, Callisthenics, reducing exercises, and dancing. This class will start immediately after the holidays. Members of the Public Health committee are: Mrs. George Willard Smith, chairman; Mrs. I. E. Dierdorff, Mrs. Denton G. Nutter, Mrs. Murray P. Horwood, Mrs. Leonard Rowley, and Mrs. W. Ratcliffe Waldo.

Community Service Club of West Newton

Mrs. Claude U. Gilson's next Current Events talks for members of the Community Service Club of West Newton will be on December 20th and January 3rd at 10:30 a. m. at the Unitarian Parish House.

Professor Sophie Hart, of Wellesley, will give four talks on current books on the fourth Mondays of January, February, March, and April at the Unitarian Parish House, for the enjoyment and information of members.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The Christmas party, which the West Newton Women's Educational Club is giving for the fourteen children, whom they are to entertain, will be held at the Unitarian Parish House on Friday, December 20th. Dorothy Brackett and Marguerite Carley will give solo dances.

Mrs. Shepherd Crain will give a solo and also lead the Carol singing. Santa Claus will be present to greet the little folks and the Club is sure there will be something in his pack for each little guest.

The tree will be trimmed by the Juniors. Mrs. William C. Worth is in charge of the program.

Waban Woman's Club

The three-act play, "Hay Fever," written by Noel Coward, and produced by Alan Hay, was presented by the Drama committee of the Waban Woman's Club, on the evenings of December 5th, 6th, and 7th to capacity audiences. This play, which was given for the benefit of the new Waban Public Library, was a great success, socially and financially, and a large amount of money was raised for the library fund.

The cast, which was chosen entirely from Waban residents, included Mrs. Benjamin Stevenson, Mrs. Frederick Williams, Mrs. Edward N. Chase, Miss Helen Preston Ellis, Miss Naomi Elizabeth Ellis, Mr. Edmund Whitten, Mr. George R. Walker, Mr. Carl Harris and Mr. Doane Arnold. Mrs. Warren K. Russell had charge of the scenery and stage setting. The crew for the attractive program was designed by Mrs. Roland Pease and Mrs. Raymond Wells of the Art committee by the Club. Music was furnished by Louis B. Haffnermehl and his orchestra. Mrs. Hector Holmes assisted Mr. Hay in coaching the play.

Mrs. Reuben M. Ellis, chairman of the Drama committee, and her committee, cannot receive too much credit for their capable handling of this big community project. Mrs. Ellis gave a supper party after the last performance on Saturday night, to which were invited Mr. George Bullock, president of the Waban Neighborhood Club and Mrs. Bullock, Mrs. George Reinhardt, president of the Waban Woman's Club and Mr. Reinhardt, all members of the cast, and the Drama committee, with their respective wives and husbands, the ushers and girls who sold candy at the performances. About seventy-five were present at this enjoyable celebration.

hard to make the Tenth Annual Christmas Sale a success, have been much gratified at the good attendance and resulting large sales during the days December 4th to 7th. The newly-erected sign outside the Workshop was a forerunner of the attractive display one found in the basement.

In addition to the usual handiwork of all sort, the committee had this year concentrated their efforts on smocks, designed and made under the supervision of Mrs. E. D. Wallace, ranging from gingham to hand block-ed; all bore evidence of the handiwork of the committee and, within an hour's time, all but four were sold. Tea was served each afternoon and the comments of the visitors proved that both the hospitality and ability of the Art committee were appreciated.

The Workshop will continue to be open Tuesdays and Fridays, from 10 to 4 o'clock until Christmas week. The "Indian Jewelry" which arrived the last day of the Annual Sale will be a feature of the Tuesday and Friday openings.

Community Service Club of West
Newton

On Wednesday afternoon the Community Service Club had the pleasure of listening to Father M. J. Ahern of the Jesuit College, at Weston, on "Science versus Religion." Father Ahern is a geologist of note, and was for several years the president of the Jesuit College in Buffalo. He is now a teacher of science, philosophy and theology. His lecture brought out the following. He defined science as a method by which each devotee was searching for truth. When truth is discovered it then becomes the duty of the discoverer to check this truth by facts. In so doing he frames hypotheses to fit the facts, discarding all which do not help. This being done, he must convince his fellow scientists of the new law. This is his hardest task. In many cases it has taken fifty years for the acceptance of laws, as shown by the labors of Jenner, Pasteur, and Lord Lister. Showing that a fact in religion cannot be replaced by an hypothesis of science, or religion replace science, he quoted statements of other noted scientists to show that all but about 5 per cent of the scientists wish to be known first as religious men, believing in God as the centre of the universe. This belief they felt necessary before there could be any understanding of science. In speaking of evolution Father Ahern said that the laws passed had hampered only a small group. It is impossible to legislate truth. Man must accept the truth. Then he may question the facts. When the scientist looks at the flowers, or the insects, or the animals, he sees thousands of species, varying slightly from one another. Finally he recognizes that all are controlled by two great laws,—heredity first; but in this there is variation. There are two ways to think upon this, either God creates the variations, or God created the world and gave it the variations according to laws. So far scientists are not agreed upon Evolution, except that it is God's way of bringing this world into existence.

Auburndale Woman's Club

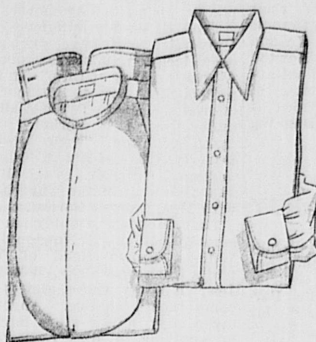

The Business and Professional Women's Group of the Auburndale Woman's Club held a Christmas Party in the "Lounge" of the Auburndale Club House on Monday evening, December 9th, at 8 o'clock. A large Christmas Tree, beautifully decorated, was laden with gifts for the cripple children of the Canton Home for Cripple Children which is located at Canton, Mass. The gifts included games, puzzles, teddy bears, monkey boxes, large rubber balls, jack knives, books, bracelets and dolls, a variety, surely, to suit every taste of the ages of the "children" which ranged from five to eighteen years. Miss Eulalie Markey and Miss Agnes Strang selected the gifts for the group.

The meeting was opened with the singing of Christmas Carols, followed by a Cobweb Hunt, each member receiving a favor, after which Miss Lillian Gerrold rendered three vocal selections, assisted by Miss Pearl Hillard at the piano.

Miss Adrian Smith as Santa Claus passed out pop-corn balls and candy canes. Refreshments were served by Miss Nevette Smith, chairman, and

Christian Era Study Club

The meeting of the Christian Era Study Club on December 9th was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Perkins of 55 Aspen avenue. Mrs. Edward T. Edmunds in her paper, "After Napoleon" told of the miserable condition of France, with its land laid waste and heavy indemnities to pay, and of Wellington with an army of 150,000 men of every nation in it, to maintain order. She continued to recount now when Louis XVIII came to the throne, a man 60 years old, and gradually with this accession, through wealth of soil and with patience of her people France began to come back.

At the death of Louis, Charles X, a man 66 years old, came to the throne, who was not as favorable to the people, so that 35 years after the battle of Waterloo, Paris was in arms against the government edicts for freedom of the press.

ANNUAL D. A. R. XMAS PARTY

Mrs. J. W. Foster, 1058 Walnut street, Newton Highlands, opened her home on Tuesday, December 10th, to members and guests of Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R., for the annual Christmas party. Assisting the hostess in receiving were Miss Madeline Foster, Mrs. W. M. Brown, Mrs. R. J. Henderson and Mrs. H. H. Wardwell. Games, wearing apparel, writing paper, and a great variety of other gifts for war veterans were piled high on a table provided for that purpose. These will be divided among various hospitals for World War Veterans, as is the custom of the chapter. The regent, Mrs. Chester W. Tudbury, presided at the business meeting, which was full of interest. Reports of committees showed great activity in all lines of work. It was announced that Miss Edith McCann had accepted chairmanship of the Manual Committee, and Miss Madeline Foster of the Magazine Committee. The chapter voted to pay its quota toward a chair in Constitution Hall in honor of the Past State Regent, Mrs. James Charles Peabody. Two new members and one associate member were welcomed to the chapter.

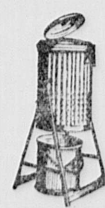

The social hour which followed was in charge of the chairman of World War Service Committee, Mrs. R. J. Henderson, who is intensely interested in this work, and communicated this enthusiasm to her listeners. Mrs. Henderson told of her visits to the hospitals, and showed several articles of beautiful workmanship made by the veterans. She then introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Corabelle G. Francis, who talked on "Rehabilitation." Mrs. Francis probably knows more about this subject than anyone else in Massachusetts, having been president of the Auxiliary of Newton Post No. 48, for a number of years. Music during the afternoon was furnished by the Legion Auxiliary Chorus, accompanied by Mrs. Helen K. Miller on the piano. Three selections including a Christmas Carol were delightfully rendered. This chorus of eight girls has been trained by Mrs. Henderson, and during the past year they have made many visits to Bedford and Chelsea Hospitals, entertaining the boys with songs pleasing to them. Besides the musical program, the chorus have also distributed gifts of fruit, candy, cigarettes and jellies, the veterans showing their appreciation by their cordial welcome and by their letters of thanks. Mrs. Henderson was accorded a rising vote of thanks by the chapter for a most enjoyable and instructive afternoon.

DO YOUR CHRISTMAS CLEARING EARLY

Make this the merriest Christmas possible for every family in Newton! How? One way is to check before you give. Call the Newton Central Council office (Newton North 7394) or send to them at 12 Austin street, Newtonville, a list of the names of families to whom you wish to give Christmas dinners. The Council will tell you whether someone has already planned a dinner for "your" family. If so, you can pass one on to someone else. It isn't so bad that some get more than they need, as it is that in that case others don't get enough.

Last year 98 duplications were avoided out of a list of 350 names, about one in every four. Let's try again to even things up!

Recent Weddings

McCOURT—SMITH

One of the season's most beautiful weddings was solemnized at St. Columbkille's Church, Brighton, on Thanksgiving morning at 8.30 o'clock when Miss Mary Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Smith of 5 Menlo street, Brighton, became the bride of Mr. Francis McCourt, son of Michael McCourt of 177 Concord street, Newton Lower Falls.

A solemn nuptial Mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Tracy assisted by Fr. Charles White and Fr. William Desmond. "Salve Regina" and "O Lord I am Not Worthy" were rendered by Mr. Joseph McCourt of Wellesley Hills, a brother of the groom. Miss Mary Powers assisted at the organ.

The bride wore a gown of white satin trimmed with tulle with a court train, over which hung a veil of tulle with a cap of Spanish lace trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of carnations, and wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

The maid of honor was Miss Elizabeth Smith, sister of the bride. She wore a gown of shell pink moire with hat to match and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Alice Smith, a sister of the bride, and Miss Edna McCourt of Wellesley Hills, a niece of the groom. Their gowns were of orchid and peach moire and tulle. Their hats were of silver color velvet. They carried bouquets of pink chrysanthemums. Anne Marie Keenan, four year old cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore orchid crepe with a wreath of cretanheums and carried a basket of petals.

The best man was Oswald McCourt, a brother of the groom of Boston, and the ushers were Frank and Daniel Smith, brothers of the bride, Thomas McCourt, brother of the groom, and James McCourt, a nephew of the groom.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

After an extended wedding trip to New York, Washington and Florida, Mr. and Mrs. McCourt will be at home after January 1st at their new residence, 275 Lexington street, Auburndale.

33RD BIRTHDAY OF D. A. R. CHAPTER

A resplendent birthday cake with 33 candles adorned the tea table at the meeting of the Lucy Jackson chapter, D. A. R., held on Monday, Dec. 9, at 2.30 in the afternoon. An appropriate gift was presented by the regent, Mrs. Livorus H. Howe and her mother Mrs. James H. Rand; two very beautiful silk flags of the nation and state with standards. These were carried to the platform by Miss Betty Howe and Miss Dorothy Newhall and the presentation was made by Mrs. Frederick J. Fessenden. They were received by the vice regent, Mrs. J. W. Garrity. The Star Spangled Banner was sung by Mrs. Edwin P. Crawe.

Miss Lucy E. Allen, sister of Miss Fannie Allen, the first regent, told the story of the founding of the chapter and incidentally gave an interesting picture of the early days of West Newton as she heard her father describe them. The first normal school in the United States was located in West Newton and Mr. Allen was principal of the model school in connection with it. Horace Mann, noted educator, lived for a time in West Newton and owing to the fact that his wife was a sister of Mrs. Nathaniel Hathorne, the illustrious writer made his home in West Newton. "Blithedale Romance" was written here. These distinguished people drew to their circle other writers and educators, forming an unusual group of talented persons.

Miss Allen had been brought up in an atmosphere of patriotism and interest in genealogy and when the suggestion was made by Miss Mary Greene, regent of Rhode Island, that a D. A. R. chapter should be formed in Newton, she and her sister were active in promoting this organization. They found 32 others of like mind and eligible for membership. Of these charter members there are eight at present in the chapter. What should the new chapter be called? The name of Lucy Jackson who tilled the soil while her brothers served in the Revolutionary war was chosen. Among the early activities were fine lecture courses and some of those who were heard were John Fiske, Thomas W. Higginson, Senator Hoar, Alice Freeman Palmer and Julia Ward Howe.

Uses to which scrap bags contribute were suggested in the request made by Mrs. F. M. Sherman who asked for crocheted cottons and silks and pieces of material a yard and more in length also knitting needles to be sent to Ellis Island. Mrs. F. W. Bakeman requested worn black silk stockings and other pieces of silk which can be utilized in the making of rugs by those engaged in occupational therapy. Mrs. Charles W. Hatch asked for magazines for the hospital at Northampton. Mrs. Amos R. Wells called attention to the need for preserving historical material of the period from 1770-1783. Much of this is being lost or going out of print. $100.00 will be awarded to the state offering the best bibliography of this time. Also there is a request for short character sketches of the women who did notable work in Revolutionary days.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Walker generously gave one hundred tickets to the chapter to sell for the concert they will give at Newton Centre Women's Club house on January 16. These tickets can be bought for $1.00 apiece and they may be purchased from Mrs. Howe or Miss Jordan.

The Mather Class

"The Nature of Law" was the subject of Prof. Kirtley F. Mather's lecture last Sunday morning at the regular weekly meeting of the Mather Class at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House.

This was the third in the series on "The Trend in Science." The other two lectures covered matter and energy, mass and motion.

We desire our faith to be in harmony with the physical world. Science has discovered what seems to be a world of law and order. Scientific progress is like an unrolling scroll. The more complete is the discovered dominion of law in the world, the more some people have worried for fear man might find himself shackled by law, which would determine every thing for him, and he would find himself merely a mechanical aggregation of automatic units over which he had no control.

Just what is the scientific concept of the laws of nature? Science uses hypothesis. That means guesswork. A guess is made that a group of things will behave in a certain way. The next step is to test the guess and see if, under the given conditions, the things will behave in the assumed way. If they do, we have a working hypothesis, which approximates the truth. It is not proved, but it is good enough for a working proposition. This is a sort of an averaging of behavior. Gravity is validated by many experiments which demonstrate how it works. The Newtonian laws, however, are only approximate. They are merely a useful hypothesis, not definitely provable laws. Science strives to formulate its findings in a general statement which will cover a multitude of experiments. Accordingly, in the special sense just described, gravity is called a law of nature. In 1250 it was merely a guess, and, what is more, it was contrary to the accepted notion of things. The senses did not verify it. You hold some light fluffy thing in one hand and a very heavy weight in the other and drop both things. The light thing appears to fall more slowly than the other. Aristotle took the verdict of his senses, thus casually observed, and said that feathers moved more slowly to the earth than heavy objects. The same view continued to be accepted for 1500 years.

Then along came Galileo. His father had sent him to the medical school to be educated at a physician. The young student had to go to chapel every day and found it something of a bore. His attention wandered and he noticed the great chandeliers of the Cathedral swinging. This was much more interesting than the service. His curiosity was stirred. Each chandelier swung steadily. He had no watch by which to measure the time of this pendulum swing. As a medical man he had to note the pulse beat of sick people. He was accustomed to test the pulse of the patient by his own pulse. Now he counted the swings of the pendulum-like chandeliers by his own pulse. He found the rates of swing were different for the different chandeliers. He made pendulums of his own and found that the variation in rate of a pendulum was determined by its length alone, and it made no difference how heavy or light the plumb bob was. That made him doubt Aristotle, for he saw that objects were attracted toward the earth in complete disregard of their weight. Then he went up to the top of the Leaning Tower of Pisa and dropped simultaneously a small weight and a 100-pound cannon ball. They both struck the earth at the same time. People saw the experiment but still believed Aristotle was right and Galileo a witch. They thought that Galileo had, by witchcraft, caused this remarkable thing to happen. Our present idea of gravity differs from Galileo. We say that gravity varies inversely as the square of the distance and directly as the mass. However, there is such a slight difference in the mass of small objects as compared with the earth, we may say that we agree approximately with Galileo. However, our own law of gravity may be, and probably is, only approximately accurate. The Einstein theory and the quantum theory indicate this. However, we have a working hypothesis, which for practical purposes works and is useful, perhaps merely useful. It describes the motion of objects, but does not tell why. All such laws as these are descriptive laws which simply state how things happen.

A second category of laws includes those which deal with crowds or great numbers of units, such as gases and thermodynamics. These laws do deal with individuals in the crowd, and are useful, because they describe the behavior of aggregates.

A third group of laws comprises the transcendental laws, which tell why things happen as they do. No statement of any transcendental law has been made which can be understood by anyone. There is real doubt whether there are any such laws. The laws which we do understand are the descriptive laws (the first group) and the laws of groups (the second one). No universal law has yet been formulated. There is no inflexible law that we know. They all have their limitations and exceptions. They are true only within limits, which limits can be transcended. The transcendental laws, if there are any, are the only ones which can or may be the absolute, ultimate, universal and inflexible ones.

You write on paper with ink and blot it with blotting paper. The wet ink rises against gravity. The conditions present in the porous, fibrous blotter are outside the field within which gravity works. The law of capillarity within its limits is supreme. Gravity works only on objects at some little distance apart.

There is some doubt about the possibility of an ultimate law. You can predict the behavior of molecules and get verification, because the molecule is a mass of units. You can tell when but not where an electron or proton will do something. You can tell where but not when it may happen, but you cannot pin any individual electron down to both time and space at one and the same time. It is like the expert life insurance man who can tell how many citizens in a given city will be alive 20 years hence. He cannot predict which ones will live. He deals merely in averages. Descriptive laws are true merely because of the law of averages.

To the physicist there is no absolute determinism. Laws of nature are laws of probability. Some one must determine the probability. There is control somewhere. There is no pre-determinism. New forces determine things in new ways, depending on the forces operating at the moment. There is freedom within law to use law-abiding purposes for fine ends. Horace said that the man who is free is the wise man who has learned how to govern himself. The uniform behavior of things makes human freedom possible. To be free, we simply have to be law-abiding creatures.

Historian; famous for his biting satire, who wrote at 21 the book, "I have Seen," which excited so much criticism and anger that he was shut in 'the Bastille' for 11 months, where he wrote one of his famous poems about his life there. When he was released he took the name of Voltaire, as he said, to see what fortune this would bring him.

Auburndale Review Club

In spite of rush of holiday preparations, a goodly number attended the Review Club meeting December 10th, at the home of Mrs. George E. Martin, greeting each other with "Have you voted yet?" Instead of the usual "Good morning." The president, Mrs. Charles E. Valentine, was herself busy with election duties, and the vice-president, Mrs. Ernest Drew, presided in her place. The read of the expected three papers, only two were given, owing to the illness of Mrs. George W. St. Amant. Mrs. J. Franklin Rider told of the "Venezuelan Dispute," starting back in the '70's, a dispute between Venezuela and her mother country, England, over boundaries. The trouble continuing long, Olney called upon the Monroe Doctrine to deter England forcibly from violent measures, and President Cleveland put the choice plainly to her of arbitration or less pleasant means. With his country, somewhat astonished, behind him, he appointed a special commission, which was shortly abandoned, and in 1897 the treaty agreeing to arbitration was signed by Venezuela and England.

Mrs. A. C. Farley told of John Hay's career, making his varied tasks, his personality, his great service to his country stand out most vividly. His early relationship with Lincoln, and its great effect on his future career and ideas was a most important point. His services in Paris, Madrid, Vienna, England, during all of which he found time for writing, journalistic work, and poetry, his "Castilian Days" being an outstanding work. His fifteen years' collaboration on the life of Lincoln also shows his literary ability. His special services, as Secretary of State, in insisting upon the "Open Door in China" well earned for him the title of "The Statesman of the Golden Rule." His very delicious humor was well illustrated by two letters, one written on his entrance at Brown, the other describing Napoleon III as he saw him at the French Court.

Two groups of songs most charmingly sung by Mrs. Dana Kendall, accompanied by Mrs. Musgrave, especially the "Holy Night" of Adams, added greatly to the morning's program.

At the business meeting, it was voted that the money raised by the food sale and bridge held January 14th be applied to the Club's share of $100 in the Foundation Fund. It is expected that the Club will contribute 100% to this cause, as it usually does to all good things.

Get Out the Vote

About 12,000 cards, urging the voters of Newton to cast the ballot at the city election on December 10th, were distributed to the homes in the city by the Scouts prior to Election Day. On Election Day itself, Scouts were stationed at many railroad stations and other points, urging people to vote before going to work or at sometime during the day.

Troop 9, Waban, George Graham Ross, Scoutmaster, created some very attractive original posters which were placed around the village early Tuesday morning. These posters read: "Troop 9 Asks You to be a Good Scout. VOTE" and in the center was a colored figure of a Scout at salute.

Swimming Meet

The annual Swimming Meet was held at the Newton Y. M. C. A. on Friday evening, December 6th. It was won by Troop 1, Newtonville, with a total of 43 points; Troop 11, Newton, was second with a total of 41½ points; Troop 5, Centre, third, with 34 points. In order they came Troop 18, Centre, with 19 points; Troop 4A, Highlands, with 18½ points; Troop 3, Nonantum, with 6 points; Troop 9, Waban, with 3 points.

Portmaster Harris, of the Seascout Division, was in charge of running the Meet, assisted by Messrs. Charles Allen and King, with three Eagle Scouts, Arnold Nichols, Alexander Pratt and Richard Schroeder.

Traffic Police Squad Inspection

The first inspection of the Traffic Squad, with Chief Robert Laverty and 42 Scouts of the Squad was held at the Police Headquarters on Saturday morning, December 7th. Chief Burke of the Police Department and Officer Kiley, in charge of training the Squad, complimented the Scouts on their appearance and their record of service to date. Photographers from Boston papers were present to take pictures and hear the story of the work of the Squad. The fame of the Newton Boy Scout Traffic Police Squad has spread so far that a magazine in the middle west has written on to ask for an article on the history and work of the group, for publication in their periodical.

A meeting of the Warren Junior High School group was held on Tuesday afternoon, December 10. Stearns MacNutt was named Sergeant and the Squad cut to eight active Police with four on the reserve list.

Leaders' Meeting

On Thursday evening, December 5th, the final year's meeting of the leaders of the Council was attended by about 40 men. A turkey dinner, prepared by Scout Commissioner Bierer, was served. Four twenty-pound turkeys were prepared; at each table (no Norumbega Council Scout affair has a head-table any longer) was a man armed with knife and fork, ready to carve for his "family". Messrs. Maynard Hutchinson, G. D. Marcy and F. W. Gilcreas carved and served.

Following the dinner, Major Mawe, representative of the Chief Scout of the World and founder of the Boy Scout Movement, spoke on English Scouting and the Patrol System. He stressed the fundamental value of intimate contact between the leaders and the Scouts and emphasized that Scout-character cannot, like automobiles and other commodities, be produced mass-fashion. He also told of the development of boy-leadership by the Patrol system and training the Scouts to run the patrol show. Plans for the coming season were discussed at the meeting.

Court of Honor

The Court of Honor was held at the Mason School on Friday evening December 13th, under the direction of the Eagle Circle. Eagle Scout Warren Dillaway, of Troop 4A, Highlands, was the officer in charge of the program, which was prepared by the Eagle Circle members. Professor Brooks spoke on "Natural Shelters" and the awards were made.

Jamboree Troop in Framingham

The Jamboree Troop attended the evening session of the Council Patrol Leaders' Conference of the Algonquin Council and performed their twenty and ceremonies before an enthusiastic audience on last Saturday evening.

Red Cross Course

Miss Norcross, through the courtesy of the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross, is conducting a course in First Aid at the Newton Centre Library every Wednesday afternoon. Scouts satisfactorily completing the Course will be given the Junior Red Cross First Aid Certificate and will also be awarded the Scout First Aid Merit Badge.

Other Notes

Troop 9, Waban, is concluding this week an interesting series of demonstrations in First Aid. The demonstrations began a month ago, with the first meeting devoted to showing the Scout First Aid film, which was largely prepared by Mr. C. F. Liscomb of the Board of Scout Examinations and Mr. John Bailey of Troop 19, Centre, Troop Committee, followed by a talk on First Aid by Mr. C. H. Ernst, co-editor of "First Aid for Boys", who is also Editor of The Open Road, magazine for boys. Mr. Ernst was formerly Deputy Commissioner of the Second District of the Boston Council of Boy Scouts. The next meeting, held in the auditorium of the Angier School, was under the direction of Scout Herbert Levenson, called "Doc" by the Scouts, assisted by Patrol Leaders Robert Cram and Vincent and Assistant Patrol Leader Kirkwood Brown. In this demonstration, cleverly simulated accidents by automobiles, electricity and other common hazards were carried out and all types of first aid were rendered, the

ROTARY CLUB

The regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club of Newton was held on Monday, December 9th, at the Woodland Golf Club at 12:15, President Charles D. Ansley presiding.

The speaker of the day was one of the Club members, Walter L. McCammon, Proprietor of the only store dealing exclusively in boots and shoes in Newton. He was introduced to the Club by Harry H. Hanson, Chairman of the Program Committee.

Mr. McCammon took as his subject, "Shoes and Ships and Sealing Wax." Nevertheless his talk was wholly confined to boots and shoes. He explained that the retail boot and shoe business has entirely changed in the last ten years, high boots being a thing of the past and low shoes being worn by both ladies and gentlemen for twelve months in the year. He further stated that weather conditions had more to do with business in general than any other one factor with which we all have to contend. He also believes that well lighted and attractive window displays, at any business location, not only add to the appearance of the business section even after the stores are closed, but shows definite results in the sale of merchandise.

Dr. Edward Mellus has been appointed Chairman of the Rotary Club Christmas Party, which will take place at the Woodland Golf Club on December 23rd, in place of the regular noon luncheon.

various steps in their treatment being carefully stressed as the work progressed.

On Friday, December 6th, Scout Levenson carried out the last of the demonstrations, with special reference to the needs of the 2nd Class scouts for their Board tests. The officers of Troop 9 have been especially pleased with the results obtained and feel that the Scouts who staged the meetings are to be highly commended.

Another project of Troop 9 was the making of signs for the new Waban library. The inter-trail contest produced splendid results and a great deal of originality was shown in the signs submitted. These signs are now marking the site of the Waban Library, which is under construction.

Richard Schroeder, Assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 4A, Highlands, is assisting Troop 18, Centre with the formation of their Drum and Bugle Corps.

The Lone Scout Tribe, the Flying Eagles, at the New England Penobscot Home for Crippled Children, is meeting with Chief Jim Cobb on Thursday afternoons at the Home. These Scouts are making progress and three new members will be added soon. The Eagle Circle, starting next week, is to send one or more of its number to help Chief Jim with the work.

Troop 4B, Highlands, Dana Sylvester, is working in Troop meetings with the Scouts on the proper handling of ice accidents. Last week a "pond," covered with ice, was drawn on the floor and a Scout who had broken through the ice was placed in the center of it. For ten feet around, the ice was thin and broken and the Scouts had to get that immersed Scout from the icy water with what they could find at hand. Mr. Sylvester reports some very keen and very practical solutions to the problem. This is actually preparing the Scout for possible ice accidents on Crystal Lake or elsewhere and there are many every winter.

Troop 3, Nonantum, is trying an interesting experiment, Scoutmaster J. M. Woodbridge, Jr. reports. Each patrol now has its own treasury and is fixing its own budget. Two of the Patrols have already voluntarily raised their own dues, that they may be able to buy more equipment. On Tuesday night last, Mr. George H. Crosbie, Assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 5, Centre, gave one of his famous talks on nature lore. Mr. Crosbie has had nature for his hobby for the last twenty years and is an amateur-expert in many phases of nature lore.

Troop 5, Centre, is holding its ingenuity contest on Tuesday evening, December 17th, when scouts will display, individually and by Patrols, what they have evolved during the past six months especially for this display.

The UScub

On Saturday afternoon last Professor L. O. Cummings, of the Harvard Graduate School of Education and father of two Scouts in Troop 11, Newton and Scout Executive, L. A. Bruce, Jr. attended a meeting in Springfield at which Dr. W. H. Hurt, the creator of the UScubs, the younger boy program of the Boy Scouts of America, spoke. It is a program which is almost ideal for the American boy from 9 to 11 inclusive. This Council has voted to adopt the program and two Dens, as the smaller groups are called, will be started in Newton experimentally, as Dr. Hurt has requested, soon after the first of the year. Professor Cummings is to attend the Executive Board meeting of the Council on Tuesday evening next and tell his reactions to the UScubs as an educator and as a parent.

At the Nobscot Reservation

Now that the snow has come, the Ranger reports that the birds are flocking to the bird feeding-stations in great numbers. There they get feed, properly mixed with grit and from now on the Reservation will be the commissary for hundreds of birds of all winter species common to this section. Suet will be provided and extra stations will be made. Troop 5, Centre, had a group at the Reservation recently with Mr. Crosbie and they built and covered feeding-station about four feet long which they will keep supplied during the winter.

The Ranger also reports quite a few deer came on the Reservation during

GIRL SCOUTS

Friday night, December 6th, the Annual Mid-winter Rally of the Newton Girl Scouts was held at the Auditorium of the Newton High School. Over 500 Scouts attended, and 40 officers, while the audience numbered about 700. Promptly at 7:30 the Newton Girl Scout Bugle and Drum Corps began to play, Drum Major Armada Lamont leading, and the Scouts marched into their places; Miss Caroline Freeman, Director for Newton, then conducted the Opening Exercises. The Captains' Report of the number of girls and officers present followed, and at this time Mrs. Raymond R. Collins, Deputy Commissioner, gave out Merit Badges. Service Stripes were awarded by Miss Freeman and each girl as she received her stripe placed a new star on the Service Flag—this is a new banner, dark green with gold edging, and bearing all the silver and gold stars which stand for Girl Scouts who have served Newton five or ten years. Miss W. L. Field and Miss Eloise Barber placed gold stars on the banner, to replace their silver ones. Twenty-six tableaux followed; the first three were presented by Waban troops and represented the work a Scout does for her Tenderfoot pin and her Second and First Class badges. The Merit Badges followed, all those required for Golden Eaglet being presented in a series of very striking and effective tableaux, which were accompanied by Miss Ruth Uford at the piano. At the close of these the audience realized the range and depth of knowledge which the Golden Eaglet pin included, but badges alone are not enough. The girl must receive a character award, and this Letter of Commendation was presented to Allison Thorogood of Troop 13, Newton Centre, who is this year acting as Captain of the Senior Troop. Mrs. Collins made this award, reading the letter to the audience and stating very clearly how splendid a girl must be to merit it. The climax of the evening came when Mrs. Edward F. Stevens of Wellesley, a member of the National Board of Girl Scouting, presented the Golden Eaglet pin to Lieutenant Virginia Brown, Troop 20, Newton, and Scouts Mary Stephen and Elsie Brandt of Troop 14, Waban. The Golden Eaglets of Newton welcomed these girls into the organization, and the Rally ended with Taps.

Christmas Shops are in full swing this week and next. Newtonville's is open at the Needlework Shop, Washington street, Thursday, Friday and Saturday; Waban also will hold one Thursday, Friday and Saturday, December 12, 13, and 14 at the Union Church; Newton Highlands Shop will be open on Monday, Dec. 16, at the Work Shop; and Newton Centre will have a Shop on Tuesday, December 17th.

The office will close December 23, at 5:00 P. M., and open December 30, at 9:00 A. M., closing again New Year's Day.

TO LECTURE ON THE ANCIENT SUMERIANS

Mr. Fred L. Smith, 22 Perkins street, West Newton, will deliver an illustrated lecture on "The Story of the Sumerians" or "The Dawn of History" at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church of West Newton at 7:45 p. m., Thursday, December 19th.

In preparation for this lecture Mr. Smith has given many months of study and research into the history and customs of the ancient empires of Assyria and Babylon and their predecessors. He has made also a personal visit to the University of Pennsylvania Museum to see the prehistoric materials brought back by the joint commission of the University and the British Museum from Mesopotamia. The slides to be shown Thursday evening were made up for him from the most interesting and helpful portions of this great exhibit which has now been divided and half sent to England.

Mr. Smith's interest in this subject was aroused because of its relation to the Bible. As teacher of the Men's Brotherhood Class of Immanuel Baptist Church, member of the Boston Baptist Bethel City Mission Society Board, chairman of the Industrial Relations Committee of the Massachusetts Federation of Churches and President of the Brotherhood of The Kingdom, Mr. Smith is well-known, not only among Baptist workers but also among leaders of every denomination in this area.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

There seems to be no escape. We've got to get down to business now and round up the last Christmas purchases. This talk of putting things off until after election won't go any longer. The election is settled. Christmas is due in 12 days and Santa Claus is waiting. Wotter goin' to do 'bout it?

After all it isn't a question of what you feel obliged to give or what you are going to give; it is what you'd like to give if you had the necessary resources. That's the spirit to take with you when you start smashing that Christmas club check all to pieces. If you find yourself saying, "I wish I had a lot more money to do with," then you are in the proper mood to observe the greatest festival of the year even if you are a bit off in your grammar.

I must say I dislike to listen to those who wail. "Well, I suppose I've got to give something to Lucy. She gave me a present last year that was a lot more expensive than I expected and I know she'll be looking for something pretty good from me." Nor can I sit still while another moans, "Why all this bother exchanging trifles every year. It's a silly custom anyway."

Now when you have the arguing urge over the giving of tokens you might as well shut up shop. It takes away all the fun and simply means that you're out of tune and that when you spend a dollar here and a dollar there you are as flush as old Gaspard the miser in "The Chimes of Normandy."

I'd much rather listen to the person who is struggling to make every cent go as far as it can be made to travel. That's real giving. It's better to be prudent in money matters than reckless, I'll agree, but in order to prove yourself worthy of the best holiday wishes of your friends you've got to show yourself more interested in filling the stockings of other people and less in the contents of your own.

As a native New Englander I got the usual "kick" out of the first fall of snow. Of course I have heard all the things they say about snow and how beautiful and beneficial it is. Sort of washes the air, they used to tell me in the rural sections; covers up a lot of germs and more than that it fertilizes the ground. I am ready to concede the truth of these assertions—at least I am not prepared to argue against them.

Yet I didn't become as enthusiastic as I might have when there seemed to be a certainty that we would have a sufficient amount of snow to shovel. Nevertheless I don't mind a little snow shovelling. It sort of provides a form of exercise that does one good. Then there is the satisfaction of looking at your accomplishment and thinking how smart you have been and how well you have shown a spirit of true citizenship by making a nice clean sidewalk for your fellowmen.

The storm that marked the beginning of winter found me all set. I waited up until 9 p. m. or thereabouts to be one of those early birds of which so much has been said in praise. When satisfied that the snow-fall had ended at least for a time, I marched forth with my wooden shovel and tossed off the white flakes as easily as one shakes soap chips out of a paper box. I began with the back steps and back path because I wanted to be sure that the milkman would have the right of way. Then I got around to the front path and the piazza. When it came to the sidewalk I performed with all the artistry of a high grade two-handed amateur shoveller. I first tossed off the light snow and then with the iron shovel I scraped off the hardened part which passersby had pounded with their feet until it clung to the concrete.

Without hesitation I admit that I did a great job. When I tumbled into bed I promised myself an early daylight view of the scene. It would be a pleasure to look out and see other people at work when my task had been completed. How I would gloat!

The next morning I sort of put off looking out the window. It was more fun anticipating the thrill. Finally, however, I was ready to indulge myself and I went to the front door. Opening it I found—not the results of my scientific labors of the night before but a whole lot more snow tossed up on the sidewalk by street plows. Yes, it's true that pride and falls go together, particularly snowfalls.

My other experience in connection with the first winter's snow I print as a warning. You may supply your own proverb after you have read it. It happened after the continuous passage of automobiles had sort of flattened out the snow. At that time there had been no thaw. Little thin slices of frozen snow, some the size of the new bills and some the size of the old ones and some still larger—almost hunks.

A friend I had not seen for some weeks stopped me to extend his greetings which I was glad to receive, although in a bit of a hurry. I mean that I was in a hurry to get some where and not in haste to receive his glad-hand. At any rate we stood there talking. Suddenly my eye lighted on something about six feet away that was half-concealed by a small chunk of snow. It looked like money. Naturally I kept the matter to myself. I thought it more prudent. While my friend continued, I tried to make out whether the coin in the road was a five-cent piece or a twenty-five piece. My mind was intent on that but I kept still. My silence was satisfactory to my friend who is one of those who likes a good listener.

The coin held me spellbound. "As soon as he goes I'll pick it up," said I to myself. "No one else will see it I am sure." And that was what I kept repeating. Meantime I had convinced myself it was at least a twenty-five cent piece and would fit nicely in my small change pocket.

That was where the matter stood and where we stood when my friend finished his yarn and said, "Well, so long, old topper." Gladly I replied, "So long," but at the moment two men appeared from behind and, passing us, stepped into the street.

"Gosh," said the first stranger, "that looks like money" and with that he grabbed the coin I had been studying.

"How much?" asked his companion. "A quarter," replied the first. "And easy money at that." With that he dropped my money—or was it my money?—into his trousers pocket.

A correspondent's letter of reminiscence shows something of the trend of the times. He goes back quite a few years but the point he makes is interesting. Here it is: "In a recent paragraph in your column of the Graphic you mentioned the occasion of Capt. Richmond P. Hobson's visit to Newton in 1902 when he spoke on 'Prohibition' Patriots' Day at Temple hall, Newtonville.

I was then in the senior class at the High School and I don't remember that Capt. Hobson spoke at the school. After speaking in Temple hall Capt. Hobson went directly to the railroad station and to my surprise, as I remember, he was alone, although I followed him. He had some few minutes to wait for his train to Boston and I entered into conversation with him. I have been a collector of autographs of famous people and he agreeably wrote his name on a card for me. I still have it—"Richmond Pearson Hobson, April 19, 1902."

"Two things impressed me greatly. First that he had lost some of his hair because the pictures taken during the Spanish War showed he had plenty of hair. I can understand how that would come about, for after 20 years' service in the Marine Corps (27 in all in military service) my hair is with me but nearly white and I still consider myself on the 'sunny side.'"

"The second thing that impressed me was that Capt. Hobson, who had been proclaimed a hero for nearly 'bottling-up' the Spanish fleet at San-Itago should come to our city to speak on a subject so vital to the welfare of our people and not be received more cordially or be accorded more honor, but to be permitted, to proceed to the railroad station alone. And so in the words of Raymond Hitchcock in 'The Yankee Consul,' I must ask, 'Ain't it funny what a difference just a few hours make?'"

The letter is signed by my long-time friend, H. C. Daniels.

Information has come to me that the matter of the cards on U. S. mail boxes at street corners and elsewhere is one of far greater concern that I had supposed. Carriers and collectors are expected to keep an eye on these cards and if they are not legible or the hours should be changed they must notify the office. One of our most efficient postoffice officials in Newton has notified me that if there should be an instance of a faded or defaced card or anything like that the postoffice should be informed. Prompt attention will be given, for that is the rule. This means service and we in Newton should be glad to learn that those things are closely watched. At the same time it is my pleasure to seek to correct any wrong impression that may have gone out and to pledge my personal co-operation.

The flow of political oratory in our own home town has ceased. Well, that's just as well, for stump speeches are things of which one may easily acquire an excessive quantity. You know what it is to listen to a long-winded tirade. Sometimes we are forced into a position that makes it necessary for us to submit whether we want to or not. Under such circumstances life is indeed trying. It calls to mind the man who sat in the front row at a discourse given by a learned individual who had not the facility of presenting his facts in an interesting way. The orator was doing his best but it wasn't getting over. The man in the front row fell asleep. His conduct upset the presiding officer who banged his gavel to call the slumberer's attention. So hard did the presiding officer hit the table that the top of the gavel came off and shot out in the audience striking the sleeping member of the audience on the head. The man waked up with a start. "Hit me again," said he, "I can still hear him."

TYDOL GASOLINE and
VEEDOL MOTOR OIL

Eighteen hours of the most difficult and hazardous flying ever undertaken . . .

But not a miss in their motors.

Climbing desperately up the slopes of glaciers—tossed by gusts of winds from mountains of ice . . . up-up-up 11,500 feet to the frozen polar plateau.

But not a miss in a motor.

"It was an awful looking place . . . a wicked place for an airplane to be."

Motor failure meant . . . better not think about it.

VEEDOL Motor Oil and TYDOL Aviation Gasoline brought them safely through.

The Byrd Expedition also took a supply of Hi-test TYDOL to the Antarctic.

What more convincing evidence for car owners that Hi-test TYDOL, Tide Water's great, green, motor car gasoline, and VEEDOL Motor Oil are the ideal combination for winter!

Hi-test TYDOL gives instant starting and quick acceleration. These are the qualities of a high-test gas.

Before the South Pole Flight we radioed: "How are Hi-test TYDOL and VEEDOL Motor Oil performing?" Back came this reply from Little America:

"Hi-test TYDOL starts immediately, even down here. VEEDOL Motor Oil also giving splendid results."

Fill up your tank with Hi-test TYDOL. Drain and refill your crankcase with VEEDOL, and be . . . "Ready to Go at 10° Below."

TERMS $3.00 A YEAR

Dr. Noyes, Retiring Minister, Signally Honored By Newton Centre Church

Presented With Gift of $26,000 And Made Pastor Emeritus of First Church in Newton

Rev. Dr. Edward W. MacArthur Noyes of the First Church in Newton the Congregational church at Newton Centre, was the recipient of a letter of credit of $26,000 Wednesday evening at a reception in the chapel of the church. The occasion was in recognition of his thirty-five years of service as minister of the church which comes to a close on January first with his retirement. During the afternoon delegates of the women's organizations of the church had presented Mrs. Noyes with a beautiful diamond bar pin.

At the evening affair Prof. Albert E. Bailey of Boston University presided. Judge Albert L. Harwood read resolutions prepared by the parish committee which paid a marked tribute to Dr. Noyes and named him pastor emeritus of the church. Mr. Frank H. Stewart, who made the chief presentation of the evening, said in part:

"This has been an evening of felicitation. Dr. Noyes has now reached the stage in his career which Dr. Arbuckle happily calls 'Active Retirement'."

"I fancy that if Dr. Noyes were to follow the fashion of the times and publish an autobiography, he would entitle it, 'Recollections of a Happy Life'. There would be the familiar chapters on New England Ancestry, Childhood, Youth, College Days, Then other chapters on 'My Early Ministry', 'The First Church, Past and Present', 'My Parish from a Bicycle Seat', 'The Luxury of a Ford Car', etc., and finally a concluding chapter, 'In Retrospect'. Every reader would arise from a perusal of that volume with the warm exclamation, 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant!' Each reader would have been deeply impressed with the buoyancy, the courage, and the faith of that life. None, who read that book carefully, could fail to perceive behind modest recitals those long years of self-denial, of little leisure, and of much less play."

"Apropos of that, I am reminded of a witicism on Chief Justice Taft's ample proportions. It is said that he is the most polite man in Washington, because he always rises and gives his seat in the street car to two ladies. Dr. Noyes, though of smaller stature, can lay claim to even greater physical distinction, for when he lays down the load he has carried so many years alone, it requires the combined power and strength of a minister and director of religious education to carry it on. Dr. Noyes would make light of that fact, I fear, and say with a disarming smile, 'Well, after all, it has been a Great Adventure'."

"When a Parish Committee was appointed to take counsel on ways and means of giving some tangible expression to Dr. and Mrs. Noyes of the affectionate regard in which they are held, these thoughts came to mind. The Committee decided that such an Adventure should now seek sunny lands and quiet waters; that he should have a passport to new places where he might again adventure, and have the 'wherewithal' to linger carefree with a beloved companion—that together they might there find new joys and enduring pleasures."

"The passport has been made out. The Men's Club has furnished credentials and letters of introduction. It is now my great privilege, Dr. Noyes, on behalf of the whole parish, to hand to you at this time, a letter of credit for $26,000. This is intended for the strictly personal use and benefit of Mrs. Noyes and yourself. It will be honored at full rates of current exchange wherever and whenever you may choose to draw upon it. We hope you will use it to procure some of the luxuries and comforts that hitherto you have denied yourselves; to indulge in journeys, big or little, at home or abroad; to make playtime of your own choosing, wherein light-heartedly you both may revive and refresh your youthful spirits."

"Always in Newton Centre you will have on deposit an unlimited fund of gratitude and friendship upon which to draw at will. Always from here fervent prayers and good wishes will follow your pathway."

"So now, we cheerily bid you Bon Voyage, and a hearty Godspeed, as you set forth upon new adventures in a happy life."

Au revoir!

The Newton Centre Congregational Church, the First Church in Newton, has called the Rev. Dwight J. Bradley of the Webster Groves, Mo., Congregational church to succeed Dr. Noyes who will go to Daytona Beach, Fla., for the winter to occupy the pulpit of the Tourist Church. He will maintain his home in Newton Centre, however, as the First Church has made him pastor emeritus with-out official duties.

Rev. Mr. Bradley comes from Webster Groves, a suburb of St. Louis, with high recommendations. He has been pastor of the church there for nine years and has built an outstanding congregation out of a struggling parish. He is an author of prose and poetry of merit. His recent book, "The Recovery of Religion," is hailed as of prophetic importance. He is thirty-nine years old and the son of Rev. Dan Bradley, D.D., of Cleveland, O., who was originally from Ohio, where he attended Oberlin College. In taking up the ministry he prepared for his life work at the Pacific School of Religion.

Previous to going to Webster Groves he held pastorates in Oakland, California, and in El Paso, Texas. He will assume his new duties here on Jan. 1, 1930. He will be the eleventh minister of the First Church in Newton, since it was founded in 1664, two hundred and sixty-five years ago.

Kligman Offers Public Apology

Ald. Grebenstein Drops Prosecution Of Libel Charge

Reuben Kligman of 456 Watertown street, Newtonville appeared in the Newton court last Friday to answer the charge of criminal libel preferred against him by Alderman George W. Grebenstein. Young Kligman had been the opposing candidate against Grebenstein in the recent contest for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 2. Judge Charles Brown of East Boston presided; City Solicitor Joseph W. Bartlett appeared for Grebenstein and David Mancovitz of Boston was attorney for Kligman.

When the case was called Mr. Bartlett informed Judge Brown that he and Mr. Mancovitz had agreed to ask that the case be dismissed in view of the fact that Kligman was willing to retract his accusation against Grebenstein and make a public apology. Mr. Bartlett commented that Newton has not been accustomed to such tactics as had been used in the recent campaign and that the action brought against Kligman should serve as a warning that such methods will not be tolerated in this city. Mr. Bartlett said, "Political campaigns in Newton have been heated and excited, but clean."

Mr. Mancovitz explained that Kligman is but 22 years of age, inexperienced in political affairs, apparently had been "egged on" by others, and would not have made the assertions he did had he been older and more experienced. He read the following statement signed by Kligman:

"To The Public Of The City Of Newton"

"In the recent campaign for the election of Alderman at Large from Ward Two in our city in which campaign Alderman George W. Grebenstein and I were candidates for the election, I, on the fifth day of December 1929, made a written statement:

"Can Grebenstein explain to the public how his car was supplied with tires for the past two years. I can explain that very easily. My father sold him these tires and after a little time he had paid and he had asked him to pay for these tires several times. Mr. Grebenstein said to my father: 'You have a petition in for a gas station and garage, forget the tires and I'll see that you get your permit for the gas station and garage.'" which statement I caused to be published and which appeared in the press of our city."

"Since the election I have given the statement thought and investigation and find that the statement was not true."

"I publicly offer my apology to Alderman George W. Grebenstein."

(Signed) REUBEN KLIGMAN.

Mr. Mancovitz also agreed that Kligman would pay the costs of the court, about $10, and that the retraction and apology would be published in the Newton newspapers which had printed the offending statement. Editors of the papers involved (of which the GRAPHIC was not one) had been summoned into court as witnesses but were not called upon to testify in view of the settlement of the case.

To Award Cups For Xmas Displays

The annual Christmas display contest of the Newton Business Associates will be held next Monday after four o'clock. Some important changes from other years have been made in the conditions of the contest. Instead of cash prizes three beautiful silver cups, properly inscribed, will be awarded. In previous years only the window dressing has been judged whereas this year the awards will be made on the merit of the entire Christmas display, including the window display, interior appearance or placement of merchandise. The judges will be Chas. F. Coyne, advertising manager of Filene's; Edwin C. Heisler, an interior decorator of repute; and John H. Kent, local manager of the Edison Co.

Mayor Childs Given Testimonial Dinner

Presented With Electric Radio By City Hall Associates

On Wednesday, December 18th, at the Brae Burn Country Club in West Newton, Mayor Edwin O. Childs was tendered a testimonial dinner by the City Hall Associates. The gathering, numbering 125, arrived at the club at six o'clock for a turkey dinner, and from that hour until 11.30 proceeded to have one of the most enjoyable get-togethers in the history of the Association.

To the accompaniment of the piano, the entire gathering sang their usual "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," and after a prayer by the Mayor, the dinner proceeded uninterrupted until at 7 o'clock, Leon Mayer, President of the Association, introduced City Solicitor Bartlett as toastmaster for the evening.

Mr. Bartlett said in part: "Mrs. Childs and Visiting Ladies, Your Honor, Mayor Childs, and Ladies and Gentlemen:

"This is the annual Christmas Party of the City Hall Associates. This party has generally been held on the afternoon of Christmas Eve just the time I am usually starting my Christmas shopping, so I have not been with you before. To punish me for my dereliction of duty the Committee in charge of this affair have called upon me to preside at this meeting. I think the RADIO broadcast last Wednesday night over Station WEEL, Mr. Mayor, is the cause for leading you to reasonably suspect that our mission here tonight is to do honor to you Sir and your gracious wife."

You have voluntarily brought to a close your administration of the affairs of our City lasting over a period of 16 years. I think you voluntarily did this believing that it might be selfish of you to continue and unjust to the ambitions of younger men. The fact remains that it was voluntary at a time when most people believed you could and hoped you would continue."

"When you became Mayor, Newton was not the worst City in the State; in fact, I venture to say that it was one of the best in its people, in its prosperity; in its christian life and in its government. How are you leaving it, and how have you kept the faith? What has transpired in 16 years that one can briefly speak of?"

"Are men of character still members of our Boards of Aldermen and school committees, serving without pay and giving of their time freely? I say they are and I claim to know because I was a member of the Board of Aldermen that first served under you, Sir, and have intimately known, through my official connection, the last ten Boards of Aldermen of your time. Will that fact be disputed by our next Mayor and the thousands of citizens who have so overwhelmingly carried the President of our Board of Aldermen into the Mayor's Chair?"

"Just before your entering into the Mayor's Chair our Police Dept. was involved in a most unfortunate scandal and a subject of much acrimonious discussion. Has that condition been straightened out? And how does our Dept. of Police, double in size, function today; only a word on that. One of the judges of our district courts, not a Newton man, said to me only last week—Bartlett, do you and your people really know and appreciate the ability, the courage, brains and fairness that your police force functions with? I sit in most all of the District Courts of Metropolitan Boston and there is not one of the police forces that equals yours."

"Our record in fire losses is second to none in Metropolitan Boston. Our chief, and you appointed him, Sir, and his men are recognized as competent and efficient without one breath of scandal attached to them in 16 years. "Newton's tax rate when you be-

Highland Glee Club Presents Fall Concert

Appreciative Audience Hears Enjoyable Program

In spite of the inclement weather Tuesday night, the Highland Glee Club of Newton, Inc., gave its forty-ninth concert at the Newton High School Auditorium, presenting George Boynton, Tenor, to an audience which filled the auditorium.

Let it be known at the outset that this band of male singers have every reason to be ranked among the outstanding male choruses of this section, and we are quite surprised on being informed that this splendid Newton organization is very much indebted to adjacent communities for some of its singers, as it numbers among its members men from Waltham, Lexington, Boston, Cambridge, Natick, Wellesley, Needham, Roxbury, Belmont and Arlington. This has resulted in the past few years in an enthusiastic following from each of these communities, which accounts in a considerable way for the audiences which attend these concerts.

No doubt, this fact will surprise many of our Newton folk who have thought of the Highland Glee Club as quite a local organization. It is too bad that the citizens of our own city should not encourage by their subscription and their attendance, also contribute of its vocal talents to maintain the high standard of musicianship which has been acquired under the able and capable direction of its Conductor, D. Ralph Maclean.

What we have said about the Glee Club is likewise true of the Newton Symphony Orchestra which has also become so well known, and is another musical organization, the excellence of which has likewise been enhanced by the same capable D. Ralph Maclean.

The acoustics of the High School Auditorium were considerably improved by the use of some sort of a sounding board.

The program comprised a variety of selections, ranging from appropriate Christmas carols and old English melody to a group of sea chanteys, and a composition by Kountz called "The Sleigh," which is being frequently programmed this year and heard over the radio this past week in the Mendelssohn Glee Club's program.

The soloist, George Boynton did two groups, and appeared once with the Club. His arias in the first part of the program, as well as the second group of songs, were done in the same

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

SPORT NOTES

Squash Racquet Series

The Newton Centre Squash Tennis Club Team A is still leading the race in the Massachusetts Squash Racquets Association team series thru its 3 to 2 victory over Harvard last Saturday. The local team has a .600 rating with nine wins and six losses in its fifteen matches to date. Last Saturday the local winners were Ralph Stuart, A. R. Holt, and R. C. Bray while Bill Rice, Jr., and E. F. Wales were defeated after five game battles. In the matches to date Ralph Stuart leads the Newton Centre club with a string of nine victories and no defeats, Rice follows with eight wins and three losses while Bray has better than a .500 margin with seven and six. Wales is just under this mark with six wins and seven losses while R. C. Bray has four victories and seven losses.

In Class B the Newton Centre team stands second with a 10 to 5 record. It has the opportunity to jump into the lead as it is but one full match behind the Harvard Club, now in first place. Last Saturday the Newton Centre blanked the M. I. T. racquetists with Welton, Buell, Patterson, Goddard and Alvord.

In Class C the Newton Centre team, having played but two matches while the majority of its opponents have played three, is third. In Saturday's matches the Tennis and Racquet Club downed the local team 3 to 2. Snow and Hicks scored for Newton Centre. Country Day, with but one match played, is tied for fifth with three other teams at 600.

In Class D the Harvard club has won all its fifteen matches while the Newton Y is close behind with but two defeats. Last Saturday the Newton Y shut out the M. I. T. team, Halsey, Roberts, Millard, Sullivan and McCracken, all winning. In other Class D matches both the Newton Club and Country Day were blanked by Harvard 3 and the Harvard Club. Curiously enough Country Day has the reverse rating of the Y and the Newton Club the reverse of the Harvard Club.

Middlesex Bowl Competition

Competition in the Middlesex Bowl championship tournament will begin tomorrow at the Newton Centre Squash Tennis Club courts. The first bowl was retired some years ago. On the second bowl Paul Watson was two legs and Myles Baker, Ralph Powers, and Bill Rice, the winner last year, have one apiece. The semi-final and final round matches will be played on the Newton Centre courts but the preliminary round matches may be played elsewhere.

Local Youths Star

Every year at Huntington school, Boston, track and swimming competition is held by the athletes there who are divided into two teams, designated the Blacks and the Maroons. Last week Friday afternoon the Blacks defeated their opponents in both divisions. In track the margin was 73½ to 63½ and in swimming 57 to 49.

Local youths played a prominent part in the track event. William Floving, of Newton Centre, who is captain of the Huntington track team for the coming season, was the high scorer of the meet with ten points. As a member of the Maroon team he took first in the low hurdles, second in the senior 45-yard dash, and tied for second in the high jump. He won the right to have his name engraved on the trophy. During the Christmas vacation period week three practice sessions will be held, on Monday and Friday and the following Monday. While school is in session practice is held daily. The first meet will be with Watertown high on the Newton track on Saturday, Jan. 4th.

Lack of sprinters is Coach Enoch's big problem this year as graduation took Bob Ewing, Carl Pesosky, and Dick Reynolds, Newton's star trio of a year ago. But there are several candidates who show much promise. Naturally they lack competitive experience and may fall down under pressure. The foremost dash men include Quinlan, a member of last year's squad for a time; Morris Green; Walter Holmes, a negro lad; and Joe Antonelli, a member of the team.

In the 300-yard run there are a dozen lads already doing under 40 seconds which is exceptionally good two weeks before the season opens. A number of these, of course, are doing considerably better than that figure. A lad named Mouser is the fastest looking of the group but the rest are right on his heels. They include Sabbatti, Pouloit, Deffen, Guzzi, Jarrell, Chalmers, Cahill, Dewing, Hatchell, Sloane, and Shorten.

In the 600-yard run Captain Charlie Hall will carry the burden. He ran both the 600 and the 1000 at times last year but the shorter distance is his best. In addition Williams and Peter Ryan are battling for the place behind their captain.

The 1000-yard run will be well taken care of by the Signore brothers, Vincent and Augustus. They are running all the year round being members of outside athletic associations which enter teams and individuals in 10-mile and cross-country road races. Both the Signore brothers have won the annual 10-mile road race of the Waltham Chamber of Commerce with in the past few years and have also placed well up in the New England amateur championships. Vincent's latest achievement was to place 15th in the national cross-country championships in New York two weeks ago as a member of the Dorchester Club. His points in this event aided the Dorchester Club in winning national team honors with a score of 33 points for five men.

In the broad jump Morris Green is doing 9 feet 2 already which for the first week is exceptionally good. Other

WINTER SPORTS ATTRACT MANY

Despite the fact that on each of the three winter athletic squads, track, hockey and basketball, at the Newton High school there but one letter man available for the coming competitions there is considerable interest in the three sports. The "three-year" rule has furnished the reason for the lack of veteran material but undoubtedly it has stimulated the interest of many others in school to compete for places on the various teams as they know that there are many positions open. A total of over three hundred and fifty lads are candidates for the three teams. Coach Donald Enoch of the track team said this week, "never in my five years at Newton high have I seen a larger or more enthusiastic squad working out." While not exactly optimistic over the outlook for the season the Newton track coach hopes to develop a well-balanced aggregation for the coming dual and interscholastic meets. The only letter man on the track squad is Captain Charles Hall, the outstanding 600-yard and hurdle man on the team. A total of a hundred and fifty odd candidates are working out under Coach Enoch and Thistle with about ninety reporting each day. Coach Dr. Martin of the hockey team has only Captain Fred Schipper as a letter man but on the first day of practice there were 104 candidates for the sextet. Last Monday, the first time the squad was on the ice a series of games was played. Seven ten minute contests were no way except some of the goalies taking part in more than one, were played. In basketball Coach Green had well over a hundred candidates for the various teams when practice was started. A cut was made last week and the varsity squad pruned down to about twenty. The remainder were divided into the other squads with but few dropping out entirely. In all three sports there will be teams in addition to the varsity outfits. In track a second team will be formed, for the first time in the history of the school, and meets are to be arranged with the Medford high schools and Boston English High intermediates and juniors. This latter fair is attracting much attention as it will not only tend to keep the interest of the boys now out for this form of athletics but it will develop material for future varsity competition by giving them competitive experience. The Boston schools have a system of dividing their athletic material into three divisions—seniors, intermediates and juniors. The senior group corresponds to the varsity group in schools such as Newton. The intermediates are limited to a height of 5 feet 5 inches and under 17 years of age while the juniors are under 5 feet 1 inch and less than 15 years of age.

In hockey, as usual, there will be intermediate and junior varsity hockey teams with a schedule of their own. In basketball several other teams will be formed besides the varsity. An intermediate, junior, and freshman team will take the floor while it is possible that class and room teams will also play an intramural schedule. The freshman basketball team, possibly two, will play in the junior high school league with teams from the Frank A. Day, Levi F. Warren and Bigelow schools.

This afternoon an informal track meet is being held by the track squad. During the Christmas vacation period week three practice sessions will be held, on Monday and Friday and the following Monday. While school is in session practice is held daily. The first meet will be with Watertown high on the Newton track on Saturday, Jan. 4th.

Lose Meet by Five Inches

The Lowell Y. M. C. A. junior swimming team gained a 27 to 24 verdict over the Newton Y junior mermen last Saturday afternoon in the local tank by winning the relay race by the scant margin of five inches. MacElroy, the Lowell star performer, won the meet for Lowell by nipping Guthrie of Newton on the final leg of the relay race. Davidson and McNamara were the Newton stars with ten points each. Davidson won the breast and backstroke races and McNamara the dive and 100-yard freestyle events. The other four Newton points were scored by Guthrie with thirds in the 20-yard and 100-yard freestyle races, Wittens, third in the breaststroke, and Batstone third in the backstroke.

Purcell's Basket Wins

Purcell's last minute goal from the floor provided the Newton Y. M. C. A. basketball with a one point margin of victory over the Lowell Y five on the Newton court last Saturday night. The game was spectacular throughout and the winning basket placed the score at 41 to 40. Purcell tallied seven goals from the floor and four from the foul line for a total of 18 points for the highest individual score. Arthur Kohler, Newton centre, counted ten points, Benedict eight and Rae five.

Lincoln Wins For Yale

Last Saturday night the Yale swimming team opened its season by taking six of seven races in the annual meet with the Alumni. Hamilton Lincoln, a local youth and former Country Day star, won the 50-yard dash for the undergraduates.

nine foot jumpers are Edward Offutt and Thomas Mariner. The best mauler in years is in the high jump, Morris Green and a lad named Champion are showing fine style and will be doing 5 feet 7 inches when the season opens. Right behind them is John Grist, a lad from East Orange, N. J., who is also trying out for the basketball team.

In the shot put Coach Enoch has a big, rangy youth named James Colligan who is tossing the pellet nearly forty feet every day. He is a natural athlete and may be the "life-saver" of the team. He played tackle on the football team part of the season but was forced to give up the sport for a couple of weeks in the middle of the season by the doctor's orders which prevented his making a letter. But at track he should have no difficulty and if he learns to start fast he may be the best dash man on the team.

Captain Hall will double up the 600-yard run with the hurdles and for companions in this event will have one or more of the following group. George Bartlett, Robert McCabe, Irving Fine or a lad named Gaw. Nearly all these lads are juniors and will be eligible another year. Captain Hall is the only senior.

In hockey Dr. Martin will necessarily build around Captain Schipper. As soon as the weather clears and the ice is in good shape the squad will get out again. Among the forward candidates who are showing up well are Donald Donnelly, school golf champion; Frank Cooney; R. J. Kelley; Norman Appleyard, a member of the football squad; Nick Champagne; Warren Colby; George Hildreth; Walter Blackler, a sophomore; Norman Walker, James Barry, Vincent Sharp; and Samuel Adams. The defense will be picked from Charles Butler, end on the football team; Walter Billings; James Sutcliffe, brother of a former defence man, Bill Sutcliffe; Richard Vittum; Natale Sostilio; K. Kosroffian, Gordon Linberg, football tackle who transferred from Evanston, Ill.; Thomas Mackin; John Shaughnessy; Bernard Litchfield, football halfback; William Gow; Alexander Kevorkian, Jr., a brother of Ed Kevorkian, former Newton and Brown athlete; and Dick Hennessy. The latter is not eligible at present but will undoubtedly become so at the end of the next marking period, early in January. For goal tenders several football men are among the leading candidates. They are Edgar Moore, 185-lb. guard; Harold Oldrombom, captain-elect of football for 1930; Robert Bell, sub-quarterback early in the season; Edward Smith and Albert Robinson. Bell was on the track squad a year ago but a bad ankle has caused him to forsake that sport and take up hockey where a position in the net will not be too much of a strain.

Coach Green was able to get a line on the basketball team on Wednesday afternoon when the varsity squad played a team composed of members of the faculty. The faculty won, 38 to 30, with Coach Green the high scorer with seven goals from the floor. Herbert Tinker, another faculty member tossed in six baskets for twelve points while John Sullivan, the football coach, scored several long shots.

Frank Simmons, trainer, and "Jeff" Jones, assistant baseball coach, each caged one from the floor with Simmons adding a point from the foul line. For the varsity Bob Seaver had the best eye. He caged three goals while in the game while Captain John McCarthy at centre tallied five points.

Perry Elrod, forward, and George Jones, sub-centre, each counted four points. John Grist, Harold Scholl and Jerry Leone, forwards, and George Gullian, cousin of "Mike" Gullian of Newton and Brown athletic fame, each scored a field goal. Gullian also added a point from the foul line.

Many other substitutes were used by the undergraduates in their efforts to win the game while the faculty used but two substitutes. In addition to those mentioned above Abner Bulley and Charlie Considine played for the faculty. The schoolboys tried hard but failed to find the basket. Possibly the lads may develop as the season comes on.

Fred Warren of West Newton is a prospective candidate for the forward line.

Dexter Has High Single

The bottle-putt roll-off of the two highest men on each team of the Newton Bowling League was held Wednesday night on the alleys of the Middlesex Sportsmen's Association at Arlington. Hunnewell was fourth with 1792, Newton fifth with 1734, and Waban last with 1705. Dexter of Hunnewell had the high single with a 227 on his fourth string. Holmes Whitmore of Newton Highlands, another Newton High graduate was at right wing for the Terriers.

TESTIMONIAL DINNER TO MAYOR EDWIN O. CHILDS

came Mayor stood well in comparative tax rates of the State and today, as you leave the administration of your office, we have one of the lowest tax rates of any city in the State and yet more for our money than we ever did. A great deal of that is due to the Board of Assessors. You appointed our departed friend—Henry Bailey—as Chairman of the Board of Assessors. Will anyone rise to say that he was not a competent, sincere and gentlemanly public servant? You appointed his successor—John Murphy—a man experienced in the City government with an adequate knowledge of the duties of the office.

"The gross debt of our City on Jan. 1, 1914 was $5,564, 800; today, it is $6,019,000, an increase of about 12% in 16 years. This figure is important because each year taxes have to be raised to pay the interest on this gross debt. Our valuation, however, in the same time, has increased from $83,607,320 to practically $165,000,000—an increase of 100%, so that the burden of interest on gross debt on the tax payer in 1914 was comparatively greater than the burden on our present tax payers for the same interest. Our loans have been paid on borrowings by our City Treasurer, with your co-operation, at probably the lowest rate of interest in the State—surely, the lowest with the exception of Boston and the Commonwealth.

"More money has been expended for what is termed 'charity work' through your Welfare Department and the City Clerk in a Christian way with an eye single for the public good than has ever been done before.

"Your Playground Dept., a taker of prizes in national awards, presided over by an unpaid board of your appointing has brought the dept. from that of one small place to a recognized and efficient lead in our civic work.

"Our population has nearly doubled as has the number of our homes during your time. Our industrial development has not been great and we are today certainly a City of Homes. Many things lead to that development that I could speak of; all functions of your government. Sir, but standing uppermost in the minds of new citizens and in the pride of old residents is the standing of our Public Schools and the development of our School Buildings. You have heartily supported the School Committee in every one of their requirements.

"An act pensioning laborers was accepted by the City just prior to your entering into office and you have administered that act to the satisfaction of the employees of our city and have sponsored special acts for pensions in both the police and fire departments and had them successfully passed by the Legislature. More recently you have sponsored and had passed by the Legislature a contributory pension system, or retirement system, open to all of the employees of the city.—An act at the present time being used as a model for other cities, not only in this Commonwealth, but in this country. In order that that might be done right you employed the recognized leading expert of the country to assist you,—an outstanding accomplishment. Sir, of your administration, which will be more and more recognized as time goes on.

"Your government has been a leader in the agitation against billboards in this state and our city today is practically free of them. Your government has passed a zoning law that is meeting the test of experience and has not yet been challenged. So I could go on Sir, in enumerating the accomplishments of your government and your departments.

"You would be the first to deny credit to yourself in the things that I have enumerated, but they are accomplished facts, and if any other man or group of men claims these accomplishments as having been done without your aid and advice, let him or them but try to prove it.

"This group of people does not meet in the spirit of 'The King is Dead! Long live the King!' We are loyal to our city and thus to you. We will be loyal to our city and thus to the new Mayor. You have our love and affection; he is to acquire that. He has an easy task, because we ready to give it to him. All that he has got to do is to have about 50% of the human heart and soul that you have given to us. 50% of your desire to serve our citizens and their servants without regard to wealth, poverty, beliefs, groups and parties."

Mr. Bartlett then presented a radio—a Kolster with remote control attachment—and a floor lamp, the gifts of the Associates to the Mayor. Arrangements had been made, and the radio tuned in, so that at 7:20 Big Brother was heard broadcasting greetings to Mayor Childs, in the imitable way Big Brother has of doing such things. Mr. Bartlett then continued to give a brief resume of just what has occurred in the various city departments during the sixteen years of service which Mayor Childs has given to Newton. Mr. Bartlett next introduced Miss Theresa Goddard, Secretary and Treasurer of the Association, who presented a basket of beautiful roses to Mrs. Childs. Mrs. Childs expressed her appreciation, and entertained the Associates by relating that she first learned that her husband was not planning to be a candidate for reelection when she read of it in the paper.

pers one day when she was visiting in New Hampshire. Such has been the experience of wives of other great men.

Mr. Bartlett then called on the various department heads, who told of their own experiences in their dealing with the Mayor, and expressed the love, respect, and appreciation which they all felt. The last speaker was the Mayor, who told in his own inspiring and touching way, of his happy experiences and associations in City Hall. The trace of sadness could not be concealed on the part of the associates, who realized they are losing from City Hall their kindly leader and sincere friend.

A vaudeville sketch was introduced in the form of a surprise, and the amusing stories and harmonica music were thoroughly enjoyed. A grand march, led by the Mayor and Mrs. Childs, was then formed, and the entire gathering joined: getting a lot of fun out of it. Dr. Lowe, in the capacity of Santa Claus, standing next to the beautifully decorated Christmas tree, gave out many and varied gifts. The orchestra then furnished music for dancing for the remainder of the evening.

This testimonial dinner to Mayor Childs was a huge success, and the associates expressed to the committee their appreciation for making the party such an enjoyable one. There were hats and noisemakers; souvenirs in the form of pocket-book-size sewing kits for the ladies; cigars for the men; boutonnières for the entire gathering; and everybody received a folder on which was the latest picture of the Mayor and which contained a poem, written by one of the members of the Association especially for the Mayor. Nothing was left undone, and this affair will always be a memorable one.

The committee in charge was Leon Mayer, President; Theresa Goddard, Secretary and Treasurer; Ebba Cullen, Vice-Pres.; assisted by the following: John Feeney, George E. Stuart, Frank Grant, Cecil C. Chadwick, Irving House, J. Clifton Whitney, Miss Florence Fitzgerald, Albert Morse, John W. Murphy, Miss Elsie Dunleavy, Miss Sue Snow, Mr. Ernest Hermann.

The following is the poem written as a tribute to Mayor Childs:—
We gather round this festive board,
On this night of all others,
A company of loyal friends,
As sisters and as brothers.

One hundred strong, and more, we come
To pay our tribute fair
To one who now for sixteen years
Has been our honored Mayor.

Through cloud and sunshine e'er the same,
His courage we recall—
His gladness always to extend
A helping hand to all.

His cheery smile,—his cordial way,—
His kindness as a neighbor,—
The inspiration he has shed
Along the path of labor:—

impeccable style which always characterizes his singing.

Mr. Boynton's boyhood days were spent in this city. He is a graduate of Newton High School and Amherst College, and holds a coveted place among the outstanding artists of this section of the country.

Sailors' Chanteys, five in number, arranged by Terry, lent a "salty flavor" to the concert. The Chantey Man was Mr. Frederic L. Huddy, baritone, another of Boston's well known artists, and a member of the Apollo Club. Mr. Huddy had a good time holding the anchor and trimming the sails, and, in general, taking care of an unruly crew. For an encore he sang another chantey which everybody enjoyed.

Mr. Ralph Talley, well known among Boston's singers, was also heard in two selections. It should be encouraging to the Club to attract men of this type, and is significant of the excellence of the work it does. Mr. Talley's resonant and delightful voice should be heard more in the future being a valuable addition to the organization.

Ernest Harrison was Mr. Boynton's excellent accompanist, and Carl Switzer was, as usual, accompanist for the Glee Club.

The next concert will be held March 11th in the Newton High School Auditorium, and should draw a capacity audience.

A hardy group of twenty-five or thirty men from the Club, accompanied by a quartette of trumpets, will be heard during the early hours of Christmas morning, as is their custom. In Christmas carols—another commendable activity which this organization is contributing to the community life of the city.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Newtonville Woman's Club

Fifty little children from all over the Newtons had the time of their lives on Tuesday afternoon when, as guests of the Newtonville Woman's Club, they were shown feats of magic by Fred Kriss, dressed in a clown costume, and entertained by a Punch and Judy show. After a feast of ice cream and cake they gathered around a beautifully decorated and lighted Christmas tree, and eagerly awaited Santa Claus who finally appeared in the balcony with his pack of toys, and accompanied by two attendants, in shining costume, who later distributed the gifts. Each girl received a doll, and each boy a toy, besides a box containing articles especially fitted to that child's needs. The children were brought in automobiles, and later taken home by members of the Volunteer Service committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles P. Fraill.

Many people contributed to the success of the party. The Boy Scout Bugle and Drum Corps, composed of sixteen members, played an entrance march as the children marched in. The decorations were in charge of the Flower committee of which Mrs. R. E. Chambers is chairman, and the refreshments were served by the Social committee, Mrs. W. B. Hanna, chairman.

Miss Marion Bassett was Santa Claus, and Daniel Needham and Betty Burrows were the attendants. The purchasing of the gifts, the dressing of the dolls, and the making of the little girls' dresses were in charge of Mrs. Charles A. Rouillard and her committee, who carried through their work splendidly.

West Newton Junior Women's Educational Club

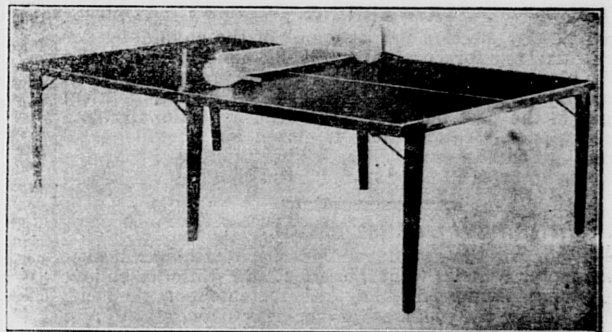

The third regular meeting of the West Newton Junior Women's Club was held at the home of Constance and Priscilla Hartwell on Tuesday, December 10th, with the president, Constance Dort, presiding. There were 16 members present, four of whom were welcomed as new members. During the business meeting the Club voted to supply (with mittens) the children who were to be entertained at the Christmas party of the Senior Club.

Philanthropic work for the children of the city was decided upon as the aim of the Club for the remainder of the year. The girls are going to read to children in the wards at the hospital. The Juniors will provide for some needy child to have mid-morning lunch in school, and entertaining, in some way, some poor children is to be a part of the work for this year. In March the regular meeting will be a Mothers' meeting.

After the business meeting a one-act play, "Those Christmas Gifts," was given. The parts were taken by Constance Dort, Barbara Lester, Anna Haven, Priscilla Bacon, and Constance Hartwell. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, and the meeting was adjourned at 9:00 p. m.

ADEQUATE LIGHTING

Newton Corner now has an adequate lighting system. Some time ago agitation was made for their installation and after months of preparation, laying of conduits, erection of posts and considerable work at the power plant in order to provide the necessary electricity for the new 1500 candle power lights the new lights became a reality. The latter part of last week they were turned on for the first time. The larger lights accomplish several purposes. Primarily, and especially along Washington street where the lighting was far from satisfactory, they will be effective in reducing the number of automobile accidents. In the past several years at least half a dozen lives have been lost, some of which were caused by the failure of the driver to see pedestrians crossing the street. The lights also make a great improvement in the business section by giving those passing through the city a better impression. Undoubtedly they will increase the shopping there to some extent. The city authorities should make every effort to extend the limits of these lights to the Brighton line on the east and to the Wellesley line on the west as soon as possible.

A WARNING

During the city election just over one of the candidates for office was arrested for criminally libeling his opponent. We note with pleasure that the charge was not prosecuted when public apology was made. Newton has had heated political campaigns in the past but they have been exceptionally free from such tactics. The incident is closed but should be remembered by candidates for office in the future as a warning that there is no room in Newton for "mud-slinging."

THE NEW LICENSE REGULATIONS

Monday morning the new regulations for obtaining a license to operate motor vehicles went into effect and while we believe it is a big step in eliminating many incompetents from the road, thereby reducing the number of reckless drivers, we also believe that the added step of holding periodic examinations for persons holding licenses should be introduced as soon as possible. Possibly some of the questions now asked in the list of eighty-one which must be answered are unimportant and unnecessary. It is further true that some persons desirous of securing a license will memorize the answers in order to obtain the privilege and then promptly forget most of them. Periodic examinations will eliminate this factor. They will also show up those who habitually drive recklessly, those whose eyesight or mental capacities have begun to fail them and other drivers who should not be on the road.

CLASS PARTY

The Woman's Bible Class of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church School gave a Christmas party to the adult members of the congregation in the assembly room of the church on Tuesday evening of this week. The special guests of the evening were Rev. and Mrs. Rowland John Martin, Miss Inez Glidden, two workers from the Hattie B. Cooper Community Centre, and Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus. Mr. Martin, whose home is in Montana, is a student in the Boston University School of Theology and Miss Glidden is studying in the Curry School of Expression. Her home is in Unity, Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. Santa, contrary to their usual custom, appeared in civilian clothes but the entertainment committee had anticipated this oversight on their part and was supplied with red crepe paper, white cotton batting, scissors, and pins. The guests were divided into two groups and given ten minutes each in which to construct suitable costumes for the dear couple. At the end of the allotted time, the two Santas were suitably clad and looked their part.

Charades appropriate for the season were presented by the two groups. Some of the suggestions were:

"Silent Night," "Three Wise Men," "God Rest Ye, Merry Gentlemen," "Tinsel," "Lights," "Iceberg," "Evergreen," "Mistletoe," "Raisin Pie," and "Jingle Bells."

Part of the evening was spent in the singing of Christmas Carols and in the trimming of the tree with toys, which were later sent to the children of the Cooper Community Centre. The refreshment committee furnished crackers and coffee and apples and Christmas Candy.

DRAWN FOR JURY DUTY

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night the following men were drawn for jury duty at sessions of the Superior Court in Cambridge next month: Charles E. Morrow, 70 Arlington street; Robert Hamilton, 12 Wamesit road; Thomas Jones, Parmenter road; Loughlin McIsaac, Jackson road; Charles Pierce, 291 Bellevue street; Algernon McCarthy, 58 Margin street; Daniel Nash Jr., 158 Lexington street; David Rees, 211 Melrose street; E. Capen White, 20 Stoneleigh road; Henry C. Bourne, 289 Central street; Raymond Atwood, 37 Clewick road; James H. Delaney, 123 Bridge street.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

Lipsing its first little baby lip in a west coast studio, the voice of Helen Kane, which is generously punctuated with "hoop boop doops," recently finished its work in "Sweetie." Paramount's musical romance of campus life.

The "mike," which had just finished registering some lusty college yells for the same picture, almost cracked with contraction when it started to vibrate to the tiny, cuddly tones of Miss Kane.

The picture, for which George Marion, Jr. wrote the story, lyrics and dialog and Richard A. Whiting wrote the music, will be seen and heard at the Paramount Theatre Sunday. It was directed by Frank Tuttle, the genius who directed "The Studio Murder Mystery" and "The Greene Murder Case." On the same program will be Richard Barthelmess in "Young Netherland" with Marion Davies. Beginning Christmas Day with a Children's Matinee with gifts of candy and toys, the celebrated picture sensation, "Rio Rita" will be the feature for the rest of the week.

In the leading roles are Bebe Daniels, John Boles, the star of "The Desert Song"; Bert Wheeler, the featured comedian of the original Ziegfeld show; and Robert Woolsey, another hilarious fun-maker.

Coolidge For Senator.
Newsreel Theatres.
A New Standard Lady.
The Man Without A Car.

WASHINGTON reports that "the Administration," which means President Hoover, is anxious to have Calvin Coolidge elected Senator from Massachusetts.

Mr. Coolidge would render distinguished service in the Senate. It would be hard for any Senator to talk more than two hours before that cold blue New England eye, and hard for any Senators to spend millions recklessly.

But Senator Coolidge, like the young gentleman in "Excelsior," doesn't believe in turning back.

He and Mrs. Coolidge fixed the White House all over, cedar closets and everything. When President Hoover is through with it, Mr. Coolidge, it is said, would like to return to the "old home."

Since men have existed, their main business has been to collect information and convey it from their own minds to the minds of other men, and this process has gradually brought about civilization.

Very ancient gentlemen wrote what they had to say on bricks, in strange characters, and baked the bricks.

The Egyptians made hieroglyphics on monuments with strange, angular men and birds and other animals. They would have been horrified by the typewriter, "so unartistic" and hasty.

The Phoenicians invented our short alphabet. The Chinese cling to their alphabet of 5,000 characters and more.

Then shorthand came, and the telephone, and radio, that pours information, through the ether, into every ear.

Now comes, most interesting of all, the newsreel theatre, on Broadway, New York, where pictures, moving and talking, show the news of the day.

The Newsreel Theatre, crowded before 12 o'clock in the morning, many standing in the rear, showed recently young soldiers of Switzerland drilling with wonderful precision. Knowing that every man in Switzerland has military training, taught to command as well as to obey, you realize why other nations let the Swiss alone.

There will be such newsreel theatres in every city soon.

From hieroglyphics in stone to pictures of yesterday's events moving and talking before your eyes, is one of the longest steps that civilization and science have ever taken.

The United States Bureau of Standards says the ideal woman is now the "perfect 34," not the "perfect 36" of days before the "boyish figure."

If your bust is 36, your waist should measure 31 inches, hips 39 inches. Thirty-four bust, 28-inch waist, 37-inch hips, is the "standard lady," according to the Bureau, which, however, knows nothing about it.

Abraham Lincoln's mother wasn't a "standard 34," nor was "Bertha With the Big Feet," mother of Charlie Magne.

For a cloak model the "perfect 34" is ideal, perhaps.

For an efficient mother, which is what counts, bigger busts, bigger waists, bigger hips.

Germany's Luftwaffe, ablest commercial flying organization in the world, is pushing its lines into Asia and South America.

And intelligently Germany lends Luftwaffe $1,500,000 to help.

If Germany after the war, compelled every year to pay hundreds of millions in gold to the Allies, can afford $1,500,000 to support one commercial aviation undertaking, what could the United States do, if it had the intelligence to do it?

Somebody, supposed to be an expert, says the United States will manufacture in 1930 one million fewer automobiles than in 1929.

That prediction, probably mistaken, is not creditable to the people's intelligence.

Many things a family can do without, but no family is properly organized without a good automobile.

When one is worn out it should be replaced. When a better automobile appears, and a family can afford a better one, it should be got.

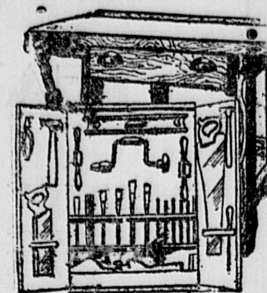

Automobiles mean saving time, consequently longer real life. A man who can "get along without an automobile" is one whose time and life are not worth much.

Bids for the presidential yacht Mayflower are all rejected, because too low, including a bid from New York. That city felt it could afford to run the Mayflower, receiving distinguished guests, getting up little water parties, etc., even if Uncle Sam could not afford it.

Mayor Walker, if elected President, is a young gentleman who would probably say, if he felt that way, "Fix me up a yacht. Mr. Hoover thought it cost too much. But I don't agree with him, and I'm President now." Stranger things have happened.

ALDERMEN MEET

The Board of Aldermen held a regular meeting Monday night. It was preceded by a meeting of the Traffic Committee at which residents of College and Priscilla road, Chestnut Hill told of the nuisance caused by heavy trucks on these narrow, residential streets.

Peter Blake appeared to protest against being compelled to remove the remains of a small building owned by him at 451 California street, Newtonville. The structure was largely destroyed by fire some months ago and neighbors have petitioned for its removal. A few years ago Blake moved this building to within a few feet of the street line without a permit after he had been ordered by the Metropolitan Park Commission to take it 25 feet away from the reservation. He petitioned several times for a permit to alter it into a dwelling with a waiver of the setback line and always was refused the privilege. The small structure, erected as a real estate office, caught fire several times during the past year. Blake asserted Monday night that the building "is one of the best of its kind and it would be a shame to tear down such a good building." He contended that he paid property taxes on the property and that he has been illegally deprived of the right to improve it.

The Licenses Committee reported favorably on the following petitions: George Haynes, 1000 gallons additional gasoline storage tank, 111 Madison street; auctioneer licenses, Nelson McGrath, Paul H. Drake; three-car metal garage permit at 333 Commonwealth avenue to Mary I. Young. Alderman Powers dissented from the majority of the committee on the latter, stating that he does not favor granting permits for metal garages of more than two-car capacity in residential zones. The Licenses Committee recommended "leave to withdraw" on the petition of J. V. Monaghan Sons for a filling station at 1-35 Auburn street, corner of Washington street. The petitioners now operate a filling station on the opposite corner. Another petition given leave to withdraw was that of Silver Lake Garage for an additional pump at 444-448 Watertown street.

A communication was received from Mayor Childs recommending that the City Government petition the Legislature to change the Retirement Act affecting Newton employees so that those applying for pensions will be given credit for the years of work they put in after having reached the age of 60. Under the present operation of the contributory pension system adopted 2 years ago by Newton, veteran employees are not given credit for such years. The aldermen accepted the recommendation and voted to instruct the City Solicitor to take this matter up with next year's Legislature. The proposed change will permit Mrs. Mason to be given about $200 more pension yearly.

The Aldermen voted to appropriate $1000 additional for architect's fee on the proposed Soldiers' Memorial; $10,000 for removal of snow and ice; $1000 for street traffic signs; $125 for physics examination of school children. On the recommendation of the Finance Committee the Aldermen refused to appropriate $3000 for maintenance of Street Department trucks and automobiles and $1000 for alterations in the power plant at the High School.

It was voted to grant the Middlesex & Boston company a permit to operate busses on Commonwealth avenue from Lake street to Norumbega Park. They will replace the electric cars. Alderman Pratt inquired if the tracks will be removed on the avenue. Alderman Hawkins answered that this matter is up to the Mayor.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

"There's a Christmas whir, with a Christmas stir, and a Christmas hum afoot." . . . And nowhere is it more whirling or stirring or humming than at the Children's Museum of Boston, for Christmas means school vacations, and school vacations mean a lot of released young energy that is finding a variety of outlets at the Museum. The Christmas and vacation program, arranged by Miss Madalene B. Sawyer of the educational department under the supervision of Miss Mildred E. Mauter, Director of the Museum, follows: Saturday afternoon, December 21, at 3:00 "The Christmas Tree Talks." By Miss Donna B. Folant of the Museum Staff. Miss Folant will explain the meaning of the Christmas tree and tell some of the strange and colorful legends surrounding it. A symbolic Christmas tree, hung with both Christian and pagan emblems, will be on display on the main floor of the Museum. Children may play special museum games based on this tree and on various Yule legends during Christmas week.

Sunday afternoon, December 22, at 3:30, the motion picture "Reporting the World," made by the Boston Traveler, will be shown. The film reviews in striking fashion the chief world events of the last twenty years.

Friday afternoon, December 27th, at 3:00, a motion picture called "The Pace of Progress," will be shown. The film takes us from the old Indian methods of transportation through the prairie schooner and stagecoach days to the modern electric railroad.

Saturday afternoon, December 28th, at 3:00, the story of the famous Green Bay Indian trail from Chicago to Milwaukee, now covered by a modern electric railroad, will be told in motion pictures. Admission to all the above is free.

On Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the Elliot Church of Newton there will be presented a musical dramatization of the story of Christmas in the manner of an old mystery. While the usual theme of Mary and the Child, the Angels, the Shepherds and the Wise Men will be featured the action takes place without words to the accompaniment of XI and XV century music. This mystery, though modern in origin, is based upon the idea of the old XV century Scripture plays and carries much of the charm and simplicity of those early church plays.
The music will be rendered by the church school choirs assisted by a quartet from the church choir. The play is presented under the direction of Miss Bessie M. Stratton, Director of Religious Education of the church.

—The services in St. Paul's Church on Christmas will be a Nativity Play by the Young People's Fellowship, Sunday evening, December 22nd, at 7:30 P. M. in St. Paul's Church. On Monday evening the Church School Christmas party will be held in the Parish House at 7 o'clock. Christmas Eve commencing at 11:15 o'clock there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion. Those assisting will be Miss Mary Clarke, harpist and Mr.
Emery Leonard, Violinist. On Christmas Day the choir of St. Paul's will visit the Newton Hospital as usual at 8 a. m. followed by a choir breakfast in the Crypt. At 11 a. m. there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion.

By Edw. H. Powers

The annual "last minute" rush to obtain registration plates for automobiles will be under way next week. So far as many motorists are concerned, they might as well have no number plates on their cars. The plates on a large percentage of automobiles are so covered with dirt or grease, or both, as to be valueless for the purpose they are supposed to serve. Many criminals and reckless drivers intentionally have the plates on the cars they drive in this condition. The police are paying no attention to this flagrant violation of the law.

England has passed a law this country might well imitate. Films depicting crime or immorality cannot be witnessed by children under 16 unless they are accompanied by a parent or guardian. A warning notice must be flashed on the screen before such films are shown and children in the theatre must leave unless accompanied by a parent or guardian. Club women of Newton, co-operating with the School Department and the Community Theatre, endeavored several years ago to have school children in this city attend performances where specially selected films were shown. They failed in their attempt. It was apparent that a large percentage of the children in this city did not care to see such films; and that their parents were willing they should see "racy" films.

If you are still puzzled what to give for Christmas gifts, or if you will give gifts after Christmas, there are few things that combine beauty and utility to a greater extent than the reproductions of Colonial furniture on sale at Kane's Furniture Store, 292 Centre street, Newton Corner. The local unit of New England's largest furniture retailers offers among other Colonial reproductions—Martha Washington sewing cabinets, cedar chests, Governor Wintrop desks, and solid mahogany highboys. The prices range from as low as $7.65 up. There is no need of going to Boston to purchase articles of quality at low prices.

When You Buy Flowers Do You Look For Sales?

Not if you are a person of discernment. Women—who buy flowers and for whom flowers are bought—are appreciative of the beautiful. They know and love the perfection of flowers and best appreciate their lasting loveliness.

Flowers that are marked down are inferior. Women prefer a few select blossoms to a large bouquet of "seconds." That fact accounts for the growth of the Home of Flowers which is one of the largest retail greenhouses in this section of New England.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Friday the 13th has an ominous sound, but last Friday, the 13th, was an auspicious day for Newton Corner. On the evening of that date the new electric lights were turned on along Washington street as far west as Crafts street, and on other streets in and near the business section. Washington street and Nonantum square are now properly lighted. Operators of automobiles which may hit pedestrians on Washington street in the future, cannot have the excuse that this street is poorly illuminated.

Talking about Nonantum square: John Miskella, patrolman for the Street Department at Newton Corner is one of the most efficient, hard-working employees the City of Newton has on its payroll.

No happier group ever brought in a Yule Log in "Merrie England" of olden days than the group of kindergarten pupils from the Underwood School who brought a Christmas tree to their class room on Monday morning. Half the tiny boys and girls comprising the class crowded under and about the tree to assist (?) in carrying it from the store where it was obtained to the school.

A large percentage of the gas lamps on Newton's streets have not been lighted at night for the past several weeks. Cold weather effects the mechanism which turns the lights on, with the result that the lamps don't work. The sooner these obsolete type street lamps are replaced by electric lights, the better.

The importance of sanding sidewalks made slippery by snow or ice was emphasized the past week when a Newton man died suddenly following a fall on an unsanded, icy sidewalk at Watertown.

CAMP F. A. DAY HOLDS REUNION

The mid-winter camp reunion for Frank A. Day campers will be held on Friday, December 27th. Dinner will be served at six-fifteen by Percy Hicks of Lynn.

Following the meal, moving pictures taken at camp last summer will be shown. These will include the activities of swimming, canoeing, life-saving, and the different athletic events during the summer. Life in the camp in general will be shown on one reel and many familiar faces will be recognized.

Mr. C. D. Kepner, Chairman of the Camp Committee will preside at the banquet and he will also tell of plans that have been completed and plans contemplated to make Camp Day a better and more helpful place in the lives of the boys who attend.

Hollis Vernon, known to the boys as the champion log writer, will be on hand to read some of the last season's logs. He is a Dartmouth student and very active in literary matters.

The entertainment for the evening will be given by Frank Madden. He will present several short comedy skits and the one which he is most famous for, "An Address by the Eminent Surgeon Dr. Sawbones." He will speak on, "How to Live to be a Hundred Years Old before you think of Dying." Music will be given on the musical saw, trick violin, and several other instruments that he carries.

It is at this time that applications for the next season are started. In former years a great many applications have been filed this night and there will be a special table for the applications and information regarding the 1930 season.

Another new phase of the camp life and activities will be the newly organized Dad's Association. They will make their first appearance that night. Mr. Ray C. Smith of Auburn is the Chairman of the Executive Committee and he has plans that will interest the parents.

N. H. S. SENIORS PRESENT PLAY

The annual Senior play at the Newton High school was presented last week Friday afternoon and Saturday evening before an appreciative audience. The production, "The Goose Hangs High," was staged under the direction of Mrs. Blanche F. Bemis. Margaret Lennox and Louise Hawkes took the leading parts and were supported by Louise Hawkes, Richard Wales, Robert Warfield, Maude Chase, and Willetta Mosser.

Barry and Miss Lennox showed considerable dramatic ability in the portrayals of their characters. Louise Hawkes and Richard Wales, who played the role of twins home from college for the holidays, added much to the life of the play. Wales, who kept up a rapid-fire of college wisecracks, was exceptionally well fitted for the part. The disgust and anger at the present generation and its thoughtless ways was wonderfully carried by Miss Willetta Mosser in her role as a grandmother. But in the end when she finds her stand unwarranted and she accepts the present she becomes almost likable.

Warfield and Miss Chase, playing opposite Barry and other as Hugh Ingals and Dagmar Carroll, aptly portrayed Mr. Ingals (Barry) son and prospective daughter-in-law. Elizabeth Stidger showed talent in her role of a selfish, narrow-minded woman. Donald Bishoff, as her son, gave her much to think about when he began to chafe under her stringent restrictions of his personal freedom. Harry Colony excellently portrayed his role as a politician, brought up in an orphan asylum and lacking only in social position and a wife. Webb Wright, the uncouth conciliator, Frederick Burton, the elderly family friend, and Lillian Norton, in minor parts, completed the cast.

The school orchestra under the direction of Chas. R. Spaulding furnished the music at both performances. Much credit is due to Geo. A. Land, general manager, and to the committees whose cooperation made the production a success.

POLICE NEWS

In the Newton court on December 12 Thomas Robson, Jr., of Malden was charged with unlawful appropriation of a motorcycle. Robson appeared in the Newton court some months ago on this charge—and was placed on probation on the condition that he make restitution for damages to the cycle. He neglected to keep his promise and was arrested. He was held in $100 bail and his case continued until Saturday.

Florence Lindsey of Marlboro, through her attorney, paid $10 for speeding. George Carlin of Seaver street, Roxbury, charged with speeding, wanted to plea "nolo." He was refused this concession and fined $10. He appealed. Other "speeders" fined $10 each were—Mildred Ruddy, Chester street, Newton Highlands; Edwin Richardson, 89 Waltham street, West Newton.

On election night, Tuesday, December 10, police raided the home of Frank Castano on Lill avenue, West Newton, and seized hundreds of bottles of home brew. Most of the malt liquor was stored in the cellar at police headquarters. A few bottles were placed in Captain Mullen's office to be used as evidence. A couple of days later one of the bottles in the office exploded scattering broken glass and "suds" over the room and the Captain. Fortunately, Captain Mullen was not injured by the flying glass. Subsequently other bottles in the office exploded, so to prevent injuries to the Captain or others, Patrolman Kilmain removed the remaining "malt grenades" to the cellar.

Tiny Houston, colored, of Simms court, West Newton, whose home was raided recently by a squad of police, was fined $50 in the Newton court on Friday for illegally selling liquor. For keeping and exposing liquor for sale he was given a suspended sentence of six months in jail.

Priscilla Vaughan, 28, of Moultrie street, Dorchester, arrested Monday in Brighton, was brought to Newton and arraigned in the Newton Court charged with passing worthless checks on October 24 in two Newton stores. She was held in $100 bail on each of the two counts and her case continued until January 10. It is alleged that the woman, with a male companion, made small purchases at the Small Shoppe on Centre street and the Cunningham Hat Shop on Washington street, Newton, receiving cash for the purchases and the sums written on the checks.

Tuesday morning Inspector Shaughnessy went to Concord to see a couple who had been arrested for looting poor boxes in St. Bernard's Church in that town. Within the past few weeks poor boxes were rifled in St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, and the Church of Our Lady, Newton. The pair of cheap thieves, Charles Simonds, 21, of Proctor street, Framingham, and Mrs. Elida Merriam, 42, of the same address, were found guilty on the charges of robbing poor boxes in Concord and West Concord. The youth was sentenced to the Concord Reformatory. The woman was sentenced to the Sherborn Reformatory for Women.

George Smith of 388 Parker street, Newton Centre, manager of a chain grocery store, was in the Newton court Wednesday charged with disturbance and assault and battery. Smith was alleged to have assaulted a boy who worked in the store after the latter had taken Smith's car, a flat tire occurring during the ride. Smith was found not guilty on the disturbance charge. The assault and battery charge was placed on file.

Frank Castano of Bigelow street, Brighton, was in court Wednesday and fined $10 for driving without a rear number plate.

Frank Castano of Lill avenue, West Newton, was in court Wednesday charged with selling liquor illegally on December 10. As this was a mistake, the correct date having been December 4, Castano's attorney attempted to have the case dismissed because of this error; but he did not succeed. He will be tried on January 3. An additional charge of maintaining a liquor nuisance was made against Castano.

SEARS—WILSON

Miss Barbara Freelove Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus S. Wilson of Newton Centre was married to Harold Tillinghast Sears, son of Mrs. Langley Sears of Brookline and the late Rev. Langley Sears, on Friday afternoon, December thirteenth, at Trinity Church, Newton Centre. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edward T. Sullivan at three-thirty. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Warren T. Mayers of South Norwalk, Connecticut, who was a classmate of the bride at Wellesley College, was the matron of honor. Miss Miriam Wilson, sister of the bride, of Newton Centre, was the maid of honor.

The best man was Gilbert Tolman, Jr., of Canton, and those assisting as ushers were R. Saxton Wilson, Jr., brother of the bride of Ridgewood, New Jersey, Robert A. Dennison of Reading, T. Redmond Thayer of New York City, A. Royal Tillinghast of Providence, R. I., and Alden H. McIntyre of Boston.

The bride's gown was of antique ivory satin and she wore a veil of ivory tulle and old point lace, an heirloom in the Sears family. Her bouquet was a sheaf of Easter lilies. The matron of honor and maid of honor were gowned alike in cherry color chiffon with silver lamé turbans and carried bouquets of bonvardia and red cyclamen flowers.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, 15 Alden street. The decorations at the church were evergreens and Easter lilies with tall lighted tapers lining both sides of the centre aisle.

After a wedding trip to Bermuda, Mr. and Mrs. Sears will reside in Walpole where they will be at home after the first of the year.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

The Fall term of the Norumbega District Schools for training of Sunday School teachers has recently closed, and the plans are ready for the Winter term. Some have asked, do we need this continual emphasis on teacher-training? A partial answer to that question comes when we realize that there are about 1200 volunteer Sunday School teachers in the entire District, and that from one-fourth to one-third of these are new each year, without training and probably without teaching experience elsewhere.

Another answer might come from the consideration of tests made in various places as to Bible knowledge. In certain high schools of the State of Missouri a survey was made as to acquaintance with the scriptures on the part of modern youth. The following quotation shows the results: "Sixteen per cent of the students neither knew where Christ was born nor the name of his mother. Sixty per cent knew not that Peter, James, and John enjoyed the larger confidence of Jesus. Seventy per cent did not know what to call the Sermon on the Mount. Sixty per cent did not know what Christ said about loving one's neighbor. Twelve per cent did not know the first clause of the Lord's prayer. Sixty-five per cent did not know the Golden Rule."

Of course this survey was not in Newton—we wonder what such a test might reveal in Newton or in Massachusetts.

The Norumbega District Council stands for the training of leaders, so that children and youth may be led to live the Christian way. We emphasize right living, but we realize the need for principles that are built upon the knowledge of the scriptures, especially the life of Christ.

In the inter-church basketball leagues, sponsored by the Norumbega District in co-operation with the Y. M. C. A., we give opportunity for young people to live their Christian principles in the field of recreation and sport. Mr. Clyde G. Hess of the Y. M. C. A. is the efficient manager of the Boys' League; Miss Lillian Barker of the Norumbega Council is the general director of the Girls' League. Games for the latter will begin in January and will be played Monday evenings at the gymnasium of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church.

ROTARY CLUB

The regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club of Newton was held on Monday, December 16th, at the Woodland Golf Club at 1215, President Charles D. Ansley presiding.

Roland Barnes, a new member of the Club, was introduced to the members by Karl W. Switzer. He received a hearty welcome as a member of the Newton Club by the President.

The speaker of the day was Mr. J. Clifton Whitney, Water Commissioner of the City of Newton, and was introduced to the Club by George Martin.

Mr. Whitney has been in the employ of the Water Department for thirty-three years and for the last thirty-one years has been Water Commissioner of the City. He stated that the daily demand for water of the City was about eight million gallons per day at the present time. The City of Newton owns a large tract of land in Needham Heights, which is used as a reservoir for the Charles River. The principal supply of water is taken from two large wells located about one half mile apart on this reservation. From time to time the City buys some water from the Metropolitan water system. At the present time about ten per cent of the water used is Metropolitan water and has run as high as forty per cent of the City's demands.

Mr. Whitney told the story of the water supply of the City in a very interesting manner and was asked many questions at the conclusion of his talk by the members of the Club, which he very willingly and definitely answered.

NATHAN FULLER CHAPTER, D. R.

The December meeting of the Nathan Fuller Chapter, D. R. was held on Friday the 13th at the home of Miss Caroline Fisher, 260 Franklin street, Newton. Forty members and their guests comprised the largest gathering ever held by the chapter. The Regent, Mrs. G. Raymond Lehrer, presided and opened the meeting with the singing of the first and last verses of the "Star Spangled Banner," led by Mrs. George Knight, and with Mrs. Philip Howe at the piano. This was followed by the Salute to the Flag. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the Recording Secretary, Mrs. Walter MacAdam, and approved. The Treasurer, Miss Barbara Estabrook reported the results of the recent bridge party, sponsored by the chapter, which was a great success financially as well as socially. Plans for the January meeting, which will be held on Tuesday, Jan. 14th, at the home of Mrs. Philip Howe, were discussed by the Chairman of the Entertainment, Mrs. George Knight. Two amendments to the Constitution came before the members, which were voted upon and unanimously passed by all present.

There were five new names presented for membership by the regent. They were voted upon, accepted, and cordially welcomed into the Nathan Fuller Chapter. They are: Mrs. John Field, 56 Fairmount street, Newton; Mrs. Donald Gibbs, 1211 Commonwealth street, Watertown; Miss Beatrice Eastman, 196 Pleasant street, Newton Centre; Mrs. Herbert Johnson, 450 Craft street, W. Newton, and Mrs. John Merrill, 196 Pleasant street, Newton Centre.

A program to be given before the State Veteran Society was touched upon, but will be discussed more fully at a later date.

Miss Grace Gay, the State Regent, was present and gave a short talk. She mentioned the annual convention which will be held this year in Boston, and expressed the hope that a large number of Nathan Fuller girls would be present. The other State officer to be a guest at this meeting was the District Vice-Regent, Mrs. Wm. H. Winslow, who outlined the excellent results obtained from the Rummage Sale which was held on Dec. 3rd. Several girls from the chapter had offered their services at that time including Miss Elizabeth Jack, Mrs. Howard Jenness, Mrs. Philip Howe, Mrs. John Field, Mrs. Francis Fuller, Mrs. Edwin Leonard Jr., Mrs. G. Raymond Lehrer, Mrs. Edgar Wilson, Mrs. Henry Cross, Miss Lillian Petrie, Mrs. John Merrill, Miss Beatrice Eastman, and Mrs. Ralph Short.

After the meeting adjourned, a musical program followed. Two songs were rendered by Mrs. Richard Brown, who was accompanied by Mrs. Elsie Bowley at the piano, and Mrs. N. A. Anderson on the violin. The first selection was a German "Cuckoo Song" and it was followed by a "Christmas Song" by the Italian Yan. The speaker of the afternoon was Miss Margaret McGill, for 15 years a teacher of history in the Newton High School. She took for her topic "Political Elections," and stressed especially the presidential election of 1928, showing how it differed from earlier elections in its platforms, its appeal to intelligence rather than emotions, and the part played by the women in the campaign.

Tea was served by the hostess at the close of the program. She was assisted by Mrs. John Merrill and Mrs. Donald Gibbs.

THE CHRISTMAS SEAL

Despite the fact that wood engraving has become a lost art as a popular illustrating process, John W. Evans, 74 years old, of Baldwin, Long Island, N. Y., an engraver on wood of the old school, is responsible for the design which appears on thousands of letters and Christmas packages this year. The Seal shows a Medieval bell-ringer pulling the rope which sends Health Greetings out to the world.

The bell ringer is doing his silent but potent part to show us how we can help.

By your purchase of seals, it may mean the saving of a life or protecting your family from this dreaded disease Tuberculosis. To date Newton has given $5,428.65; our quota has not been reached.

GIRL SCOUTS

At this season of the year, the Girl Scouts, with all the rest of the world, are interested only in Christmas. Headquarters has been gay with wreaths and greens for some time now, and recent visitors have exclaimed over the lovely poinsettia plant in full bloom, as well as the display of novel Christmas place cards and the attractive bags of pine cones for the open fireplace, which are being sold under the direction of Mrs. Walton S. Redfield for the Camp Mary Day fund. Villages have held shops of their own, Waban, Newtonville, Auburndale, Newton Highlands and Newton Centre participating in this activity; wreaths and greens have been the specialties, with horehound candy, Girl Scout cookies, and novel gifts made by the girls on sale.

Christmas parties and Christmas service, keeping every troop very busy indeed. Troop 25 combined the two when they gave a party for the Pre-Kindergarten Department of the West Newton Community Centre, Troop 4 of Waban entertained Troop 19 and its Brownies, while Troop 6 of Donatium was also welcomed at Waban, by Troop 4. Troop 4, Newton Highlands, sent a large Christmas box to a family in northern Vermont, and gave a very delightful Christmas party besides. Troop 13, Newton Centre, felt that this was the season for their Annual Banquet, as Santa was around to drop in on them just now.

Also enthused by the holiday spirit, the Newton Officers' Association held their Christmas Party Wednesday, December 18, at 6.30 p. m. The office will close Monday, December 23, and will reopen Monday, December 30th, closing again for New Year's Day.

All Scouts and their leaders and friends will be glad to know that there is a Christmas gift here for everyone, in the shape of an additional room, all our own now, and large enough for classes and meetings of all kinds. The room rather needs to be put up a little, but no doubt he will, as he is a very thoughtful person.

TERCENTENARY NEWS

The Newton Tercentenary Committee held a meeting on Thursday evening, December 12, at the Newton Center Woman's Club House. The chairman of the evening was Edward Ellwell Whiting of "Whiting's Column" in the Boston Herald who enlivened the evening with many humorous stories.

William H. Rice, chairman of the Newton Tercentenary Committee, outlined some of Newton's plans for the celebration next year, and Ernst Hermann and Rev. Chester A. Drummond gave a brief synopsis of a proposed pageant to be produced next June.

Hon. Herbert Parker of the Governor's Commission for the 300th anniversary observance gave an address on the historical backgrounds of the Puritan settlements in this country.

The Highland Glee Club gave a delightful musical program.

Following the Tercentenary exercises, Augustus Peabody Loring, State Chairman of the Near East Relief, spoke on the work of the United States for the war victims in Europe.

Dr. James L. Barton, president of the National Association, presented to the city a rug made by orphans of the Near East in recognition of the fact that Newton contributed more than any other city to the relief work under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Wood Bond.

On behalf of the city the rug was received by Mayor Edwin O. Childs who spoke most impressively.

KIWANIS CLUB

One of the largest meetings of the Newton Kiwanis Club for this year was held at the Newton Center Woman's Club on Tuesday, Dec. 17, when the members turned out in force to greet Reverend Thomas T. McManmon formerly of Auburndale and now of Newburyport, who, during his residence in Newton was an active member of the club.

It was Father McManmon's first visit to the club since his appointment to the permanent rectory of the Immaculate Conception Parish in Newburyport.

Rev. Maurice Bullock, pastor of the Centenary Methodist Church in Auburndale, in behalf of the club, presented Father McManmon with an onyx pen set bearing an appropriately inscribed silver plate and the emblem of Kiwanis.

Father McManmon made a very happy response paying tribute to Mr. Bullock, to the club members and the work which Kiwanis is doing.

He told how much he had missed the weekly luncheons and the personal contact with the club members since leaving Newton.

The club members had an opportunity to greet also Dr. Guy Winslow, Past President of Newton Rotary Club; George Thompson, Past President Allston-Brighton Kiwanis Club; and Mr. W. Murray of the Newton Vocational High School. The speaker of the day was Honorable Fred M. Blanchard, well known Newtonian, and former President of the Board of Aldermen, who spoke on "Wool."

Mr. Blanchard's address was a practical one and interesting to every member of the club. It was illustrated with exhibits of wool of various kinds now and in process and the speaker illuminated his remarks with a few yarns which made a hit.

President Walter Whalen was absent from town on business and the meeting was conducted by Past President James P. Gallagher.

Plans were announced for the Christmas party on December 24. Santa Claus having promised to attend on that date with gifts for all. The usual tree will be erected and donors of the gifts will turn them over as usual to the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children.

W. S. Wagner reported for the program committee that plans are under way for the December 31st meeting which will make it the banner meeting of the year. The new club officers will be installed on January 7, 1930.

"CAPTAIN DREW ON LEAVE"

The second number on the Reading Course, arranged by the Woman's Association of the Newtonville Episcopal Methodist Church, was well attended last Friday evening in spite of the bad weather. The entertainer was Adele Hoes Lee who presented Hubert Hery Drew's three-act comedy, "Captain Drew on Leave."

Captain Drew, an English Army officer, made a wager with a friend that during his "leave" he could develop a lively flirtation with the married woman to whom his friend was about to introduce him. The husband in the case was a hard boiled business man so absorbed in "The Works" that he had little time to spare for his plain devoted wife. Captain Drew noting this, in a true soldierly manner struck at the vulnerable point. He listened to the reading of letters from the two small boys away at school, an ordeal which always bored their father. He made a study of saying the right things at the right time, brought flowers and books, in fact he put on a fine campaign.

At the end of a month, Captain Drew had won the wager but had hopelessly lost his heart. The wife and mother wavered at first but in the end love, founded on her home and years of devotion to her husband and children, won her battle. Captain Drew announced that his "leave" was over and returned in a manner befitting a defeated soldier.

Mrs. Lee showed a keen appreciation of her characters, which she passed on to her listeners, who were charmed with her personality and artistic ability.

The members of the evening were: The Misses Barbara Othank, Janice Stange, Martha Olcott, Mary Jane Rallsback, and Grace Taylor, who also played the role of candy girls. They were assisted by their Church School teacher, Mrs. Earl C. Clayton and Miss Pearl Drew another member of the class, in serving candy.

The next number on the course will be given in the assembly room of the church Friday evening, January 3, at 8.00 p. m. when C. Edmund Neil will present "An Ideal Husband" by Wilde.

TO SPEAK ON CHINA

Neal Bonsfield, a student at the Newton Theological Institution, whose father is a missionary at Sun Yui Hsien, South China, will bring a message from the Orient to America in his stereopticon lecture, "Pioneering in the Land of the Waking Giant" at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, West Newton, on Thursday evening, Dec. 26th, at 7:45 o'clock.

This is a special invitation meeting for all the parish young people who are home from college and university for the holidays. The general public is invited to attend.

TWINS

This evening at the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church Dr. James E. Peabody, eminent biologist, author and lecturer, of Newton will speak at the December meeting of the Clafin Club of that church. Dr. Peabody's subject will be "Twins" and will deal with the effect of environment, heritage and the response of the present generation.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Some fortunate family in Newton Centre will be the recipient of a huge basket of Christmas goodies all of which have been prepared and contributed by the members of the Art committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, of which Mrs. William C. Noetzel is chairman.

Mrs. Elmer Davis, of the Art committee, wishes to announce that soon after the holidays there will be given a course of five lessons in the art of "Dyeing after the East Indian Method," using the three primary colors, an interesting art that can be put to practical use. Mary Lowell Kimball, a member of the Arts and Crafts Society, will be the instructor.

Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole will give the third lecture in the course of Current Events on January 2nd, the third Thursday in the month instead of the usual day. These lectures are free to all members of the Club and guest tickets may be purchased at the door for 50 cents.

As a result of a suggestion proposed by Mrs. Albert L. Harwood, who is the Club historian, the Newton Centre Woman's Club voted in 1912 to found a Scholarship for girls who needed assistance in obtaining a college education. This fund known as the Scholarship Loan Fund was in May, 1924, changed to the Jennie C. Harwood Scholarship Fund in recognition of this remarkable woman to whom belongs the credit of this worthy philanthropy. This year, Margaret Warren, daughter of a member, Mrs. Henry Warren, has entered Vassar and is taking courses for the new work in Euthenics. Miss Warren graduated from Newton High School with high scholastic honors. She was a member of school athletic teams, the Drama, Library and English Clubs and was elected a member of the National Honor Society.

The regular business meeting of the Club which comes on the afternoon of Friday, the 27th, will be in the hands of the Legislative committee, Mrs. Wenona Osborne Pinkham, chairman. They will present as speaker, Mr. Edward A. Weeks, Editor-in-Chief of the Atlantic Monthly, who will take as his subject "Book Censorship." Mrs. Pinkham will then give an illustrated lecture on the "Work of the Children's Commission," a Commission created to consider dependent, delinquent and neglected children, or others requiring special care. A social hour will follow the session. The Club cordially invites all daughters of members to be their honored guests on that day.

MEETINGS OMITTED

Several meetings of special Club groups or of the entire Club have been omitted or postponed during the coming week, or for the Christmas holidays. The Social Science Club holds its next meeting on January 8th, omitting the Wednesday evening meeting of December 18th, 25th and January 1st. The State Federation omits the weekly radio broadcasts of Wednesday the 25th and January 1st. The West Newton Women's Educational Club will not hold the usual Travel Class meeting for Monday, the 23rd. A meeting of its American Home Department for the coming week has been omitted. Other Clubs arranged omissions for the coming two weeks when the Year Books were planned, and Club members are requested to consult these for information.

AN ODE TO CLUBWOMEN

CHRISTMAS! Is it for a day, or for a year, or for ALL TIME?

Can love and service pass as fading flower?
Two thousand years have sped as but an hour—
The LIFE of CHRIST still lives, and WILL, till heights sublime
Are reached by all who have creation known!

Not sadly may we scale these glorious heights,
Not hating obstacles that block the stair;
Nor merrily with careless stride and air;
But calmly, with a loving faith, that brings the perfect end in sight.

LO! CHRIST AND CHRIST-MAS ARE MOST SURE-LY ONE!

E. D. C.

who, having holiday, would like to attend where they will be sure to see pictures of interest and entertainment, and also have the satisfaction of coming away with a "good taste in the mouth."

"Disraeli," "Love, Live and Laugh," and the comedy-drama "Kibitzer" (this last said to be "screamingly funny") are given most hearty praise and endorsement "for the whole family."
"Rio Rita," "The Trespasser," "The Marriage Playwright," and "Seven Faces" are of interest to adults, but most decidedly not for children. Others stated as "unsuitable" for children include "Welcome Danger" (excellent for adults); "Applause," a tragic romance; "Careless Age," romantic;
"Hot for Paris," a sophisticated comedy;
"Painted Angel," a cabaret life;
all are perhaps interesting to adults, according to taste. "Hurricane," a thrilling sea drama; two musical comedies "Red Hot Rhythm," and "Tanned Legs," are given as "fair" for adults, and "unsuitable for children," while "Woman to Woman," is dramatic for adults, and "unsuitable for children."
Three entertaining pictures for adults are given as "harmless" for children:
a western romance "Great Divide," known from the play, "Nix on Dames," comedy drama; and a romantic drama,
"Young Nowheres." A "fair" murder mystery "The Unholy Night," is too exciting for children. "Her Private Life," "entertaining" for adults is "of no interest" to children. A sophisticated story, short subject, "He Loved the Ladies" is amusing for adults.

It is a relief to discover the following as "for family use," and entertaining or very good: "Isle of Lost Ships," a fantasy; "In Old Kentucky," southern romance; "Is Everybody Happy?"
musical romance; "In Old California," historical drama; "Footlights and Pools," musical romance; and a short slapstick comedy "Dancing Gob."

NEWTON UPPER FALLS WOMAN'S CLUB

Even when given early in the month a Christmas party can hold a great deal of interest and pleasure as was shown in the Kindergarten Rooms of the Emerson School, on Monday evening, December 9th, when the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club held their Annual Christmas Party with Mrs. Winchester Sawyer as hostess for the evening.

The "Doyle Orchestra," a local organization, furnished delightful music throughout the evening and after the program, played for dancing.

Several Christmas carols were sung by the members.
Mrs. Harold T. Sprague gave the Club a pleasant surprise and pleasure when she introduced Mr. Harry Heald who sang three selections. Mr. Heald received quite an ovation, not only on account of the pleasure his rich baritone voice gave, but to show the appreciation the members had for their fellow-townsmen.

The surprise basket held a small gift for each member.

The Hospitality committee, Mrs.
William H. Warren, served refreshments. "A Santa" solicited funds in his pack for the Veterans' Stocking Fund.

Newton Community Club

The regular meeting of the Newton Community Club was held on Thursday, December 12th, at Underwood School Hall. A large audience was present to enjoy the interesting speaker, Mr. Allen Hall Blackington, who lecture, "The Romance of News Gathering," was illustrated. Mr. Blackington, who was a staff photographer of the Boston Herald and a newspaper man for some years, related his many thrilling experiences in his quest for news—stories and pictures. He gave an intimate and inside story of the tragic, humorous and always exciting life of a "Gentleman of the Press."

The beautiful, colored slides, most of which were his own, were of such great variety and of so many interests that the audience felt they were journeying from place to place, always with a thrill in sight, and a companion whose keen sense of humor was a great asset in every emergency. The comedies and tragedies of every day life proved to be of vital interest to all when so graphically and entertainingly presented by Mr. Blackington, and hereafter his hearers can better realize the great effort and untiring work which is sometimes necessary to get one special headline, as well as understand the ingenuity used in some of the "trick" methods of photography.

A Food Sale and a Gift Sale, under group activities, were patronized by the members before leaving. The second meeting of the month is omitted in December.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

At the West Newton Women's Educational Club, on Friday last, Miss Geraldine Gordon gave a very interesting outline of just a few of the many new books. She based her talk on a statement made in her opening remarks that "many of us hope to do that which is well expressed in a part of a line from Chaucer 'I hope to Heaven that some day I get a chance to read.' An added feature of the afternoon was the very attractive illustrated children's books on display.

As a tribute to the late Mrs. Bernard Early, the Club members stood in silence a moment, then an appropriate poetic selection was read by the president, Mrs. Joseph Otis.

A trifle over $1,600.00 was the amount made at the bazaar, as announced in the excellent report of the chairman, Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald.
Much of the success of the affair was due to her able management.

The Club members were glad to hear the announcement of Mrs. E. M.
Wolley, the leader of the Juniors, who told of the new aim of the Juniors in philanthropic work. They are going to adopt an underprivileged child, look after it personally, and help it in its school work. They also are going to read to children that are in the hospital, and furnish them pictures to enjoy. This interest in and thoughtfulness for others, especially for children, is a most excellent outlet for the Juniors, and they deserve much credit for their idea.

A CHRISTMAS THOUGHT

At this time of year when so many are planning their Christmas merry-making, there are others who, in the silence of their hearts, may only think and feel. The burden they bear may be heavy, wearying. Like soldiers they must bravely face the front and carry on.

Fortunately for them the golden light of blessed hope shines brightly on the path ahead. It helps, too, when there are friends who know and understand.

Let us then strive to make the Yuletide a season for consideration of all fellow beings as well as for rejoicing.

Newton has learned a lot about politics this year. It is a trifle late, in my opinion, to make an extended analysis for this column of the result of the balloting. Some time prior to voting day it seemed to me that certain things were inevitable. I do not flatter myself that when urged for an oral prophecy I advanced such opinions as were borne out by subsequent events.

The fact is that there are certain truths in politics as there are in the science of chemistry. After all an election, if you approach the matter as a study and on no other grounds, is merely another laboratory experiment. By this we learn again that personality and thorough organization are essential in the interests of a successful candidate. We also learn again that the crown cannot be passed along when there is no issue involved and that indorsement or benediction bestowed by a prominent individual operates as much as a liability as an asset. Furthermore that some voters are aroused by earnest speeches made by one who has the skill of saying things in an interesting way and the ability to scatter charges and insinuations that should receive careful attention but which are often swallowed by the unthinking together with bait, hook, line, sinker and rowboat.

Here I shall stop writing of Newton politics of 1929 except to point out that those who called the preferential ballot "tricky" must admit that it turned the trick for their candidate. I am not one of those who would throw the preferential ballot overboard because it may seem a trifle complex. At least it makes it possible to do the whole job on a single day and thus saves the voters' time and the taxpayers' money.

Remember when you went to see Santa Claus for the first time. You were so bashful and frightened that when he leaned over and asked you what you wanted, you could not say a word. Finally you said, "Please bring me a red fire engine with yellow wheels," and Santa threw back his whiskered face and roared with laughter. "Oh, ho, ho!" he said, "here's a little boy who wants a big red fire engine to keep the town from burning up." And everybody laughed and made you feel more embarrassed than ever. They looked at you with amused tolerance as you performed what had seemed to be the most serious errand in the world.

At least they did these things to me and it took me a long time to get over it. In fact, I am not sure even today that I have entirely recovered from the effects of such ill-considered shocks to my boyhood ego. First impressions, they say, are the most lasting and nothing cuts as deeply, old or young, as the lash of ridicule.

At the moment, I do not doubt now, I despised Santa Claus. He had betrayed me to the idling group of girls and boys, either waiting their turn to meet him or examining the displays of toys. But worse than this was the tittering of the grown-ups and, when I colored to the scalp in flushed self-consciousness and hid my face in the folds of my mother's coat, the fatuous attempt at pacification by the elderly saleswoman who dried my eyes on her apron.

I didn't need anybody to tell me that there wasn't any Santa Claus. It would have been good news if they had. That's the way of a child, but understanding of it too often ceases with adolescence. What children want more than all else is to be taken seriously. They are the most deeply earnest of human beings although few grown-ups seem to realize it. If they did there would be less talk of "inferiority complexes," "repressions" and other manifestations of mental timidity.

In writing this, I mean no reflection on Santa Claus as an institution. I was merely unfortunate in meeting one who ought never to have been allowed longer than his lunch hour away from the basement shoe counter. Of course, he really wasn't the worst Santa I ever saw and, no doubt, he meant to be jolly. I have seen others since who were grouchy and sometimes even profane, when annoyed by groups of recently disillusioned juveniles. But the fact that he changed my opinion of Santa Claus—although not an important thing in itself—was a factor of vast importance in its influence on the budding outlook on life of a sensitive child.

Writing things at home has its advantages. For instance, I can sit and think my thoughts aloud or meditate in silence, undisturbed by the clattering of the typewriters of my office-mates. A pensive attitude becomes me, I fancy, in private. Communion with my fellow beings, however, is one of my chief delights and a seriously thoughtful mood is never mine unless it is induced by solitude. My musings must be private.

Supposing, tho', I let you share one of my dreams with me. Will you enter into the spirit of the occasion and forbear with one whose fancy is cutting with a single stroke of memory's sharp knife a curtain of time which is fast shutting out the happy days of boyhood? Very well. Silently, now! Hush!

It is Christmas many years ago. The immaculate snow is drifted half to the eaves of the tiny house in the middle of a grove of snow laden pines. The pale, wan light of the slowly setting moon barely illuminates the peaceful scene and the blank, stary windows of the little house belie the warmth and kindness which are enshrined within the dark door.

Softly, now! We will see if we can enter the quiet home without disturbing anyone. Sh! Someone is stirring. We must have made a noise. Quieter now! Up the stairs after me. No one seems to be awake, yet. Listen, though!

Childish voices! A yawn! Yes, a prodigious, extended yawn! Fancy yawning Christmas morning! Quick! Down the steps! Faster! Faster! The children are coming, pell-mell after us. It is Christmas, the Day of Days, for them and the earlier they start the longer the day will last! Listen to them scurrying down. Shall we ever be able to get to the parlor before them?

Safe! Let us squeeze down here behind the sofa where we can watch them undetected. There, the door is opening. Aren't they stealthy? They must be wraiths, like us, they are so quiet. Surely no child—Ah, we forgot, didn't we, this is Christmas. Sh, here they come.

Look at little Tommy. Isn't he solemn? Expects to catch Santa Claus at work, does he, the little rascal? But he's too late. Santa Claus has been here hours ago. Just see Ruth. Isn't she pretty? Why she seems to be actually frightened. It's the dark! We forget that the little ones can't see without light as we can as we look back at what has gone before. In a moment they will strike a light.

There now, Johnny has a candle, that's it. Thoughtful boy, Johnny. He wouldn't forget.

There all in now. The door is closed. Johnny strikes a light, his finger at his lips in a gesture of silence. They must make no noise or back to bed they will have to go. There is a flicker as the tousled-headed lad in his woolly pajamas puts the match to the wick and suddenly the whole room is aflood with illumination.

My, my, what a yell! Oh, did you ever hear such pandemonium as those four kiddies are setting up now that they can see the happy fruits of Saint Nick's work. Did you ever hear such happy shouts? Oh, what fun!

Forgotten now is caution. Who cares for noise? This is Christmas! Oh, just see those presents! Come on kids, let's get 'em!

Oh, don't they rush toward that tree! See them grab for those toys! Oh, isn't Christmas wonderful?

Sh, what's that noise. Someone is coming down the stairs. The kiddies hear it, too. They're going to hide. Look out, they are coming over here. Oh, we'll have to leave. They're coming right behind this sofa. They want to hide and surprise mother and dad. Quickly now. My what a narrow squeak. Why, we're back in 1929.

But tell me, did you ever see such fun as those children were having? Oh, you did? Why, you're crying. Whatever can be the trouble? Oh, I see. One of the children was you years ago! But don't feel shame for those tears, friend. I understand. You see, I also was one of them.

Looks as if there would be no trans-city trolley lines in Newton before long. The old town is certainly going to BUS itself.

RESIDENTS WANT TRUCKS KEPT OFF STREETS

A public hearing was held at City Hall on Monday night on the petition of residents of Priscilla and Old Colony roads, Chestnut Hill to prohibit heavy trucking on these streets, limiting speed of trucks on the streets to 15 miles and making College road a two-way street again. Julius Chaloff of 25 Priscilla road complained that residents of this street had not been notified before the aldermen, some months ago, made College road, a nearby street, a one-way highway. He contended that as a result of making College road a one-way street, a large number of trucks have been diverted onto Priscilla road. Mr. Chaloff stated that heavy trucks commence to travel over Priscilla road at 4 o'clock mornings. One morning he counted 36 such trucks lumbering over the street between 4 and 9:30. It is impossible for residents on the street to sleep after the trucks commence to rumble by, walls and ceilings in his house have been cracked and his wife has become nervous. Most of the trucks are owned by sand and gravel companies; they come from the direction of Brighton and take Priscilla road as a short cut towards Hammond street and West Roxbury. Mr. Chaloff said he does not believe the neighborhood should be punished by allowing big trucks to travel on narrow residential streets at 30 miles an hour, with cut-outs open coming up grade.

Chairman Grebenstein of the Traffic Committee explained to Mr. Chaloff that College road had not been made a one-way street until after long deliberation; that reasonable publicity had been given to the matter and all residents on that road notified.

David Fine of 40 Priscilla road told of the heavy trucks coming up the grade on this street with cut-outs wide open, bodies shaking and chains jangling, making a terrific racket and allowing no sleep after 5 a. m. for residents there. He asked that the trucks be compelled to travel along Beacon street, which is built to handle such traffic. He called attention to the danger caused by the trucks to the small children living on Priscilla road. Mr. Fine said, "We want sleep and peace on Priscilla road."

City Solicitor Bartlett inquired of Mr. Fine, "Do you think the trucks come through Priscilla road from Commonwealth avenue towards Hammond street because College road was made a one-way street?" Receiving an affirmative answer, Mr. Bartlett asked Mr. Fine, "Would residents on Priscilla road be satisfied if it is made a one-way street?" Mr. Fine replied that the desire of people on the street is to keep the heavy trucks off it.

Thomas Monaghan of 29 Priscilla road called attention to the narrowness of the street and stated he can not park his car in front of his house. To do so would endanger it being side-swiped by the big trucks. Mr. Monaghan also asserted that Hammond street is much too narrow for the large amount of traffic using it.

James H. Baldwin of 90 College road, opposing the petition of the Priscilla and Old Colony road folks, stated that he is glad the aldermen were obtaining evidence from the latter as to what residents on College road went through for four years without a murmur. He chided the petitioners for endeavoring to rid themselves of a nuisance by thrusting it again on College road which had borne it so long. He alluded to the fatal accidents which had occurred on College road, and told the members of the Traffic Committee that it would be a graceless act to revoke the order recently passed making College road a one-way street.

Dr. George A. McAvoy of 50 College road told of the many accidents on that street: one day some years ago he heard a crash and went out of his house to find an overturned automobile on his front steps with the driver crushed to death under it. He asserted that trucks rumble over the street at 2 a. m., that the one-way rule is ignored and that like Priscilla road, there are small children on his street. College road had to stand the heavy truck traffic for nine years and there is no just reason why it should be diverted onto this street again.

James Malone of 110 College road told of the many cars parked on College road on Sunday mornings when people go to church at St. Ignatius Chapel in Boston College. George McKenna of 78 College road contended that the street is narrow and dangerous and should not be made a two-way street again. He argued that the street gets the heavy trucks one way now and that Priscilla road is but getting its share of them. Mrs. McNary of 84 College road suggested that the petitioners on Priscilla and Old Colony roads ask that their streets be made one-way rather than turn back the truck traffic onto their neighbors. Fred O'Connor of 58 College road gave reasons for not revoking the one-way rule on that street. When the trucks were coming through it in numbers residents there could hardly get their cars out of the garages. He knows of 30 automobile accidents on the street in recent years. Other College road residents who objected to the revoking of the one-way rule on it are Mrs. F. H. Sullivan, Mrs. Mary Logan and Thomas A. Maloney.

Charged With Attempted Burglary And With Shooting At Policeman

Night Prowler Flees Over Golf Links But Caught After Long Chase—Held in $30,000

John Farina, 39, of 215 Adams street, Newton, was in the Newton court Tuesday morning charged with attempted breaking and entering and with assault on a policeman with a dangerous weapon. He was held for the Grand Jury by Judge Weston in $30,000 bail, in default of which he was taken to jail. Farina has been a resident of Newton for about 20 years and had a good record, never having been arrested before. He has worked as a gardener.

Monday night Special Policeman Frank Feeley was riding in a police automobile in the vicinity of Waverley avenue when he noticed a man prowling near Brackett road. He trailed the man for about an hour and finally saw him approach a window at a house on Dolphin road, one of the new streets near Waverley avenue and Ward street. As the suspect neared the window, Charles Kiley, who occupied the house came along in his automobile and drove into his garage. As Kiley's car approached, the prowler started to rush away. Feeley chased after him and the man jumped over a stone wall bounding the grounds of the Commonwealth Country Club. Feeley tripped as he was going over the wall in pursuit, and the fugitive turned and fired three shots at the policeman. Feeley drew his pistol and discharged several shots at his assailant who disappeared across the golf links.

Returning to a police signal box on Waverley avenue, Feeley sent in a call for assistance. Motorcycle Officers Murphy and Turner responded, as did Serg. Mahoney. Mahoney and Turner went down Kenrick street while Feeley and Murphy followed the tracks of the fugitive from the Kiley yard. Trailing across the golf links they caught sight of a man and then an arduous cross country pursuit began over the golf links, up the steep slope of Nonantum Hill across Kenrick street through slushy snow until the pursued was caught near the gymnasium of the Country Day School near Hood street. The quarry was completely winded and so were his pursuers. The captive was Farina. He had no pistol on him when caught and the police have not found any gun as yet on the territory over which the chase led.

TO CELEBRATE SEVENTY-SIXTH BIRTHDAY

Tomorrow the Lincoln Park Baptist Church of West Newton will celebrate the completion of seventy-six years of work as an organized body. At the morning service the pastor, Rev. John Shade Franklin, will preach on the subject, "Seventy-six Years: In Retrospect." At the evening service, 7:45 o'clock, the topic will be "Seventy-six Years: What the Future Holds."

The actual organization of the church was on Dec. 12, 1853 and its first name was the First Baptist Church of Newtonville. Later, in 1866, after the founding of a Baptist Church at Newton Corner and the vicissitudes of the Civil War period the church body voted to move to West Newton and assume the name, First Baptist Church of West Newton. To avoid confusion with the First Baptist Church in Newton the name was afterwards changed to the Lincoln Park Baptist Church.

There were sixteen charter members. The first pastor, Rev. B. A. Edwards, was called Jan. 28, 1854. The first clerk was David C. Sanger and the first deacon, Isaac S. French.

"An Ideal Husband" At Newtonville Church

Reading by Dr. C. E. Neil Next Friday

Dr. Neil will read "An Ideal Husband" as the third number of the Reading Course at the Methodist Episcopal Church in Newtonville Friday evening, January 3rd. Containing as it does bright splashes of humor, touches of pathos and moments of tense dramatic interest, "An Ideal Husband" gives ample opportunity for the display of Dr. Neil's talent. His splendid characterizations, clear enunciation, easy manner on the platform and pleasing personality mark him as a masterful reader.

Phideah Rice and Adele Hoes Lee gave the first and second numbers on the reading Course and the other artists who follow Dr. Neil are Elizabeth Pooler Rice and Hortense Creede Rallsback. The Course has been quite successful and the Woman's Association, which is sponsoring it, is delighted with the large audiences at the two previous recitals. It is decidedly novel as a series of entertainments and worth while and Newton is to be congratulated on its interest and enthusiasm and the Association on bringing such an elevating Course to our city.

The Reading Course tickets for the three remaining recitals at the Newtonville M. E. Church can be had for $2.00. Single tickets $1.00. Student tickets 50 cents. Advertisement

Mayor Childs Issues Proclamation

To the Citizens of Newton:
On January first at three o'clock in the afternoon in the Newton High School Auditorium, the Inaugural Exercises of the city government will be held.

The affair will be unique in three particulars. First, the day itself marks the beginning of our tercentenary year. Newton was founded in 1630. Second, Sinclair Weeks, the son of a former mayor, Newton's most distinguished man in public life, takes the oath of office. Third, the mayor-elect is the first soldier of the World War to be thus honored. That of itself ought to appeal to every patriot.

Let us start the greatest year in our history right. To this end I cordially invite and urge our people to join with me in paying our respects to those who will conduct the business of government in this city for the coming year, assuring them by our presence that we stand loyally behind them in all that they do or try to do to make Newton the best place in which to live.

EDWIN O. CHILDS, Mayor.

Glee Club Sings Christmas Carols

Highland Glee Club Makes Its Annual Tour

The Highland Glee Club made its annual tour of the Newtons on Christmas morning, leaving Newton Highlands at 4:30.

Thirty men, assisted by four trumpeters, sang Christmas hymns, making stops at the Home for Crippled Children at Oak Hill, Pomeroy Home for Children, Newton, the Baptist Home at Lake street and the Newton Hospital.

Many private residences were also visited including those of Louis K. Liggett, Rev. Dr. Sullivan, Mrs. Bray, John Capron, a former President of the Club, and Mr. Underhill, where coffee and doughnuts were served.

The tour ended after the singing at the Newton Hospital where the nurses furnished refreshments. The custom of singing carols has been long established by the Highland Glee Club and each year more and more Newton people—especially the children and shut-ins—look forward to this early morning vocal program.

Four Fatalities During Past Week

Three Are Victims in Auto Accidents—One Drowning

Shortly after midnight, Friday morning, a car operated by Robert Sullivan, 33, of 19 Clarendon street, Belmont, crashed into the signal tower at the intersection of Washington street and Commonwealth avenue. The tower was demolished, the car badly damaged and Miss Anna Brennan, 25, of 18 Vernon street, Arlington, a passenger in Sullivan's car was fatally injured. Miss Alice Feeley of Jamaica Plain, also a passenger in Sullivan's car, received cuts and bruises. The two girls, accompanied by Sullivan, were taken in the police ambulance to the Newton Hospital where Miss Brennan died at 2:45 Friday morning of internal injuries.

Sullivan, who was arrested charged with driving while under the influence of liquor, with manslaughter and with operating so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public, was in court last Friday morning. He claimed that another car made a sharp left turn into the avenue from Washington street, forcing his car into the traffic signal. He was held in $5600 bail for trial on Jan. 10. When Sullivan's car hit the signal, its bumper flew off and broke the windshield of a car driven by Gerald Davis of Winona street, Auburndale. Dorothy DeWitt of Central street, Auburndale, who was riding with Davis, was cut by the broken glass. Davis' car was waiting on the avenue for the signal to change.

AUTO KILLS MAN AT NEWTONVILLE

Wilbur E. Trussel, 65, of 28 Lothrop street, Newtonville, was hit and fatally injured at 6 o'clock Monday morning by an automobile owned by the Garden City Taxi Company and operated by John N. Smith of 233 Washington street, Newton. Mr. Trussel received a fractured skull and other injuries and died at the Newton Hospital shortly after having been taken there in the police ambulance. Smith was arrested charged with operating so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public, and with operating after his license had expired. Mr. Trussel was in the employ of the Boston Elevated and was crossing Washington street opposite Crafts street to get a bus when hit. He had for many years been employed by the Boston & Albany railroad as a signalman. For the past 15 years he had been employed by the Boston Elevated.

Mr. Trussel was a native of Sterling, Massachusetts, and had resided in this city for 31 years. He is survived by his widow, three sons and five daughters. Unusual Interest Requires Use of Large Auditorium—Incoming City Government to Take Oath of Office

Mayor-elect Sinclair Weeks and the members of the Newton Board of Aldermen will be inducted into office on Wednesday, January 1st, at 3 p. m. in the auditorium at Newton High School. For the first time in the history of the city the inaugural exercises will be held outside of City Hall.

Because of the great interest manifested in the inaugural this year, it was deemed expedient to provide for all wishing to attend, a place larger than the aldermanic chamber at City Hall with its small seating capacity. The exercises are open to the public and no tickets of admission will be required. The High School orchestra will play and members of Newton Post, American Legion, will serve as ushers.

New members of the Board of Aldermen who will take the oath of office for the first time include Arthur J. Mansfield of 579 Centre street, Newton, member-at-large from Ward 1; James R. Chandler of 25 Ridge road, Waban, Ward Alderman from Ward 5;

Sydney B. Holden of 38 Braeland avenue, Newton Centre, Ward Alderman from Ward 6. Mr. Mansfield conducts a printing business in Boston. Mr. Chandler is in the insurance business in Boston. Mr. Holden is engaged in the real estate business at Newton Centre.

New members of the School Committee who will be inducted into office are Walter R. Amesbury of 19 Berkeley place, Auburndale, member from Ward 5, and F. Marsena Butts of 306 Franklin street, Newton, member from Ward 7. Mr. Amesbury is treasurer of Lasell Seminary. Mr. Butts is president of Butts & Ordway of Boston, dealers in iron products.

Following the inaugural exercises Mayor Weeks and Mrs. Weeks, with Alderman Roy V. Collins and Mrs. Collins will hold a reception. At a caucus of the members of the 1930 Board of Aldermen held on Monday night, December 16, Alderman Collins was unanimously nominated as President of the 1930 Board.

KILLED BY TRUCK IN NONANTUM

The fourth fatal automobile accident in this city within 16 days occurred yesterday afternoon at 3:15 on Watertown street, Nonantum. Augustus Marchetti, 23, of 48 Wellesley avenue, Wellesley was the victim. Marchetti was employed by Domenic Bernardi of Wellesley as operator on a power shovel. The big shovel was being towed along Watertown street on a huge tractor drawn by a truck owned by Otto Theurer and driven by Nicolio Battista of 11 Faxon street, Nonantum. Marchetti was riding ahead of the truck in another automobile. As the truck and its tow approached Pearl street, Marchetti alighted from the car he had been riding in and attempted to climb on the step of the moving truck. He slipped on the icy street and the right rear wheel of the truck passed over his head, causing instant death.

BOY DROWNED AT NEWTON HIGHLANDS

Harold Myers, 11, son of Harold C. Myers of 19 Charlemont street, Newton Highlands, was drowned in the Charles River at Charlemont near his home Monday morning at 10:30. Employees of the Forestry Department who were working some distance away ran to the boy's assistance upon hearing his cries but he sank before they could reach him. The police were notified and Patrolmen Kilmain and O'Donnell responded and started to drag for the body. The police have been endeavoring to recover the body since but their efforts have been unsuccessful.

The boy broke through the ice while attempting to walk across to the Needham shore. The ice was but a half inch thick and he had been warned to keep off it.

Stubbs Shot Wins

Last Friday night the Harvard and University Club hockey teams staged a thrilling battle on the Arena ice with the wearers of the Crimson winning 3 to 1 in an overtime session. Harvard tallied twice in the third period to tie the score and Frank Stubbs, Jr., younger brother of Joe Stubbs, the Harvard coach, packed home the winning shot. The younger Stubbs also tallied the first Crimson counter while Barry Wood, a sophomore classmate of Stubbs and a noted athlete in other sports, figured in the scoring of the other points, tallying once himself. Johnny Garrison, former Country Day star of West Newton and Guy Holbrook, former Newton high star, with Stubbs, composed the trio of local youths on the Harvard team.

Bill Blum of Waban, an ex-Williams hockey captain, was in the game for the University Club. The Club team lost no time in scoring two goals in less than nine minutes of play in the first period. Stubbs put Harvard back in the game by skating through the entire Club team and shooting the puck into the cage clean and shortly before the end of the period. In the second period the Club team again took a two-point lead while Coach Stubbs was experimenting in trying to find the best combination in his forward line. Finally with Stubbs and Wood at the wings and Putnam at centre things began to look better for the home team, and so did Putnam to tie the score and send the game into an overtime affair. Harvard started this session with Stubbs in the penalty box but when he returned Harvard had the advantage. Less than two minutes before the end Wood shot from the blue line, missed the cage and bounded back from the boards as Stubbs went after it. Despite the efforts of the Club defense Stubbs got it out far enough to score with a well-placed backhand shot.

Officials Chosen

The coaches and faculty managers of the Suburban league met last week Friday and selected baseball and football officials for 1930. Sec. Foley of Cambridge Latin was selected to point the umpires for the baseball games from an approved list. A motion was adopted to play the Brookline-Somerville game on the first Saturday in October instead of on the usual November date. Another motion was passed requiring all visiting football squads in the league to number all players. A third motion was made by Dr. Martin of Newton to request the headquarters of the Suburban league schools to rule whether or not they approved of spring football regardless of the ruling of the Mass. Headmasters' Association.

City Club Growing

The Newton City Club, which celebrated its first anniversary this week, has enjoyed a rapid growth until it now numbers 205 members with 173 actively taking part. It is the only organization of its kind in the city participating in more than one sport. It started its activities with a baseball team, bringing to the city a number of strong nines. The largest crowd to witness a playground baseball game saw the contest between the City Club and the House of David team last Summer. Sixty-five games were played during the season with a fine record of 51 victories, 10 losses and 4 ties. Last fall a football team was formed which won all but one game in nine. This was the game with the Waltham Nighthawks which was played on Claffen Field, Newtonville, the first time a semi-pro eleven has been privileged to play on the high school gridiron. The eleven totaled 106 points against 25 for its opponents. Harry Wright managed the team and "Dotty" Wright, former Newton high and Dean Academy star, was its coach. The officers of the club for 1930 are Harry W. Wright, pres.; John A. Lavalle, vice-pres.; Frank J. Wright, treas.; William Sullivan, sec.; Edwin O. Childs, chairmen, and Geo. Haynes, Ralph Carter, M. Jones, and Ellwood Carter, directors. The club is organizing a basketball team and expects to open its schedule shortly after the holidays.

Stubbs Wins Berth

The Harvard hockey team has played two games and it is now possible to get an idea of a probable first-string line-up and from present indications it looks as though two local youths will be included. Frank Stubbs, Jr., brother of the Harvard coach is the latest to win a regular berth. John Garrison of West Newton is a veteran of last year but has been shifted from the forward line to a starting position on the defence. He learned the game at the Country Day school. Stubbs was a member of the Newton high and New Prep school teams. He is fast, rangy, and has a hard fast shot which is most difficult to stop. As a brother of the Harvard coach little was said of him during the early season but his play in the University Club game last week, in which he shot the first Harvard goal and also the winning counter in the overtime session, has earned him the right as a starting wing. He is one of the most promising players on the Crimson squad and being a sophomore has two more years to play.

LEAGUE CIRCUIT MAY BE ENLARGED

Rumors have begun to circulate that the Suburban league circuit, which formerly was composed of eight schools in Greater Boston, but for the past year numbering but six members, may enlarge to the former size. Nothing definite has been decided and the change may not come for even a year or two more. Some years ago Malden and Medford were members of the league which now comprises Newton, Brookline, Somerville, Everett, Cambridge Latin, and Rindge Technical schools. Malden was the first to withdraw and then a few years later Medford followed suit.

Politics figured in the near disruption of the league at the time. A meeting of the league was held and it was decided that the schedules of the league, especially in football, were too hard, and an effort was made to drop Brookline, Cambridge Latin and Rindge. Behind the effort the commercial side was supposedly an influence. The three schools were not drawing cards. When the situation became known the Newton representatives at that time were instrumental in holding the organization together by casting their lot with Brookline, Cambridge and Rindge. Thus the four votes were equal to those the other schools could muster.

Malden had purchased several houses in the heart of Malden on which ground the Pearl Street stadium has since been erected and it wished to have a schedule which would help to pay for its athletic plant. Later Medford, wishing to make up its schedule with other teams, also withdrew. Both teams continue to play schedules as hard as, if not harder than, they did when members of the league. Now the time has come when the athletic debts have been paid off and it is said the schools are seeking membership in the circuit again. It is further believed that the present members of the circuit would like to return to the eight-team organization but have made no overtures regarding the proposition. Watertown, Melrose and Arlington high schools would be welcome, it is understood.

At present all of these teams are in the Mystic Valley league, where they have been prominent. Without any question the two leagues offer the best attractions in football and baseball in Greater Boston. In the indefinite future it is highly probable that one league will dominate both sports. The organization of an interscholastic league of anywhere from ten to sixteen teams, with schedules which would make a complete circuit in two seasons instead of one, is easily within the realm of possibility.

SPORT NOTES

Malden Five Wins

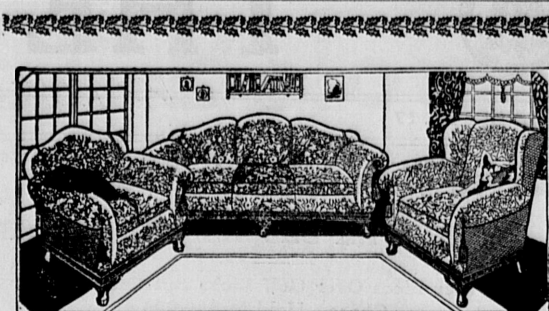

The Newton basketball team lost to the Malden Y five last Saturday night on the latter's court, 21 to 25. At half-time the Newton five had the slight margin of 17 to 15 but the home team came fast to score twenty points while holding Newton to but four. Purcell was the high scorer of the game with ten points. Gray of Newton scored eight, Kohler two and Maher one for the local total of 21.

"Gyp" Lawless to Coach

John (Gyp) Lawless of West Newton, captain and star of the Boston University hockey team a few seasons ago, has joined the coaching ranks. He recently signed with Pomfret School of Pomfret, Conn., and will take up his duties after the Christmas vacation. The Conn. school opens its season with Dean Academy on Jan. 15th. Despite his lack of weight—he tips the scales at 145 pounds—he is one of the most colorful college hockey players of the past decade and in 1927 was picked as "all-collegiate" centre on a mythical team. During his third year at B. U. the local youth scored half the entire number of points made by the entire team. He made the varsity team there as a freshman although he had never played hockey at Newton high. His nickname furnished an interesting story. As a little boy he was the envy of the neighborhood with his pony and the way he rode about in Wild West fashion brought him the sobriquet of "Gyp the Blood." Naturally simplification reduced this to "Gyp," by which name he is still known. Since graduating from B. U. he has played hockey with various club and industrial teams in Boston. Recently he underwent a minor operation but is now ready to don the skates again. At Pomfret he will have an ideal lay-out as there are three rinks there and a host of lads eager to report for the team.

Fisher Scores For Green

Dartmouth opened its hockey season last Saturday night against the strong Yale sextet in Madison Square Garden, New York. It was the first game for the Green while Yale had the advantage of two games in the week previous and this finally turned the tide to the Blue, 3 to 2. Dartmouth, outplayed throughout the game, fought valiantly. Two former Newton high star athletes were on the ice for the Green when the opening face-off was called. They were Hal Andres, football captain-elect for 1930, who was at left wing and Henry Johnson, noted tennis player, at right defense. Dick Fisher, a Waban youth, was the centre on the Dartmouth second forward line and it was he who opened the scoring four minutes before the end of the first period. The goal came after a pass from Rockhill, right wing. Yale played it up with four seconds to play. In the second period the Blue six scored two goals and just before the session ended the Green scored again. The third period was scoreless with Yale playing a tight defensive game. "Bo" Wentworth is another Newton youth on the Green varsity squad. He got into the game at a wing position.

50TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

The 50th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Stimpson of 36 Parsons street, West Newton, was commemorated Christmas night.

Mr. and Mrs. Stimpson are both of old New England ancestry and have always been residents of Massachusetts and greater Boston. Mrs. Stimpson was one of eleven children, six of which were girls well known and all noted for their attractiveness, all children of Mr. and Mrs. E. Jones of Mattapoisett, Mass. Mrs. Stimpson is a cousin of Mrs. H. H. Rogers wife of the Standard Oil magnate of New York and Fairhaven, Mass. Mr. Stimpson was born in Boston. Mrs. Stimpson was born in Mattapoisett, Mass.

Mr. Stimpson was for many years in the service of Mr. Rogers in personal, confidential business and enjoyed the close intimacy and confidence of Mr. Rogers. Mr. Stimpson is a member of the old Charlestown School Boys Association. A Free Mason for over 50 years and was for many years enlisted in Co. K, Boston Tigers, as musician, a Company of the old 1st. Mass. Regt. M. V. M., serving under Colonels Wales, Wellington and Matthews and was of course one of the field Band of this Regt. Mr. Stimpson knew intimately Patrick Gilmore of Gilmore's Band, Cappa of N. Y. 7th. Regt. Band; Reeves of Providence American Band and the noted Levi and Church and Tom Henry the noted cornetists as well as Missus, Baldwin and Napier Lithian of Boston Theatre Orchestra and others.

Mr. Stimpson was prominent for many years as the proprietor of the well known Mattapoisett House and Kingswood Inn at Wobboro, N. H., and other hostilities and among his hotel friends were such men as Sam Parker of the Grand Pacific, Chicago, Potter Palmer, Tilly Haynes, Reed Whipple, George Hall of Adams House, Boston, Tom Allen of the Astor, N. Y. and others.

Mr. Stimpson numbered as among his friends of the past such men as Gen. N. P. Banks, Henry W. Longfellow, Richard H. Stoddard, Bayard Taylor, Gen. Barlow of Gettysburg fame, Robert Ingersoll, Gen. Fitz Hugh Lee, Edward Atkinson, C. O. Whitmore, F. O. Prince and Governors Ames, Bishop, William E. Russell and W. L. Douglass. Mr. Stimpson was the originator of Burglary and Theft Insurance, having conceived the idea while visiting in Canada where a company was started and then Mr. Stimpson, after coming home obtained a special charter of the Massachusetts General Court, because no law existed to allow such insurance and associated himself with William L. Douglas and J. J. Whipple and others and started and completed the first company of its kind and this was the nucleus of the enormous business today.

Mr. Stimpson was also intimately acquainted with many in theatrical lines such as Denman Thompson, Luke Schoolcraft, Harry McGlenan, Jack Mason, Lester Wallack and as a boy was a favorite of Billy Morris of minstrel fame. Nat. Childs of the Tremont theatre and manager of Janauschek and Henry Irving was a cousin of Mr. Stimpson's and while Mr. Childs and his friend J. Cheever Goodwin were stopping at the house of Mr. Stimpson they wrote the well known and noted musical comedy of Evangeline. The character of the Lone Fisherman of this comedy was copied from an old salt who then lived and sailed out of Mattapoisett. Mr. and Mrs. Stimpson have lived at above address for many years and they have one married son who lives with them.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

Have you seen those boxes of candy with a map of contents? Maybe you have and that I am a trifle slow, but let's talk about them anyway. I first saw mine the other day and admired it as a triumph of the confectioner's art as well as for its ingenious idea. It was a dainty and elaborate box and that of itself was not pleasing. But when I lifted the heavy gold paper and, turning it back, saw a diagram of the candy pieces contained therein I was fascinated. Not that I am a candy fiend. In fact I seldom eat it for fear of taking on additional tonnage. Nor do I attempt to make lucky reaches as an alternative.

No, sir, I am strong for candy and can get as much of a thrill out of the spectacle of a beautiful candy display, such as my friend Wilfred Chagnon designs, as can anybody. I just have to be sparing and men and women who guard their bulging waistlines will sympathize with me.

To return to the novel box. Here was a list or rather a diagram and one need only consult it to learn that the row of chocolate pieces directly beneath was made up of this, that and the other. The identity was most clear. You had but to look at the third name and see "nougatine" or whatever it was and then pick up the third piece of candy and go ahead. Of course nougatines are easily detected because of their shape. This map, however, helps one to tell in advance that he is going to bite into a cherry coated with chocolate and cream or a nut similarly treated or something equally delicious.

I consider this to be one of the greatest ideas of the twentieth century. At least it will spare us the unhappy picture of a perfectly lovely and charming girl or woman and youth and sire, too, biting a piece of candy to see what it is made of, or pawing over the contents of a box to find something they especially like. If there is anything that sets these old nerves of mine on edge it is the bad manners some people show in their attitude toward a box of candy. When they say, "Now let me see what it like" and begin unsealing the arrangement of either candy dish or box I feel like snatching the whole thing away from them.

I recall what might have turned out to be a tender romance but which was abruptly terminated by such an occurrence. The young man caller presented his engaging young hostess with a box of excellent candy. She was grateful, enough, but proceeded to bite into first one and then another until she found that which was most to her liking. The young man—how the years roll by—was so peeved that he never called again. I still think he was right.

There are "yes" men all around us. Somehow or other certain employers like to have them on their payroll. Some employers make it their business to "yes" the boss on all occasions. It is a feature of their regular system, or as the more high-brow would say their theory of life. The funny part of it is that this "yesing" is not confined to those who are paid a weekly wage. You will find a good deal of it among all classes. Politicians, or at least a number of them, seem to think it necessary in their business. When I see a man elected to public office who stands up for his views and tells somebody else that he doesn't agree with them I want to shake hands with that fellow. He has courage.

All this I am setting forth to prove that this "yes" business is not as ways a good thing. In a city not far from Newton and yet of much larger population the Mayor was extending the greetings of his municipality to a visiting Frenchman. The latter, representing the military branch of the French government was entitled to every consideration and the Mayor wanted to put his best foot forward.

Now to make sure of doing the thing right this same Mayor committed to memory certain French phrases with which he proceeded to felicitate the man from Paris. The greeting went over, but too well. The visitor thought the Mayor must be a French scholar and instead of replying in English or through an interpreter he answered the Mayor in French. So rapidly did he talk, however, that only somebody very familiar with the French language could follow him.

The Mayor wanted to be a good fellow and interrupted with, "Oul, oul, monsieur".

It was the wrong time for "yesing", as it appeared. The Frenchman stopped, scowled and in English said, "No, no". Also he stamped his foot. He was not to be "yesed". So the Mayor said, "No, no" and the Frenchman continued until the end of his address without any interruption from his host.

Did you read where the Legislature has been asked to compensate a woman whose automobile was damaged by a wild deer? Well, this is the second measure, or maybe the third of its kind that has been put up to the General Court. If it goes through it will be the first to meet favorable action. But that is neither here nor there. This woman was driving her car along the road and observing without doubt, all the automobile and other laws and minding her own business when a ruthless, heartless and no doubt ferocious deer deliberately ran out of the woods and tried to wreck her car. Think of that!

As I write this an office mate suggests that deer be compelled to carry lights. He insists they show no respect for their betters and should be controlled by the most drastic of laws. Another associate tells me that I ought to demand through the medium of this column that the Senator from Newton introduce a bill requiring wild deer to carry compulsory automobile liability insurance. I am going to take this up with our Senator. That meeting will give me an opportunity to remind him, by my presence alone, that I am as usual in my annually expected mood and ready to receive him. Chivalry was forgotten as well as respect for gray hairs.

Still, it was the malice of the wild deer of which were speaking, wasn't it? Here they are, more to be dreaded than gunmen or bandits, because one never suspects a deer of striking a human being. He is supposed to know that he is the target and must always remain as such. How dare he presume that he may tackle a deer-fenceless automobile in broad daylight and get away with it! Wild deer have no rights, or wouldn't have if the statutes of our commonwealth did not say that it was unlawful to shoot them except in certain periods.

As much as I dislike the slaughter of animals, as fearful as I am of firearms either loaded or empty and as ignorant as I am of forests I shall feel obliged to lead an armed posse whose sole object shall be to rid the State, by complete extermination if possible, of wild deer who threaten to damage our automobiles by attacking them, either moving or parked. The claimant in the case I have referred to wants the State to pay $110 damages. That is little enough. Think of the poor automobile's feelings. Something should be added to the total of the award that these may be well and permanently soothed.

Another one of those things that happened in Newton and which goes to show how much people like to get something for nothing. Here it is: a truck loaded with boxes and things containing fruit and other stock for a local market was passing along one of our main thoroughfares. The driver was apparently in haste and this, combined with the fact that the street was slippery, made so by the rains, caused the truck to skid. Off rolled a box containing grape fruit and into the street tumbled many of the global delicacies.

I cannot vouch for what was going on in the driver's mind but it must have been that he had no knowledge of the accident. If he had he did not think it necessary to halt. At any rate the grape fruit were spread around the street, some of them badly smashed and some fully intact. To passerby it offered a fine field for a free-for-all scramble. And that is what occurred.

But this was not in a neighborhood where folks are on the alert for a chance to acquire unexpectedly any little thing that may be dropped accidentally or otherwise in their path. So it was left for the people on the street and sidewalks to make the most of the situation. Few pedestrians witnessed the incident but several people in their automobiles did. Because the latter were nearer the plunder they had the advantage. Consequently automobiles were abruptly stopped while their occupants got out and chased the rolling grapefruit.

Just to prove how eager certain folks are to grasp a free chance to hook on to something, there was a wrangle between a well-dressed middle-aged man, who, had hopped out of one car and a smartly attired young woman who alighted speedily from another. They clashed on the field of battle. Chivalry was forgotten as well as respect for gray hairs. Consequently the man elbowed the young woman and in turn she elbowed him. It was a stirring scene.

Unfortunately I didn't get the tally so I cannot tell who was the winner. I can say a word of praise for a letter-carrier who was passing at the time. He stuck to his letters just as Uncle Sam's stamps do and continued delivering Christmas cards, resisting any impulse to join the rough and tumble performance.

About every family in Newton is interested in the subject of milk. Therefore, I am sure they will approve the effort to get the question of milk supply on a more uniform basis. A general committee has been appointed to suggest a set of minimum requirements for cleanliness of milk and conditions under which it is produced. The State Department of Agriculture tells us that the adoption of such a uniform set of regulations and requirements by Boards of Health in the various markets where the milk is sold would do away with much of the present confusion caused by different standards and different degrees of enforcement of regulation.

It is comforting to learn that the plan does not include an attempt to secure legislation which would take from the local departments of health the right to make additional requirements as to milk. The purpose is merely to set minimum requirements for any milk, wherever it is sold. What would happen would be to make it impossible for a milk producer who offered for sale milk below the standard of these requirements to sell in any market.

Fortunately for Newton we have as chairman of our board of health a physician of ability and discernment as well as long experience. He has guided us with unerring judgement through the years and if you will remember Newton has been free from troubles due to impure food supplies. Our entire board of health organization in Newton has performed its duties with extreme care and efficiency. Moreover, it has had vision and kept pace with the times.

However, as reassuring as Newton's situation may be we do well, in my modest opinion, to indorse any intelligent, earnest and level-headed attempt to improve milk-producing conditions in the rest of our county, especially as it is participated in by dairy farmers, milk inspectors, the Extension Service, State health and agricultural officials and those whose living is dependent upon the proper distribution of good milk.

To resolve not to resolve but to try and do no worse and if anything a trifle better is about all I have to say for 1930, except let it come.

THE ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE

We invite attention to the result of a recent referendum by the National Economic League on the administration of justice and which is printed in another column.

We must confess to a feeling of disappointment that the leading vote of Massachusetts should have been cast for better methods of selecting judges. There can be no question but the present method of appointing judges in Massachusetts is far and away the best in the whole United States and a vote to change the system is, in our opinion, a vote thrown away.

The votes for reclassification of crimes, and to give judges the power to instruct juries can be upheld but we are certain that there are far more important matters in the referendum than that of higher requirements for admission to the bar. We suspect the vote on that matter was cast by lawyers.

From a Massachusetts standpoint we would have liked a more favorable vote on the matter of allowing less than twelve jurors to report verdicts (the vote on this important matter being tenth in the state) and providing for smaller juries in cases of misdemeanor (the vote being fifth in the state).

There is one valid criticism in the way this referendum was managed in that the order in which the various matters were placed on the ballot gave a preference to the choice of the voter. This is shown by the fact that number one referendum received the highest vote, number two the second highest, number three the third, and number four the fourth and all the rest gradually lessening in numbers. We are fairly certain that if other referenda had been included in the first four, that such referenda would have received a far higher vote than it did.

However the referendum has considerable interest for the average reader.

THUMBING RIDES

A few years ago a movement was started in the Newton High school to abolish the practice of pupils thumbing rides to and from school. A practice which, in addition to the fact that it increases the danger of accidents by distracting the attention of the automobile operator from the road, has nothing of merit in it. All too quickly it impresses the young mind that "begging" is a desirable and satisfactory way of obtaining a desire. The movement had the support of all civic and social organizations and gained national recognition. Last summer the State of Maine put into effect a law penalizing those guilty of the practice and also drivers who stopped to grant the signalled request. The law reduced "thumbing" to a considerable degree. Another campaign has been inaugurated in the Newton schools this year, but instead of being confined to the high school has been extended to take in the junior high schools as well. The danger and impropriety of the practice is being impressed upon the students. The public can and should co-operate by refusing to recognize those who continue to "thumb" a ride.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS OF SERVICE

It was our duty last week to record the termination of thirty-five years of service on the part of Dr. Edward W. MacArthur Noyes of the First Church of Newton and the events in connection therewith. Not only the church which he served but the community in which he lived and the entire city at large regret exceedingly that he has decided to retire from active service in his chosen field. Dr. Noyes was the tenth minister in the life of the church which was organized two hundred and sixty-five years ago. He more than upheld the average of his predecessors not only in length of service but in other ways. The esteem and affection which he holds in the lives of his parishioners and friends of other denominations was exemplified in the magnificent gift of thousands of dollars which was presented to him and Mrs. Noyes for their personal use. The best wishes of all accompany him to the South where he is going for the winter to occupy the pulpit of a Daytona church.

MORE ABOUT SIDEWALKS

The light snow, rain and freezing weather of Monday night created extremely hazardous conditions on the sidewalks and streets of Newton and elsewhere. Had it been a heavy snowfall, necessitating the use of street and sidewalk plows operated by an emergency force of extra employees, we would doubtless have been commending the street department on the prompt and efficient methods used in clearing the ways for public use before the rush of business the next day. Instead we are impelled to comment briefly upon the tardiness in sanding the sidewalks. If an emergency force of extra employees had been sent out in the early morning hours on Tuesday the public, especially those who must walk to business or to the trains, would have been served in a more businesslike fashion.

THE NEW YEAR

The end of 1929 is rapidly approaching. The past year has seen many acts accomplished, many deeds performed—some things have not been done that, perhaps, should have been done, while other things have been done that would better have been left undone. Be that as it may the New Year and the future demand our attention and interest.

It is the Tercentenary Year not only of Newton but many other cities and towns as well as the State of Massachusetts. It is noteworthy for other reasons. On next Wednesday, Jan. 1st, Newton will inaugurate a new Mayor for the first time in well over a decade. Incidentally the new mayor, Sinclair Weeks, is the son of Newton's most distinguished citizen, the late Honorable John W. Weeks, once Mayor of Newton, Congressman, United States Senator and able occupant of the Cabinet Post of Secretary of War. The turn of the year marks the termination of many years of service on the part of two outstanding members of the Newton clergy, the Rev. Dr. Edward W. MacArthur Noyes of Newton Centre and the Rev. Dr. Laurens MacLure of Newton. Before the year has passed we will elect the same or other state officials. We will accomplish other acts and perform other deeds which, we trust, will be for the benefit of the majority. In any event our earnest wish is that it will be a Happy New Year for all.

POINTS THE WAY

Congressman Underhill of Somerville points the way to improve the personnel of the United States Senate when he proposes to repeal the amendment to the Constitution providing for the direct election of senators. Under the present method a senator once elected is under responsibility to no one until he seeks re-election. Repeal of this amendment would revive the method of election of senators by the legislatures of the several states and would in our opinion work to give us far better senators and save large expenses now necessary under the direct election method.

If Governor Ritchie's method of handling the liquor question becomes a fact, it would be necessary for the dry states to have a border patrol to prevent the importation of liquor from nearby wet states. The remedy is worse than the disease.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Although it is a legal holiday the General Court of 1930 will convene New Year's Day. All its actions will be legal because at this year's session a special act was passed authorizing the Legislature to hold a regular session Jan. 1, 1930. Since the beginning of biennial elections the ceremonies on the first day of the second half of the term of every General Court have been more or less brief. There is to be an address by the Governor but it is not an inaugural address and more like the talk of a business man speaking to those associated with him in the conduct of a great enterprise. He lays the facts before them and recommends changes and improvements. Before that address is delivered—always about 12 noon—the two branches convene separately and dispatch routine matters. Among the business is the reading of the list of committees. This year there will be few changes. When the Governor is ready the Senate and House meet in joint convention and listen to what the Governor has to say. After that there won't be much left to do in that particular day.

This coming session will see for the first time in the history of Massachusetts official action on the status of a member who has been married. It will be of no great significance, although necessary. One of women members is Representative Martha N. Brookings of Gloucester, who was married last summer to Maj. DuBois Brookings. When the 1929 Legislature was organized Miss Martha N. Brooks. The matter is only a formality, of course, but as Mrs. Brookings is no longer Miss Brooks the House must recognize that fact, probably by the filing of the marriage certificate.

There will be two new Senators the coming session. John D. Mackay of Quincy has been elected at a special election to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Henry L. Kincaide of Quincy and Representative Newland H. Holmes of Weymouth to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Henry F. Ripley of Hingham. In the House there will be one new member in the person of Josiah B. Reed of Weymouth who will succeed Representative Holmes.

There are a number of important measures confronting the incoming General Court. One of them will be the matter of compulsory automobile liability insurance which has been talked of at length. Another will be the question of the abolition of grade crossings and the consideration of legislation proposed by the special commission headed by Senator Arthur W. Hollis of this city. Taxation will be another subject that will receive much attention. The report that the special commission on taxation is to favor a reduction in the amount of personal income tax has perhaps drawn the public attention more closely than usual to taxation matters.

Book censorship is to receive more than ordinary consideration inasmuch as those who believe that the present law is too rigid have asked for a modification of it. There is more than one bill but that which is expected to have the right of way, so to speak, is one supported by a temporary organization of men and women throughout the State. These people favor condemning a book as a whole not because of one or more passages which make it obscene. No doubt there will be plenty of things said on both sides and the public hearings will probably be largely attended. Of course there will be sharp fight on the initiative petition for the repeal of the State liquor enforcement law, commonly referred to as the "Baby Volstead Act." The seekers for repeal have the right to go before the voters next November providing the General Court turns down their petition. Few believe that the General Court will vote for repeal and that would mean a referendum on the subject at the next State election.

They're Morally Wrong

Think It Over

What ardently we wish, we soon believe.

AN INTERESTING REFERENDUM

More power to judges in instructing juries, better methods of selecting judges, higher requirements for admission to the bar and authority for less than twelve members of a jury to return verdicts in both civil and criminal cases are urged for the improvement of the administration of justice in a nation-wide preferential vote taken by the National Economic League.

The vote, cast by States, called for an expression of preferences on eighteen proposals for the improvement of judicial methods and procedure. Men of high standing in their respective communities and known for their interest in public affairs participated in the balloting.

The four aforementioned reforms received the highest number of votes in the order mentioned. Other reforms approved and given in the order of their preferences were: Providing for experts to determine the mental capacity of defendants; small juries for misdemeanor cases; arbitration of business disputes; better methods of determining rules of practice and procedure; improving the technique of lawmaking; giving the defendant the right to waive jury trial; establishment of a judicial council; establishment of an official State bar organization with powers of self-discipline; unification of the judicial system; change in tenure of judges; more power to courts of appeal; reclassification of crimes; a better method of prescribing the organization of the administrative and clerical side of courts and a provision for public defenders.

The vote of Massachusetts was first for better methods in selecting judges, second for reclassification of crimes, third for giving power to judges to instruct juries and fourth for higher requirements for admission to the bar.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

Christmas is still going on at the Children's Museum of Boston, and many children who are spending their vacation days around the Museum seem to be having just as much fun playing the special Christmas museum games based on the Christmas tree legends and on various Yuletide legends as they do when Santa has come and gone as during those exciting days when they were listening for the sound of his reindeer on the roof.

The vacation program will continue to New Year's as follows: Friday, the 27th, at 3:00, "The Pace of Progress," motion picture tracing the history of transportation from Indian days to the modern electric railway. Saturday, the 28th, at 3:00, "Along the Green Bay Trail," motion picture telling the story of the famous old Indian trail from Chicago to Milwaukee. Monday, the 30th, at 3:00, "The Mountains of the Moon," illustrated with lantern slides. The dramatic story of the discoverer of the moon mountains, how his belief cost him a prison sentence, and a description of the mountains themselves. Tuesday, the 31st, at 3:00, "The Benefactor," motion picture of the life of Thomas A. Edison.

January illustrated talks for schools just announced by Miss Mildred E. Manter, Director, offer Grades I to IV a choice of "Windmill Land" (the story of Holland), "Some Sleeping Winter Animals," or "At Home in an Igloo." Grades VI to VIII are offered a choice of "Winter Tree Enemies," "The Romance of Coal," or "Greece, Ancient and Modern." All lessons are illustrated with motion pictures, lantern slides, and specimens. The winter birds of Massachusetts have been arranged in a new habitat group by Miss Eva R. Taylor of the Exhibits Department and make a most attractive corner on the main floor.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Three fatal automobile accidents in this city within two weeks indicate that this modern menace to human life is not decreasing.

Tom Silliker of Oakleigh road, Newton met us the other day and had some pertinent remarks to make about "through streets" and Washington street in particular. Mr. Silliker, who is one of the most experienced and careful operators of automobiles in this city, asserts that "through streets" create dire hazards to both pedestrians and motorists. Selfish inconsiderate persons driving cars, and a large percentage of automobile operators seem to belong to this category, take advantage of through streets to use them as speedways, although the law states that they are bound to slow down to allow automobiles which are emerging from side streets to have the right of way.

Mr. Silliker is correct in his contention that Washington street is being used as a speedway, that drivers of cars coming out of side streets must jam on brakes to avoid collisions, that children, old folks and other people are imperilled because of the way cars are raced along this street. "Through streets" have been in operation successfully for a number of years in the mid-west cities. For the past few years many cities in Massachusetts have adopted the "through street" system. Last year, at the suggestion of the Street Commissioner, the Traffic Committee recommended to the Board of Aldermen that certain streets in this city be made "through streets." It was voted to designate Washington and Centre streets and Commonwealth avenue as through ways. Washington street was the only street on which the rule was placed in effect. As in other cities, many persons have been haled into court and fined for not obeying the STOP signs before entering Washington street.

Through streets have been a success in many cities in preventing accidents. They can be made a success in Newton if the police use the same activity in bringing into court those who speed on Washington street, that a few of the police have used in bringing into court those who failed to stop cars before entering Washington street.

The professor from Clark University who has obtained so much publicity through the big rocket he is going to send off into space from Camp Devens, denies that he has any idea of this rocket reaching the moon. Who would know if it did? He does expect that it will soar many miles through the atmosphere and perhaps beyond, and then part of the rocket containing instruments will float gently down by means of a parachute. Supposing the parachute doesn't work and some of this rocket should hurtle down from the skies at tremendous velocity and bean some person? Would the learned professor settle with the survivors of the victim?

While we are on this optimistic slant may be an opportune time to suggest that airplanes, as well as automobiles ought to carry compulsory liability insurance, and property damage insurance as well. With airplanes becoming more common, more of them will drop onto buildings or other property. It is well to anticipate these joyful probabilities.

There are some "oney critters" in this world. The thieves who steal Christmas trees and decorations from yards and exteriors of houses are in the same class with those who steal floral tributes from graves in cemeteries, and with those who steal pennies off dead men's eyes.

Recently a judge from another city who frequently sits on the bench at the Newton Court spoke to us in glowing terms of the ability and zeal in the performance of their duties of the inspectors in the Newton police department. The members of the Newton police department are subject to call for duty 24 hours each day according to regulations. But, the police inspectors in Newton are actually on duty day and night a large part of the time. If they were compensated in proportion to the overtime they put in, they would receive appreciable increases in their salaries.

There are Jersey bulls, Holstein bulls, Bull Durham and the bull that is being disseminated to dispel the ancient prejudice against cigarettes.

Have you seen the goat in Haffey's window? It is a stuffed Angora goat that not so long ago roamed about a big ranch out in Oregon. Many thousands of these animals are raised in this country and other countries to provide the long smooth hair from which mohair is made. The beautiful, white, silky hair which covered this goat has been carefully combed to give an idea of the quality of the material used in making Chase VELMO Mohair. This mohair, made in the Sanford Mills at Sanford, Maine, mills owned by Newton men, is the finest manufactured in this country.

Recent Deaths

WILLIAM F. KIMBALL

Following a several months' illness William Fred Kimball died on Thursday, December 19th, at his home, 230 Walnut street, Newtonville, in which place he had resided continuously for the greater part of his life, with the exception of a short period when the family home was in Wollaston.

Funeral services were observed Saturday, December 21st, at 3 p. m. in the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, Rev. Arthur Ellis, the pastor, officiating. At the conclusion of his remarks, the Masonic service was rendered by a group of fellow members of Dalhousie Lodge.

The honorary pallbearers were Messrs. Ernest Nixon, Howard Smith, Edward C. Wyatt, Charles E. Sullivan, Frank L. Nagle and William Allen.

The casket was banked on every side by the beautiful floral tributes of family and friends, and from the organizations with which Mr. Kimball was identified.

Among the many who came to pay their last respects were a large group of Mr. Kimball's associates at the Boston Consolidated Gas Company.

Burial services were private. Interment was in the family lot in the Newton Cemetery.

Mr. Kimball was born in New Haven, Conn., July 18, 1857, the son of George Fred Kimball and Lucretia (Morton) Kimball. He came to the city of Newton in his early boyhood, for several years living in Newton, then afterwards in Newtonville. His first commercial connection was with the then well-known carriage business built up by his father and uncles in Boston and known as Kimball Brothers. Later he identified himself with the Fayette Shaw Leather Company of Boston, for several years serving as treasurer of that business. Subsequently he was connected with the Hildete Leather Company of Brockton, remaining with this concern for several years. At the time of his death and for ten years previous, he was with the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, where he had general supervision of maintenance and the tenancy of the company's office building.

On December 23rd, 1880, Mr. Kimball married Miss Silinda Mason Shaw, daughter of the late Fayette and Lavantia (Ford) Shaw of Newtonville. She died April 28, 1924. His second wife was Mrs. Beryl Parker of Boston, whom he married Sept. 25, 1925. She survives him as do a married son, Morton Shaw Kimball of Hubbard Woods, Ill.; and a daughter, Miss Katherine Kimball, living at home. A third child of Mr. Kimball's first marriage died in infancy. There is a surviving half-brother, Clifford Kimball, and a half-sister, Miss Helen Kimball, both residing in Honolulu.

He was a member of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons of Newtonville, and of the Central Club of the Congregational Church of Newtonville, which he attended for the last few years. Before that he was affiliated with the Universalist Church of Newtonville. He also was a member of the Gate Club, whose membership is confined to the gas company employees. One of his social activities in his earlier married life was the Newton Club, where he played a prominent part for years in arranging the club's entertainments. In politics Mr. Kimball was a staunch Republican.

A Way of Saying It

An expert official declares that many men become criminals unwittingly. They help themselves merely because they can't help themselves.

By Edw. H. Powers

Joe McWilliams of West Newton, who has the job of keeping the gas lamps in the street lights working, takes exception to our statement of last week regarding these lights being out of order during cold spells. Joe states that his assistant and himself are constantly on their job and attend promptly to all complaints regarding non-lighted lamps. If a lamp remains unlighted for any length of time it is because it has not been reported. Joe invites anyone to make a tour of the city with him to prove whether or not the gas lights are properly operating.

What's the use of going to so much bother getting registration plates for automobiles? An appreciable percentage of cars have number plates attached so covered with dirt and grease that they are illegible. And most of these cars are not operated by careful drivers.

There has been much publicity about the conferences held by President Hoover following the recent crash in the stock market to prevent this country going into an industrial slump. Captains of industry have assured the President that they will provide plenty of work for their employees. Governors of States and Mayors of cities have pledged the Hoover of the vast amounts which will be spent next year on public improvements to assist in keeping this country prosperous. Governor Allen told the President that in Massachusetts in 1930 public works costing $105,460,000 are contemplated. From the money appropriated by Newton taxpayers for these improvements. But, the money to be expended by Newton will be of little benefit to Newton workmen unless they are employed and receive wages from the money appropriated by Newton taxpayers for these improvements. It is the opinion of the writer that new schoolhouses and other public buildings in Newton should be built by Newton contractors if their bids are anywhere nearly as low as the lowest bidder. This would give work to local men.

WEST NEWTON W. C. T. U.

I wonder if it occurred to any of our citizens why we needed Gov. Ritchie to come to Boston to tell us how to vote on the repeal of the Volstead Act and to talk against Prohibition. Do you citizens know that while this man was talking and trying to influence our people against Prohibition—one of our Newton young men had his life taken by a drunken driver? Do we need to enforce Prohibition for the sake of saving lives of our men and women?

We do need it and we ought to uphold the hands of our President of the U. S. A.

Christian Era Study Club

Mrs. Herbert E. B. Case will be hostess for the last meeting of the old year, of the Christian Era Study Club, at her home, 20 Ware road, at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of Monday, December 30th. Two papers will be given that afternoon; the first on the "Anti-Slavery Society," by Mrs. N. L. Grant; and one on "The Common Schools," by Mrs. W. D. Dike, whose illness will prevent her from reading it in person.

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

Monday, December 30th, is Guest Day with the Monday Club of Newton Highlands. Mrs. Frank Frost opens her home at 52 Erie avenue, for this event, when guests and members will be entertained with "Music of Revolutionary Times," by Bessie Salmon Fosgate. Mrs. C. D. Miller is in charge of the program of the afternoon, which includes a "Tea" following the program. The hour of the meeting is 2:30 o'clock.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

On Thursday, January 2nd, comes the next of the welcome Current Events Lectures by Grace Morrison Poole for members of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, and they have the privilege of buying guest tickets at the door for 50 cents each. The lecture is given at 10:30 a. m. in the Newton Centre Club House.

Members are reminded, too, of the already announced, and most unusual opportunity to learn the art of "Dyeing after the East Indian Method"—a course of five lessons under the skilled instruction of Mary Lowell Kimball, a member of the Arts and Crafts Society. Those who desire to avail themselves of this course should apply to Mrs. Elmer Davis, of the Art Committee, C. N. 3722.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

On New Year's afternoon, the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands will keep "Open House" at the Club Workshop from 3 p. m. until 6 p. m., to the boys and girls of the community, of High school and college age.

The young people are cordially welcome to come and greet their old friends. Dancing and a jolly time in general is anticipated.

The parents of girls and boys are asked to broadcast this invitation in general, that all may know of this date.

Mrs. Harry P. Forte, chairman of the Public Health committee, is planning a skating or skating party or winter carnival, during the Holidays, providing the elements of nature are willing. Those interested should watch carefully the Club Bulletin Board for full particulars and date.

West Newton Community Service Club

On Friday, January 3rd, at 10 a. m. in the Unitarian Parish House, Mrs. Claude U. Gilson gives the fifth of her Current Events Lectures for members of the Community Service Club of West Newton, which will complete one-half of her services. This course has served a double purpose—adding to Club funds for expenses and giving excellent resume of world and national events such as busy women sometimes have not the hours to give to acquire.

RECENT EVENTS

Shakespeare Club

The Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club and guests were entertained on Saturday night, by Mrs. James F. Cooper, at her new residence on Kingston road. Mrs. W. B. Blakemore was in charge of the Review of "Romeo and Juliet," "one of the greatest tragedies of misunderstanding in existence." The plot revealed the ardent devotion of a boy and girl—in love at first sight—and the desperate situations that may be encountered by youthful romance. The characters were sympathetically represented.

A Christmas celebration followed, in a setting of decorations of southern smilax covering walls, and draperies; of flowers and red lights, as well as of the real Christmas tree, filled to overflowing. The interchange of gifts and a feast of good things closed a memorable day.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

There was a very happy time at the Christmas party of the West Newton Women's Educational Club for both members and the fourteen little friends which they entertained on Friday afternoon last.

Miss Phoebe Haskell, director of The Benedito Camp for Girls, gave a talk on camp life and what it can do in general for girls. She also showed a number of very interesting moving pictures in connection with their work.

Mrs. Shepherd Crain led the carol singing in which all heartily participated.

The tree, attractive with lights and decorations, was an attractive background for the entertainers. Marguerite Carley, picturesque in her Dutch dress and wooden shoes, gave a charming dance which was much enjoyed.

The Barcarole, played on violins, was well rendered by Mary Curran, Bertha Moore, Charlotte Shay, and Frances Jennings, young girls from the West Newton Music School.

Dorothy Brackett, in fancy costume, gave a specialty dance that was well performed, then Marguerite Carley, dressed as a boy, in white, gave a splendid sailor dance which was most pleasing.

The jingle of Santa Claus' bells was heard and Santa soon appeared. "My! He was so glad to see everybody and especially the little boys and girls."

Besides the toys and candy, there were many useful and practical articles for each boy and girl, also a present for each to take home to mother. On the prettily decorated table were sandwiches, cake, ice cream and hot chocolate that the children enjoyed. Three of the Club members cared for the transporting of the children to and from the Club.

To see the joyous, happy faces of the little ones brought to mind the line from Acts 20:35. "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

State Federation

It is most appropriate that in starting the New Year, Clubwomen are given announcement of the next Biennial, with its plans for the future: BIENNIAL SESSION NEXT JUNE. Denver is looking forward with anticipations of a number of Bay State Clubwomen as they look forward to attending the twentieth Biennial Convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs out in Colorado from June 5th to 14th, 1930. Many have already signed up for the official tour being planned by Mrs. Ernest R. Brackett, chairman of Transportation, who says it is none too soon for all interested in the trip to make direct application of Walter H. Woods Company, 80 Boylston street, Boston.

Delegations from all the other New England states will join this tour, and it is expected that some of the other eastern States will also be included in the official party.

Two features contribute to make this Biennial of next June one of the most popular from the viewpoint of Massachusetts women. In the first place, the incentive to have their past president, Grace Morrison Poole, candidate for reelection to the office of first vice-president of the national organization. That, alone, will insure a goodly number of delegates from the home State Clubs.

In the second place, the women of Massachusetts look back upon the Biennial Council at Swampscott last May with so much pleasure, that their interest in the General Federation is increased many fold and they are eager, too, to pursue the happy friendships made at that time with out-of-state Clubwomen.

Moreover, Colorado and the west beckons. Two itineraries have been planned, the one the official and business tour of 16 days, providing chiefly for attendance at the Biennial and immediate return home; the other covering a month, and including an extension tour to national parks and other points of natural beauty.

The official tour leaves Boston, Monday, June 2nd, 1930, providing for connection en route at Worcester, Springfield, Pittsfield and Albany. A few hours in Chicago on the way out, and visits to Colorado Springs, Pike's Peak, Garden of the Gods, Cave of the Winds, Seven Falls and St. Louis following the convention, are included in this shorter tour, arriving back in Boston, Wednesday evening, June 18th.

Those taking the extension tour will follow the above route to Denver. Leaving Denver, Sunday, June 15th, they will visit Colorado Springs, Garden of the Gods, Cave of the Winds, South Cheyenne Canyon, Seven Falls, Royal Gorge, Glenwood Springs, Zion National Park, Grand Canyon of Arizona, Bryce Canyon National Park, Salt Lake City, and Yellowstone National Park, arriving in Boston, Wednesday, July 2nd.

The cost of the official, or shorter, tour from Boston, including all expenses except meals while in Denver, providing Pullman accommodations, is from $237.60 to $320.00. The cost of the extension tour, including all expenses except meals while in Denver, providing Pullman accommodations, is from $489.50 to $555.00.

In Denver the entire party will be located at the Cosmopolitan Hotel. All rooms will have private bath and twin beds. Where three persons are traveling together one large room with private bath, with double and single bed, will be provided. If possible, applicants are requested to give the names of persons with whom they will room at the convention.

An attractive booklet giving full information about both tours has been issued. Reservations should be made and information secured by application to the managers of the tours, Walter H. Woods Company, 80 Boylston street, Boston, or to Mrs. Ernest R. Brackett, 4 Grove street, West Medford.

CLUB INSTITUTE. At the Club Institute of January 2nd, at the Hotel Vendome, Boston, the subject for discussion will be Parliamentary Law. Mrs. S. Ernest Griffin, president of the Parliamentary Law Club, will lead the discussion on the value of parliamentary procedure at all business meetings, to the small Club as well as to the large one. This will be followed by a demonstration lecture on Parliamentary Law, conducted by Mrs. Boyd F. Bowles and other Wollaston Clubwomen, assisted by the audience. This feature of the State Federation termed Club Institute occurs on the first Thursday of each month from 10 a. m. until 12 noon. It is attracting at each succeeding session more and more Clubwomen who appreciate the value of the information given that can be used most practically in Club Life. The coming program is sure to be one of the most interesting of topics discussed.

NEWS OF THE GENERAL FEDERATION

EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETING

Clubwomen of Massachusetts prominent in the General Federation of Women's Clubs—Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter, Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith—as well as many other Clubwomen high in office in our State Federation, are planning to attend the annual winter meeting of the Board of Directors of the General Federation which will be held at Headquarters in Washington, January 8th-10th, with the president, Mrs. John F. Sippel presiding. While only members of the Board may attend the business sessions many Clubwomen enjoy being in Washington at this time for social activities both of the Federation and of official Washington. Preceding the regular sessions of the Board there will be meetings on Monday and Tuesday of the Executive Committee, presided over by Mrs. Sippel; of the Board of Trustees, presided over by Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, chairman, of the Department chairmen, presided over by Mrs. Saidie Orr Dunbar, dean; and by the State presidents, presided over by Miss Emily Louise Plumley, president.

The principal social event will be the reception to be held Tuesday evening, on which occasion the Club leaders receive their Senators and Congressmen and their wives, and other representative leaders in social and official life of Washington. This affair is always gala.

WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE ON CHILD HEALTH. The General Federation has had the signal honor of being asked to have a representative upon the Planning Committee on Child Health and Protection, appointed by President Hoover for this great investigation and task. The chairman of Public Welfare, and Dean of Department chairmen, Mrs. Saidie Orr Dunbar, of Portland, Oregon, has been named a member of the Public Health Service and Administrative Section, of which Surgeon-General Hugh S. Cummings is chairman. Mrs. Dunbar attended a meeting of this Division held November 7th at the White House, and at the Department of the Interior, where President Hoover and Secretary Wilbur were the principal speakers.

The Planning Committee has upon it two Cabinet members, Secretary Wilbur, Secretary Davis; the heads of the Public Health Service and the Children's Bureau; the heads of some Air Right of Way.

He Might Kill Some One.
Five Breaths a Minute.
Foolish Dream, Wise Man.

W. B. Mayo, aviation engineer, says a genuine air line ought to be built with a right of way one mile wide, landing fields every 15 miles.

With such an arrangement, says he, flight would be possible and safe by night and by day, and in almost any kind of weather.

However, long before such an air main road could be assembled and financed, pilots would probably need landing places only every 500 miles.

Many remember crossing the ocean on steamers in the last century, with sails stretched, the captains not relying on steam. They don't do that any longer.

Just before the war, Northcliffe offered $50,000 for a flight across the English channel less than fifty miles.

Recently, Coste, French flier, set a new record by flying more than 5,000 miles without stopping or taking on fuel.

Great progress in a few years, from 50 miles to 5,000. Who doubts that ten years hence flying across the Pacific, at any point, will be pilots' "child's play," and flying the Atlantic work for student fliers.

By that time this country will have to think seriously of hostile air visits from Europe or Japan. Even our greatest "statesmen" will get their minds off archaic battleships.

Carnera, Italian giant, weighing 269 pounds, six feet ten inches tall, is forbidden to box again, in England. They like the good natured Italian, but are afraid he might kill some man in the ring, and hurt the "noble sport."

What an advertisement that will be for the Italian prize-fighting giant when he arrives in America.

Here, if you knock a man down on the sidewalk, with no gate receipts, that's a crime.

If you knock a man down and even kill him in the prize ring, with big gate receipts, and a raffle for the right politicians, that's "sport" and perfectly legal.

How many times do you breathe, in one minute? Guess, off hand.

Many that know about the revolutions of an airplane propeller, or a steamship screw, take little interest in their own machinery.

The breathing question is suggested by the case of Miss Margaret McIntyre, Plainfield, N. J., school teacher, who breathes only five times a minute, twice seconds to a breath. Scientists call her a "physiological miracle." You, probably, breathe 15 to 18 times per minute, the average for adults.

However, Miss McIntyre has one advantage. She breathes very deeply. Experiments show that she takes in three pints of air at a breath. The average adult takes in only one pint. We inhale too little oxygen. That is why we need exercise, making us breathe more rapidly, and deeply.

At Linares, Spain, a woman dreamed that a lottery ticket with the numbers 55363 would win the grand $2,000,000 prize in the forthcoming lottery.

In Spain the people are encouraged to buy lottery tickets, as they once were in this country. People don't like to pay taxes, but are willing to contribute to the State by gambling.

After the lady dreamed the crowd broke in and wrecked the store of the man that owned ticket 55363.

A foolish man would have waited to win the grand prize. Not so with the owner of the ticket.

He organized a lottery of his own, sold 4,000 shares in his dream ticket and made a big profit.

Britain tries to be conservative, but occasionally in a moment of excitement, things go wrong even there.

A gentleman named Hatry, trying to teach his fellow citizens how to "get-rich-quick," is in court and his fellow citizens have lost $100,000,000.

Even in our get-rich-quick methods that would be doing well.

An important combination of steel companies makes the new merger, the third largest steel company in America. It comes next to Bethlehem Steel. The colossus is United States Steel, making 40 per cent of all steel made in America.

U. S. Steel has recently reached out to the Pacific Coast, absorbing a great steel concern there.

The late Judge Gary, discussing different steel stocks, said, "Remember always that our company can sell steel at a profit for less than it costs others to make it. That would not be good for other companies, in a price war."

Judge Gary, who understood public opinion, and welcomed competition, in reason, always avoided way of any kind.

He knew there was plenty of money for all, if they knew how to get it. He knew how. His successors know, also.

of the interested national organizations, and a score of private individuals who are outstanding experts.

Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, chairman, announces what is to be the most sweeping study of child welfare that has ever been made in the world. It will be a study of what is being done for the child, and the Committee will report its findings to the Conference, as well as make recommendations as to the future. The whole problem of child health and protection is divided into four sections, first: Medical Service, with three sub-divisions, pre-natal and maternal care, medical care of children, and growth and development; second, Public Health Service, with three sub-divisions, public health organization, communicable disease control, and milk production and control; third: Education and Training, with three sub-divisions, family and parent education, infant and pre-school child, the school child, vocational guidance and child labor, recreation and physical education, and special classes; and fourth, the Handicapped Child, considering prevention, maintenance, and protection, with four sub-divisions, State and local organizations for the handicapped, public and private; study of physically and mentally handicapped, study of delinquency, and of the dependent child.

In all some 500 outstanding authorities, will be made in about a year, with the findings pointing the way to future action, to the end that oncoming generations may make their maximum contribution to the citizenship of the Nation.

The amazing scope of this work leaves one almost breathless with its magnitude, but with the army marshaled and with the leadership of the man who "Feds the World" after the World War, it is not surprising that this idea has come from the White House, nor will it surprise a nation to see it carried forward to a triumphant end. President Hoover's constructive power is manifest and needs no explanation to a world that has felt his genius.

Real Brain Capacity

Not Matter of Weight

Brain capacity does not increase with the ages as far, at least, as his toric periods go. Sir Arthur Keith, conservator of the museum of the Royal College of Surgeons, was examining a skeleton which had been found in digging the foundations of a house at Purley, Surrey, and he said:

"This man was a Roman, a real Roman. His skull is quite different from the Roman-British skulls of 1,800 years ago. It is a splendid head, and just beside it we found the skull of a child that must, in my opinion, have been the image of its father."

He measured it lovingly with a pair of calipers, and made a lightning mental calculation:

"He had more brain capacity than I have. But what I would really like to know is, what did he do with it?"

The skeleton is to be sent to the Croonian museum.—E. R. Campbell, in the Vancouver Province.

King Might Have Had

"To Tell It to Judge"

An amusing story about King Edward is told by Princess Daisy of Pless in her memoirs, says the Kansas City Times. One summer at Cowes, Edward went ashore from the royal yacht to play a little bridge with the duchess of Manchester at her residence, Egypt house. He didn't want any fuss, so was accompanied by only one eunuch. Reaching shore they hired a cab to drive to Egypt house. The driver did not know where it was and took them to the wrong place.

It was quite dark and the eunuch got out and rang. A window upstairs was opened and two outraged old ladies peered out, demanding what all the noise was about. The king shouted up that he had come to play bridge with the duchess of Manchester. The angry ladies declared that they knew nothing about either bridge or duchess; that he was drunk and if he did not go away at once they would telephone for the police!
